Thimble Club Anniversary

The eighth anniversary of the Thimble club was featured with a fancy dress party, at the home of Mrs. Abi Barrows, Friday evening. Everyone from Betsy Ross to Charlie Chaplin was there (in proxy) to participate in an exceptionally pleasant meeting. Three prizes were given, that for the best executed fancy dance going to Mrs. J. Johnson, for the most comical costume to Mrs. Herbert Brown, as "Sis Hopkins," while Mrs. C. Rasmussen was rewarded as the most proficient in an old fashioned game. Singing, dancing and speaking preceded a dainty midnight luncheon. Those present were: Mesdames B. Figg of Coquille, as a grandmother; Fassbender, as a Spanish cavalier; C. Rasmussen, in fancy dress; Herbert Brown, as Sis Hopkins; W. Panter, a school girl; D. M. Averill, a school boy; C. E. Bowman, Betsy Ross; Perry, a young masher; Lela Adams, country girl; J. L. Conger, a gypsy; N. Nygren, an old fashioned lady; O. Gibson, a squaw; P. Hanrahan, band leader; T. W. Robinson, Chief White Feather; J. Jones, in fancy dress; J. Johnson, the Kaiser; Wm. Linn, Indian chief; C. Korth, old maid; Abia Barrows, Puritan mother; H. C. Dippel, Charlie Chaplin; Mrs. E. Lewin, clown; F. S. Tuttle and Geo. Erdman.

Sweet Pea Day Popular

Bandon's "Sweet Pea Day," held for the first time this summer under the auspices of the Thimble club, is gaining a reputation throughout the entire west. Closely following the event, the Portland Oregonian commented favorably upon it at some length, editorially. Now comes a request to the Western World from the Century club of Nampa, Idaho, that copies of the paper containing any information about "Sweet Pea Day" be sent them. They learned of the event through the columns of the World, kept on file in the Carnegie library in that city. The club intends to stage a similar event in their own city and will distribute the papers among its membership.

"Sweet Pea Day" is to be an annual event in Bandon, according to officers of the Thimble club, who are preparing for next year's contest. All who enter the coming contest are urged to get the seeds into the ground at once, as this is said to be the best time of the year for planting.

The bounteous feast for the big Coos County Businessmen's association was served under the auspices of the Presbyterian ladies. The banquet was a great success and it is certain a large measure of its success and the spirit of good fellowship which permeated the meeting may be attributed to the excellence of the eats.

On Friday, November 19th at 8 p. m. a musical entertainment will be given at the Presbyterian church. Everybody welcome. An admission of 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for children will be charged.

Misses Pearl Craine and Louise Clausen, two members of the Class of '14, Bandon High school, who are attending the University of Oregon this year, were announced as pledged to Pi Beta Phi, a national sorority, the week just passed.

The Ladies' Art club is meeting with Mrs. L. J. Radley, at her home on First street, this afternoon.

The Thimble club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. H. C. Dippel, on Ocean Drive, this afternoon.

Mrs. B. Figg of Coquille, who has been visiting with Mrs. E. Lewin for the past two weeks, returned to the county seat Tuesday. Mrs. Figg is one of the pioneers of the river, having come to the Coquille valley 45 years ago.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church will hold a bazar and lunch sale in the near future. The date will be announced later.

The annual Christmas ball will be given again this year for the benefit of the G. A. R. Further announcements will follow.

Players Film company's production of "One of Our Girls," returns to the screen under the management of that company in a wholly charming feature film adaptation of Harry and Edward A. Paulton's unique comedy, "Niobe," to be shown at the Grand theatre, Sunday, November 21st.

The humor of the play emanates from the situations and characters both, a double source of amusement that is rare in stage or screen comedies. Niobe, the statue of the ancient Theban Queen, is taken home by Peter Amos Dunn, in whose company it is insured for a fabulous sum, and who removes it to his own apartment for safer keeping. A careless lieutenant leaves a wire about the statue's feet, the current is turned on and Niobe comes to life. Here the funny complications begin. Niobe breaks down and weeps on the breast of Dunn, whose first two names she combines into the convenient Greek name, Petramus. In this attitude, she is discovered by the president's wife. Dunn tries to explain matters but succeeds only in appearing to be a greater reprobate by every action. Eventually he manages to make clear the truth, and the statue returns to her former quietude. The scenery is attractive and substantial and adheres to the varying demands of the subject, flashing from Niobe's ancient home in Greece to the modern environment. Remember, at the Grand next Sunday night.
