

Miss Mary E. Brown, National Superintendent of Moral Education and Race Betterment of W. C. T. U. Comes Recommended as Lecturer of Most Wonderful Ability

Miss Mary E. Brown, National Superintendent of Moral Education and Race Betterment of the W. C. T. U. is going to be heard in Bandon next Saturday and Sunday nights, in the Knights of Pythias hall. What the exact subjects upon which she is going to lecture are, has not yet been decided, but the general topic will be race betterment.

Miss Brown bears a nation wide reputation as one of the most interesting and well informed lecturers on race betterment problems in the United States. Her tours have reached into every nook and corner of the country and her list of recommendations would fill a large volume. Since the close of the Panama Pacific exposition where she was director of the World's and W. C. T. U. exhibit, Miss Brown has been lecturing throughout California and her arrival here is preceded by the following letter of recommendation from Mrs. Sara J. Dorr, President of the W. C. T. U. of California.

"It gives me great pleasure to express my appreciation of the excellent work of Miss Mary E. Brown, National W. C. T. U. Superintendent of Moral Education and Race Betterment. Miss Brown presents truths that should be heard by both old and young in a most inspiring and convincing manner which cannot fail to impress her hearers. Words cannot express the value I place upon the work this noble woman is doing. It has been our privilege to have her at several points in California and I trust that she will return to us for further work next year."

Miss Brown comes to Coos county from Eureka, Cal., and arrived in Marshfield, Sunday morning. During her tour of the county she will be accompanied by Mrs. Blanche Faulds of this city who is County President of the W. C. T. U. and who was instrumental in bringing the lecturer here.

Lumber Market Continues Strong Upward Movement

Those who predicted that the rapid rise in the lumber market two months ago was but a flurry and would be followed by a destructive fall within a few weeks, appears to have overlooked a loop-hole in their calculations. Not only have the prices on all grades of lumber risen since the first day of the year, but the market is glutted with orders that cannot be filled, the demand being strong enough at present to warrant the opening of all mills, large and small, on the Pacific coast, without fear of overproduction.

In Portland alone, last week, orders were placed for over 20,000,000 feet of Douglas fir, valued at between $500,000 and $750,000. The orders came from all parts of the world, one from a European government for 4,500,000 feet which because of the scarcity of ocean tonnage on this coast, will have to be shipped by rail to the Atlantic coast. Another big order is that of the Great Northern railroad for 4,000,000 feet, to be used in the construction of freight cars.

A new use for spruce lumber, of which there is an unlimited amount in Coos county, is indicated in an order for 80,000 feet of this material that has been placed with one of the Columbia river mills. The lumber is to be used by the allies in the construction of aeroplanes and, besides paying $60 to $80 a thousand for the product, the consumer is to pay the freight charges of $2.25 per hundred pounds.

DAWNS BREAKING
To you, my brother slave
You dwellers, of the cave
To you—producers all
I make this call:
Awake, arise and ponder
And see your brothers yonder
Enslaved, because you will it,
To you, I must instill it,
All bondage, will break
If you are wide awake.
You are sleeping giant,
Just try to be defiant
For whole world will shake,
If you are wide awake,
For masters you will toil,
In factory or on soil
Awake and think then may be
Worst for Mollie and the baby.
Or can you never learn
To keep what you earn
Why suffer a reduction
From your production
Know, a palce for your master
To your family, spells disaster
For he couldn't live in style
If you won't feed him all the while
You create all wealth
And you ruin your health
So hungry and be satisfied
So you can feed a parasite
Think oh brother, what a shame
You, that bears a human name,
To be satisfied with this
And let everything be his
Statistic does declare
For each Millionaire
Thousand tramps are made
Thousand homes made sad
You have it in Your power
To end this misery shower
On election day
Don't throw your vote away,
But, make this system vanish
All hunger you can banish
For Humany sake
Awake!

N. C. NIELSON DIES IN SAN FRANCISCO

A telegram reached Port Orford last Friday announcing the death of N. C. Nielson at San Francisco.

Mr. Nielson was born in Denmark 56 years ago. He came to Port Orford in 1886 and engaged in the blacksmith business, which he followed for many years, finally going from this into the general merchandise business. He conducted a store here for several years and in the fall of 1910 sold his stock of goods to A. S. Johnston. After this he made a visit to his former home in the old country, returning to Port Orford for a while in 1911, and then going to California where he has since resided.

Honest loyal to his friends, public spirited and ever willing to lend a helping hand to the needy, the deceased won many warm friends during his years of residence in Curry county.

