After laying in port for more than a week the gas coaster Ahwaneda cleared yesterday for Portland empty except for a part cargo of shingles. She would have been able to clear much sooner except for a broken wheel which made her hard to handle in a rough sea.

The Elizabeth dropped three days off her schedule on the up trip due to the fact that she was on the drydock in 'Frisco to be repaired and inspected.

Although loaded and ready to sail two days after entering port, the Phoenix was at dock for five days. Small tides and a rough bar were the cause of her delay.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS

"Under State Treasurer Thomas B. Kay Mr. Buchel is in charge of the state weights and measures department, and his record there is full guaranty that he will faithfully fulfill the promises contained in his platform. Mr. Buchel is the son of Joe Buchel, pioneer photographer and fire chief of Portland, and prior to assuming his present office he established a reputation for efficiency as sealer of weights and measures in Portland."—Morning Enterprise, Oregon City, Feb. 29, 1916.

"He is the father of weights and measures legislation in Oregon, and the comprehensive code drafted by him on the subject reduced the operating expenses of his department to the state at large, and sounded the death knell on fraudulent weighing apparatus. Economy, efficiency and strict law enforcement constitute his record as head of the state weights and measures department."—Evenings News, Roseburg, March 1, 1915.

"Through strict enforcement of the law he has saved the people thousands of dollars and safeguarded the public."—The Times, Brownsville, March 10, 1916.

"He is deserving of election because of his splendid post official record and because his platform represents the cause of the people."—The News, Cornelius, March 9, 1916.

"He promises to conduct the office on business principles, to ferret out all unjust rates, and to give a square deal to the public service corporations and the people alike. Such a platform merits support, Mr. Buchel is deserving of official promotion and the electors of the district might well rally to his candidacy, and nominate and elect him."—Daily Oregon Statesman, Salem, Feb. 29, 1916.

Ernest Watkins, Ernest Wilkins and Fritz Meltzer, the three University of Oregon students who were spending the spring vacation here, were the honor guests at a stag party given by Roy Corson at his home, Wednesday evening. Cards and music furnished the entertainment during the early part of the evening, following which delicious refreshments were served. Those present were Roy Corson, Harold Quigley, Cleve McAllister, R. E. Watkins, Ernest Watkins, Ernest Wilkins, Fritz Meltzer, Ernest Sidwell, Maurice Brown, H. E. Boak and Ralph Dippel.

Ernest Watkins left Sunday morning for Eugene where he will resume his studies after spending the 10 day spring vacation with his parents and friends here. While here Ernest was the inspiration for a number of social affairs given by the younger set.

Miss Pearl Crane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crane of this city, who is attending the University of Oregon, was the guest of Mrs. Fletcher Linn, in Portland, during the spring vacation. Numerous affairs were given for the college students during the week and Miss Pearl was in attendance at many of them.

Ernest Wilkins, who was visiting with friends and relatives in Bandon during the spring vacation of the University of Oregon, left Thursday morning for Portland. Mr. Wilkins' vacation was cut short by the fact that he is one of the members of the class in dramatic interpretation of the University and the class was billed to present "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Heilig theater in Portland, Saturday night. Portland papers state that the play was the greatest success of the many that have been presented by the students of the university in that city.

Mrs. Bridges, of Oakland, Ore., arrived the latter part of the week for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. S. C. Endicott. While here Mrs. Bridges will be the honor guest at several affairs which are being planned.
