OBITUARY

Eliza J. Boice

A telegram received yesterday by C. W. Boice of this city, from Salem, Oregon, was to the effect his mother, Mrs. Eliza J. Boice had died. The body will arrive here today. Interment will be in a local cemetery.

Pioneer Resident of Community
Eliza J. Boice was born October 1, 1850, in the state of Missouri, and died in Salem, Oregon, November 28, 1916, being about 66 years of age. She was married to Mr. Boice in the Middle Western state, they coming to Oregon in 1877, settling at Langlois, where the family has since made its home. Her husband died February 13, 1915, and the wife never recovered from the shock, her mind being affected to such extent it was deemed best to send her to the state hospital at Salem, where she could be given expert care.

The Boice family are numbered among the pioneer residents of the Langlois and Bandon community. Deceased is survived by several sons and daughters, among them A. H. Boice, of Langlois and C. W. Boice of the local Coast Guard station.

FOUR MILE

By CLEM

John Hurley and family returned Saturday from Idaho, where they had spent the past month visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. DeOs left last Monday for Centralia, Washington, where they will spend the winter.

A. C. Adams has purchased a span of colts from Waldvogel Bros. They are 3 and 4 years old, black in color, and well matched. Art says he intends to farm some next season.

The Davis' dredger has just finished a half mile ditch on the H. P. Clausen ranch. This ditch will reclaim about 20 acres of rich bottom land which has heretofore been worthless to the owner. This has been rather an expensive piece of work as the ditch was dug through some of the heaviest timber in the country, but Hans has the progressive spirit and is building one of the best ranches in the valley.

S. N. Croft marketed the finest bunch of Thanksgiving turkeys that this locality has ever produced. There were about 30 in number, all big, sleek, fat fellows. The City Market was the fortunate purchaser. Mr. Croft delivered the turkeys last Monday.

Deputy Game Warden Thomas passed through Four Mile Saturday, last, enroute to the Marshall place in Curry county. Mr. Thomas and his brother have purchased the absolute hunting privileges on the big estate, which includes some of the best duck hunting in Oregon. They have purchased a quantity of wheat to sow in the lakes and ponds.

Will Not Sue the Joseph Coach Estate

Rumor Appearing in Coos Bay Times Is Without Basis of Fact—Wants no Vengeance.

"There's absolutely no truth to it," said Atty. Claude H. Giles, when asked concerning the alleged report that Mrs. G. T. Treadgold was contemplating suit against the Coach estate for damages as a result of the death of her husband, the late attorney, at the hands of Joe Coach. "The report is evidently the child of an over-productive imagination," he concluded. Mrs. Treadgold affirmed the statement of her attorney.

The following from the Coos Bay Times explains the rumor: "According to a report from Bandon, Mrs. G. T. Treadgold, whose husband was shot and killed in Coquille a few months ago by Joe Coach, who then committed suicide, will begin suit against Coach's estate for damages. According to the report she will sue for $25,000. Mrs. Alice Coach was recently appointed administratrix of the Joe Coach estate and it is claimed that it is estimated at $25,000. However, Coach was quoted as saying a few days before the tragedy that he had hypothecated the last of his inheritance."

SIXES RIVER MAN MARRIED

School Teacher and Curry Rancher Principals in Pretty Romance.

A romance which started two years ago on Sixes river, culminated in Portland a few days ago when W. D. McPhillamey of Sixes river and Miss Frances Veil of the Rose City were united in marriage. The happy couple were in Bandon this week on their way to Sixes river where the groom has a fine ranch home.

Two years ago Miss Veil was selected by the Sixes river school board as instructor for the school. She met Mr. McPhillamey and Cupid took a hand. The romance blossomed, culminating in the recent trip of the groom to Portland, and the marriage.