On May 9, 1887, Mr. Nielson was united in marriage to Mrs. Alice Long who now survives him at this place. His remains are being shipped here for interment on the steamer Phoenix, which sailed from San Francisco yesterday.—Tribune.

BROOKINGS SCENE RENEWED ACTIVITY

Big Improvements Planned

New Company Absorbs Interests of Brookings Company and Will Spend Large Sum in Building Wharf and Landing; Capacity of 100,000, 000 Per Year Planned.

Brookings, the lumber town on the southern end of Curry county coast, is to be the scene of considerable activity during the coming year if the plans now being considered by the C. & C. Lumber company are carried out. The company recently acquired the holdings of the Brookings Timber and Lumber company in Oregon, and 12,000 acres of redwood in Del Norte county. The capitalization has been increased from $1,500,000 to $5,000,000 and they are figuring on making improvements to the mill and logging plants that will enable them to turn out 100,000,000 per year.

Hand in hand with the improvements to the plant will come improvements and enlargements of the town of Brookings. Two hotels, an office, store, warehouse and about 21 cottages are to be built and the logging road is to be extended into the fir and later into the redwood. Active work on all of these improvements, however, will not begin for two or three months. Until that time they will make no additions to their present working force of about 45 men.

Brookings lies on a sort of bay that opens into the Pacific without any bar. Heretofore, the lumber boats have laid quite a distance out from shore and have been loaded by cable. Plans are now being drawn for a wharf to deep water. It is said that the company will be ready to begin operations about the middle of the summer.

W. A. ACKERMAN IS OUT FOR SENATOR

Seeks to Represent Coos-Curry

Experienced in Gill-Net and Seine Fishing... He will Oppose Any Legislation to Hamper Industry in Section. Stands For Fewer Laws And Better Enforcement... Graduate of U. of O. Law School.

Mr. Ackerman has been a resident of Oregon for 14 years. He received his early education in Wisconsin and pursued his later studies in Oregon. After preliminary law office work in procedure, he entered in the University of Oregon Law Department in the year 1911, graduating in 1914, and since then has been a practicing attorney in Marshfield.

The platform on which he will run in the coming election is clear and explicit, and he stands ready to listen to the wishes of the people. He states his position as follows: "If I am nominated and elected I will, during my term of office, work toward clarifying the existing laws in order to do away with the unnecessary part of the repeated and costly interpreting of what we have in our statutes. I will work to prevent the enacting of new 'Laws' on subjects and remedies on which the people are satisfied we have sufficient law. And I will represent Coos and Curry counties forcefully and energetically so that provisions will be made for their needs, general, and not private, benefits will control my actions."

He will have printed after his name on the official ballot the following words, which show the earnestness of purpose governing his intended actions: "Careful and consistent legislation, only."

He further says that he hasn't any political sins or blunders to apologize for; and that he is, moreover, prepared to do the work, and has no "strings" tied on.

He gives the people of Curry county the assurance that every effort will be made, in the event of his nomination and election, to prevent any hampering on the fishing industry of Curry county.

Mr. Ackerman has had actual experience as a gill-net and seine fisherman at the mouth of the Columbia river, having been engaged in that work for a livelihood for three seasons prior to his commencing his law studies above related. He is thoroughly conversant with the importance of this industry to the people of Western Oregon, and more immediately to the people at the various fishing waters along the coast. He has studied it from every angle, and can be depended upon to act along practical and beneficial lines only.

SUPREME COURT HOLDS ROSEBURG BOND ISSUE IS VOID

Declaring contracts entered into by the city of Roseburg, the Roseburg & Eastern Railroad Co. and the Kenjall Lumber corporation void and unconstitutional, the supreme court today enjoined the enforcement thereof and forbade the issuance of $300,000 bonds to be applied to the building of railroad.

On June 3, 1915 the voters of Roseburg decided in favor of a proposition to issue bonds in the sum of $300,000 for the construction of a railroad from Roseburg to a point on the North Umpqua river at its intersection with the western boundary of the Cascade range forest reserve.

John Hunter and others brought suit to enjoin the carrying out of the contract and issuance of the bonds.—Journal.

"OREGON" MAY COME FOR BIG CELEBRATION

W. A. Reid, of the Marshfield entertainment committee, received a joint telegram from Tom T. Bennett and L. J. Simpson, in San Francisco advising of the railroad celebration for the last week in July or the first of August, but keeping the same open so it can be made definite when the construction is so well advanced the company can name the dates.

Messrs. Bennett and Simpson expect to secure an order from the government to have the battleship Oregon sent to Coos Bay during the bridge celebration.
