HOW DID YOU DIE?

Did you tackle the trouble that came your way
With resolute heart and cheerful?
Or did you hide your face from the light of day
With a craven soul and fearful?
Oh, a trouble's a ton, or a trouble's an ounce,
Or a trouble is what you make it.
And it isn't the fact that you're hurt that counts,
But only how did you take it?
You're beaten to earth? Well, well, what's that!
Come up with a smiling face.
It's nothin' against you to fall down flat,
But to lie there—that's disgrace.
The harder you're thrown, why the higher you bounce;
Be proud of your blackened eye!
It isn't the fact that you're licked that counts;
It's how did you fight—and why?
And though you may be done to death, what then?
If you battled the best you could,
If you played your part in the world of men,
Why, the Critic will call it good.
Death comes with a crawl, or comes with a pounce.

Prominent Lecturers at Chautauqua

WOOD BRIGGS.

LORENE W. WILSON.

W. L. MELLINGER.

W. A. BONE.

WOOD BRIGGS of Kentucky is coming to Chautauqua with his usual bubbling abundance of southern dialect and drollery.

W. L. Mellinger, noted authority on Mexican affairs, past and present, gives a lecture in which his personal experiences with Villa, Carranza and Madera strongly figure.

Mrs. Lorene Wiswell Wilson of Federated Women's Clubs is to deliver her stirring community address, "The Adventure of Being Human."

W. A. Bone, Illinois' beloved poet philosopher and humorist, will be heard in the greatest of all his platform addresses, "The House of Man."

And whether he's slow or spry,
It isn't the fact that you're dead that counts,
But only, how did you die?
—Edmund Vance Cooke.

A man has no more religion than he displays in his daily acts.

Good actions enoble us, and we are the sons of our own deeds.—Cervantes.

Men do less than they ought unless they do all that they can.—Carlyle.

It is thy duty oftentimes to do what thou wouldst not; thy duty to leave undone what thou wouldst do.—Thomas A. Kempis.

NEWSPAPERS DOING THEIR BIT

Many lines of business have been complimented for the loyal work they have done in aiding the government in its great plan of preparedness.

Behind this all stands one industry without which little could have been accomplished. The newspapers have made it possible to spread broadcast over our land in a single day the appeals of the government to its citizens in all walks of life. The newspapers alone made it possible to explain to the nation the plans which permitted the registration of 10,000,000 names in a single day.

On the newspapers fell the burden of advising the public of the details of the Liberty Loan Bonds and educating the citizens to purchase these securities.

On the newspapers fell the work of informing the people of the Red Cross plans in raising $100,000,000 in the United States.

All this work is done freely, cheerfully and without pay. Publishers are probably the only class of men who as a whole are furnishing their services free to the government.—Coquille Sentinel.

The Melancholy Monologist Speaks

My wife's name was Mabel Carr. She was the youngest of nine sisters. The other eight were already married. I caught the last Carr. I wish I'd walked.

After the ceremony life went along just the same as when I was single for nearly half an hour. Then we had the wedding breakfast and I got a bawling out for getting a spot on the tablecloth, and I knew I was married.

We've got two children now, and ever since I read to wife in a paper that every third baby born is Chinese she's scared blue.

The only reason I am able to stand out here tonight and talk for twenty minutes is because my wife is at home.

I used to be on the stage when I was single. You folks don't recognize me now because I am so much shorter. You see, after I married I settled down.

It was some family I married into. My wife's father was a sailor. He followed the water for thirty years—and never overlooked a drop of it. Her mother is Scotch, and so spendthrift. She always buys straw hats, even in the winter, because when she gets thru with them they make a good mouthful for the cow.

Aren't wives the fussy things? I was going to a big spectacular play the other night, but friend wife read the advertisement and refused to let me go because it said: 300 people—200 costumes!

It doesn't take much to shock a woman. The other day when I fell off the stepladder while trying to hang a picture I used a lot of the same words our minister used in a sermon—only I arranged them a little differently.

It took me two months to find a stenographer whose hair was an exact match for Mabel's.

I came home the other night and told my wife I had got to stop eating meat. She wanted to know why the doctor gave me such silly orders. "Doctor nothing!" I said, "that's the butcher's orders."

When friend wife wanted an automobile I told her flatly, once and for all time, that I couldn't afford it and that I would not buy one. While we were out riding in it the other day we got lost and she hopped out to read a sign board. "Fiddlesticks," she exclaimed, "all this sign says is 'To the Poorhouse.'"

"Hop in," I says, "we're on the right road."

And there's no pleasing 'em. We were talking about marrying for money. She thought it was an awful thing to do. "If we were single," she asked, "and I had a million, would you marry me for my money?"

I took her hand tenderly, but I held it firmly, and I said "Nix, Mabel nix. Honestly I wouldn't marry you for all the money in the world."

I should have held both her hands firmly. You can tell your wife you have a headache Sunday morning and can not go to church and she won't believe you. But she'll believe every fool thing a ten-cent fortune teller tells her.

Or you can tell her there are eighty-two billion, eleven million and nine thousand stars and she'll believe you are absolutely accurate.

THE GOOD JUDGE FINDS W-B TOBACCO POPULAR AT THE POST EXCHANGE.

COLONEL, I HEARD YOU SPEAK OF WANTING SOME W-B CUT TOBACCO, SO I'VE BEEN SCOUTING AND HERE IT IS!

SERGEANT, YOUR LOYALTY IS APPRECIATED, I SHALL RECOMMEND YOUR PROMOTION.

YOUR soldier is all business, from reveille to taps—no room for excess baggage with him. He has no use for a big plug of coarse leaf, all loaded up with heavy syrup—what he wants is tobacco satisfaction. The little sappy chew of W-B CUT checks up with his idea of what's good. Out on a lonely outpost, it's mighty sociable and satisfying; and my, how it does last!

Easy Starting

Continuous Chain of Boiling Points

High Boiling Points for power and mileage

Medium Boiling Points for quick and smooth acceleration

Low Boiling Points for easy starting

Low boiling points do it—the first links in a continuous chain of boiling points. Low boiling points for easy starting, medium boiling points for quick and smooth acceleration, and high boiling points for power and mileage.

Red Crown is a straight-distilled gasoline. Hence there's a continuous chain of boiling points, gradually rising from low to high.

Mixtures cannot have a continuous chain of boiling points. That's why mixtures cannot be as good motor fuel as pure straight-run gasoline. And that's also why the gravity test for gasoline is worthless—gravity tells nothing at all about boiling points, the only real test of gasoline quality.

To make certain of getting real gasoline, and not a mixture, fill with

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.
