The Road Question

"We may judge the nations by their roads."—Humboldt. "The great God above has created, together with other things for the benefit an pleasure of man, plenty of good road material," said Pat. Hanrahan...

"All that is necessary in order to have as good roads as any civilized country is to relegate some of our useless road machinery to oblivion, buy a couple of auto trucks and surface the roads with the gravel. These road trucks are self-spreaders operated by one man, and will spread the material evenly at any depth desired.

"At the gravel deposits it would be necessary to erect bunkers, say of a hundred yards capacity, which could be filled from time to time as needed. Labor would be hired for this purpose only while the actual road work would be done by the two men with the self-spreading trucks. These trucks could be kept in operation practically all the time at a nominal cost.

This is the logical way and the sooner we see it the sooner we will be on the road to Good roads. And I add, that instead of driving auto trucks off the roads and out of the country, we should drive the moss backs out who are responsible for this condition, invite the autos back, buy at least two ourselves with which to build roads to hold them—then we will begin to look like we were on the way to civilization.

THE BARGAIN STORE CHANGES HANDS

Pioneer J. P. Tupper Purchases Interests of H. W. Coats in Thriving Business Today.

A deal involving considerable cash was closed today whereby J. P. Tupper becomes owner of the Bargain Store on Second street, established and up until today owned by H. W. Coats.

The business has prospered from the first day of its founding and the stock has been increased until it is the largest of its kind in the city. A short while ago Mr. Coats purchased the J. A. Kennedy blacksmith shop and it is also understood he intends to operate his timber and tie camps on an extensive scale, which will require his entire attention to those projects.

Mr. Tupper is one of the pioneers of this city, but for the past 11 years has been a resident and business man of Coquille, a few weeks ago he purchased rooming house properties in Bandon and having decided to again move back to the city, has purchased the Bargain Store also. He came to Bandon in 1873 and was for years one of the most widely known men of the coast, being proprietor of the famed Tupper house, situated on the bluff at the foot of Tupper rock.

Oh You German Band!

Rumor after rumor is floating about to the effect that Letner Gallier and Miss Gladly Strader were married at San Francisco the forepart of this week. No particulars are known and the World reporter is not a bit certain that it is really more than a rumor. But if mistaken, he will not be the only one for it is assured the "German Band" is practicing Captain MacGinn's revised version of Tipperary, while the Elks are beginning to "perk" up and plan for the home coming.

THE ORANGE PHARMACY INSTALLS NEW FIXTURES

Now Has New Prescription Room and Additional Shelving—Is Neat Work.

W. S. Wells, proprietor of the Orange Pharmacy, has just completed rearranging and remodeling the fixtures of his store; adding to the convenience and artistic appearance of the establishment.

The prescription counter and stock have been moved into the room back of the Boyle Jewelry store, opening directly into the drug store from the side. Along the back wall of the room shelving similar to that of the rest of the room have been placed flanking a large full-length mirror. Across the opening of the prescription room has been built a new prescription counter, faced with high-class mirrors above and below a plate glass panel running the full length, which allows the person working in the prescription room an unobstructed view of the main store.

The wood work was done by P. C. Stephenson and Mr. Wells states it is perfect in construction. Samuel Wood done the staining and varnishing of the fixtures. The new arrangement adds much to the attractiveness of the store as well as to the conveniences and shelving capacity and gives the Orange pharmacy a prescription room equal in those respects to any drug store in the county.

The Charm struck a snag today, breaking her wheel. The passengers were taken aboard the Telegraph and brought to Bandon.

Such was the result of the elections held this week and last.

CITY OF BANDON BONDS WILL NOW SELL READILY

Recorder E. B. Kausrud Assured by Bond Buyers that They Will Bid on the Issues.

R. L. Buggie of the Scandinavian-American Bank of Marshfield was in Bandon Wednesday conferring with Recorder E. B. Kausrud regarding City of Bandon bond issues and investigating the security of the city.

After the investigation he assured Mr. Kausrud that he was convinced that Bandon bonds were a good buy and that his bank will submit a bid on all issues of bonds, including the $40,000 refunding bonds and also the $40,000 water bonds at 6 per cent. A letter from the Lumbermen Trust & Mortgage bank of Portland conveys similar information and it is thought the city will not only be able to sell its bond issue but that a substantial premium will be obtained on the same.

Old Resident Dies

John Landers, owner of a plat of property in south east Bandon, who had been suffering from Bright's disease for some time, died at a local hospital Sunday. He came here from Grants Pass, Ore., but little is known of his life. He worked in the woods near the city and was accustomed to spend his summers mining. He is said to have lived in this section for about twenty years. Rev. Knight officiated at the funeral.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. L. W. Robinson, on Ocean Drive, Wednesday, October 6th.

Exposition Is Great

Mesdames Guy and S. Ralph Dippel returned on the Elizabeth from San Francisco, where they had been visiting at the J. L. Kronenberg home and taking in the Exposition the past month.

"Just great!" is the comment of both ladies with regard to the big fair. "The Oregon building is one of the finest on the grounds. It, as you know, is made of large Coos county logs, stained a beautiful tan. The building is decorated with typical Oregon flowers and is beautifully arranged inside. On the top floats a row of flags, alternately United States and the Oregon state flag; while the big Oregon flag pole is a landmark from all parts of the exposition grounds. The other buildings and exhibits are also beautiful, and we enjoyed our visit to them very much."

