This is certainly an ideal place to raise strawberries, in fact it is almost impossible to keep them from growing. John Felzer was looking over his plants Tuesday and found that in spite of the three weeks of frosty nights some of the vines were still bearing. He picked a number of the berries, which were large and solid but green. He says some that had been protected by leaves were about half ripe. His are the Oregon "Everbearing" variety.

C. D. Felzer, Walter Haydon, Geo. Haydon and Verlin Parker, formerly employed in harbor survey work here, left this morning for Gardiner to start triangulation work for the letty at the Umpqua. The party will probably be employed two months in the government survey there. They have come from Bandon where for about a week they were doing survey work on the government quarry. The harbor survey on Coos Bay will be continued in the spring. D. M. Charleson went to Gardiner last week to make some preliminary arrangements.—Coos Bay Times.

William Anderson is a resident of North Bend and was married three years ago to Miss Guerin in Bandon. They have one child who has been living with its mother at Langlois.—Coos Bay Times.

SABRO'S CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Sabro Bros. in this issue have something of interest to every holiday shopper. It's a plan of giving valuable prizes. Read the way they are to carry out the idea, it is explained in their big ad on this page.

The mayor of a tough border town was about to engage a preacher for the new church. "Parson, you aren't by any chance a Baptist, are you?" "Why, no, not necessarily. Why?" "Well, I was just a goin' to say we have to haul our water twelve miles."

NO FAIR CUTTING, THE BOOTLEGGERS INSIST

Latest Story Indicates Bootlegger Trust Has Been Formed on Coos Bay.

Marshfield Record: Recently, it was said, liquor was being offered about Coos Bay at greatly reduced prices and this so infuriated "legitimate" bootleggers they at once held a convention to devise means of punishing the price cutters. The meeting was held, so the story goes, in a downtown establishment and the "dealers" who had been building up a good trade and advancing prices from $2.50 to $3.00 and finally $3.50, "on account of the war", concluded they would at once retaliate on the competitors or else take them into the street. "Didn't we agree to ask $3.50 a bottle?" asked one man. "Sure," said another, "and I don't believe in letting any outsiders get in on such a proposition as cutting prices. The best thing we can do is to have them arrested."

There have been no arrests so far as learned, but when they fall out, perhaps the thirsty can get cheaper liquor and better.

WE Desire to extend our grateful thanks to our many friends and patrons for the business given us this year.

Our GIFT PLAN for December:

We also wish to announce our advertising campaign for the month of December, consisting of: Four gifts to be given our customers. These gifts will have a distinctive and lasting value to each of the four fortunate recipients.
