NOT BY ONE FALL.
Not by one fall or many be we stayed,
If falls await on yonder fighting field;
Too great the issue that we tamely yield
Or count the cost until the cost is paid.
Right may be balked and for awhile delayed,
Truth in a mist of falsehood be concealed,
But laws divine are not to be repealed,
Nor love divine forever disobeyed.

Not by one fall! But if the triumph go
To doubt and fallacy, delusion freak.
If for awhile defeated, we shall know
The time will come for highest truth to speak,
Because the high sees farther than the low,
And guidance must be from the mountain peak.
—Arthur L. Salmon in Churchman.