The ladies met a number of Bandon people and former residents of this section while there. The J. L. Kronenberg family is domiciled in their new home in the suburbs of Sausalito, one of the cities bordering on San Francisco bay. They are enthusiastic over their new surroundings and believe they will like Sausalito very much. Jack Kronenberg is attending the University of California and makes the trip from Sausalito to Berkeley every morning. About three or four weeks ago he had his pockets picked while making the daily journey and coupled with the fact that together with Rayner Geisendorfer, he had the pleasure of scrubbing fresh paint off several acres of university steps under Sophomore supervision, which some erring co-workers had placed there during the night; he is evidently enjoying college life. Miss Otille Lewin is also staying at the Kronenberg home attending college.

BASKET BALL SCHEDULE TO BE PLANNED SAT.

Local High School Will Not Have a Football Team This Year—Good Material. Ray Webb, star basket ball player of last season, will head the High school student body this year and will be assisted by Harold Johnson, vice president, Helen Thornton, secretary, and Grace Gibson and John Moore, student members of the executive committee. Errol McNair will fill the office of yell leader and Leslie Pullen will share with Coach Harold Quigley the honors of representing Bandon in the county athletic association. Such was the result of the elections held this week and last.

So far there has been no further activity along athletic lines. At first there was some discussion about organizing a football team, but because of lack of material that had to be abandoned. It would have been possible to secure enough men to make up a team, but a team without a team to buck them is hopeless, especially where the larger part of the students have never played the game and some of them have never seen it played.

In the place of football the men will be given over to early season work on the basket ball squad. Every day is putting new life into the basket shooters and by the time Coach Quigley gives out his first call for practice, about October 15, it is possible that two full teams will report on the floor. Rufus Truman, who was in school for a time last year, is again enrolled and his length bids fair to land him in the center position, should he develop any playing ability whatever. Also, Quigley has another prospect, Smith, a rangy young fellow hailing from Eugene.

The first meeting of the County Athletic association of the season has been called for Saturday, October 2, at Coquille when the basket ball and other schedules will be worked out. One clash, not unexpected, may develop at this meeting. At the last meeting of the association Coquille tried to have Dreamland pavilion as a playing floor ruled out of the league. The attempt was based on the grounds that the Dreamland floor was too slick, forgetful of the fact that their floor was far under regulation size, had no boundary lines and was overhung on two sides by a low balcony. Seeing that Dreamland is the only floor available in Bandon, it is not probable that it will be ruled out.

"NEW" DISEASE IS A FALSE ALARM

DR. MASSON SAYS ALLEGED NEW DISEASE IS COMMON TO ALL PART OF WORLD.

Will Give Instructions for Cure Free of Charge to All Who Will Write for Same—Attacks Young Cattle Only—"Advertising" Detrimental to the Stock Industry.

"A disease common to all parts of the world and one that is easily and very successfully treated," said Dr. J. L. Masson, veterinarian at Myrtle Point, in discussing the alleged new cattle disease of the Langlois section, to a World reporter Tuesday.

Directions for Treatment Free

"I'll give anyone who desires them directions for successfully treating the cattle lung worm, which is the common name for the disease reported from the J. J. Williams ranch, near Langlois. Mr. Williams is a newcomer and when he found his young cattle infected with a disease which was new to him, he immediately rushed to the papers with a report of it. The result has been the cattle industry of Coos and Curry counties has received most harmful advertising for the report was copied from the local papers by the city dailies and is still being published in the various country papers of the west. I know of several cattle buyers that have turned back from a visit to the county, after reading the report, and it is certain there will be dairymen from other sections of the west who will remember the rumor, should they contemplate moving to southwest Oregon.

Symptoms of the Disease

"The disease is caused by a small worm, Strongylus Micrurus, which gains entrance to the throat, and multiplying rapidly, soon fills the lungs of the animal causing death. The symptoms are coughing and mucous secretions. Only young cattle are attacked by the lung worm and in this section of the United States, only animals that have been pasturing on the low bottom lands. I have treated several hundred head of cattle suffering from this disease since coming to Coos county several years ago and of the lot only a very, very small percentage have died—mostly animals that were in the last stages. The drugs necessary for successful treatment are inexpensive. The disease is not a very common one in this section of the country, but where found it is best to keep young cattle off the range for a year or two as the pastures when infected, remain so for some time."

J. M. Berry, California cattle buyer, who was buying cattle in southern Coos and northern Curry, has purchased the Williams cattle and had Dr. Masson treat them for the lung worm. The herd is now past the danger stage and as soon as it has had a chance to recuperate, will be taken to the railroad for shipment.

Evangelistic Meetings

The services held in the Baptist church continue with increasing interest. Evangelist L. H. Steinhoff will preach every night this week including Saturday and probably remain through at least part of next week. Next Sunday services will be held at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. as usual when the topics will be (morning) "Eternal Punishment," or "Is there a Hell and Where is it Located?" In the evening "The Future Home of God's True Children." You will meet a cordial welcome and are most earnestly invited to all these services. The large number of friends attending from other churches is greatly appreciated.—Contributed.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. McNair were recipients of a pleasant surprise last Tuesday evening when a host of their friends walked in on them. Games and songs were the order of the evening until a late hour when tea and cake were served by the guests. The jolly crowd consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Garoutte, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dippel, Mr. and Mrs. Vic. Breuer, Miss Sadie Garoutte, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Corson and Everard H. Boyle.
