Panorama View of Bandon's Picturesque Beach

Six miles of ocean strand having many curious upstanding and outjutting formations of rock. Its rugged and picturesque coast line with its grotesque figures gives this beach an individuality that makes of it a distinctive resort. It has abundant ideal outing spots for the summer vacationists.

THE new beach road and new bath houses have just been completed and the Bandon beach is all in readiness for the coming of the summer vacationist. In fact the absence of the vacationist is the only thing which keeps Bandon from being a real live summer resort. Everything else is here. The beach, with its miles of sandy boulevard, its giant breakers and its rocky reefs is on one hand. If we turn our backs on the ocean and walk in the other direction in no time we are in the beautiful woods which surround Bandon. Or we can take a car and run down into Curry county and spend the day fishing, and if we haven't a car we can wander out to the wharf with our fish pole and catch smelt. To have the Pacific in ones very backyard, so to speak, is a privilege which isn't shared by our friends over in Scapoose or Estacada and other inland places. Have they ever heard of Bandon's Sphinx rock, which falls little short of the original, and of the luscious clams nourished on our sand which puts the Sahara in the shade. Do they know the delights of taking a dip in the ocean and stretching out on the warm sand afterward? What a fine coat of tan that produces, by the way! A number of professors from the university at Eugene and their families spent their summer in Bandon last year. They all liked it so well that this year they are coming back to stay longer. There are a lot more people just like them in Oregon. You know some of them. Why don't you write them a letter or two and tell them how they would enjoy a vacation spent in Bandon? Tell them of the ideal camping places which we have and of the wonderful cottage sites on the bluff overlooking the ocean. Don't forget the deep-sea fishing, the clam digging, crab-netting and other sports. And the agates, don't neglect to tell them of the beautiful agates which are found along the beach. Mention the numerous streams around the city where the fishermen can haul in trout after trout until he has a whole string of them. Try going down on that beach offener yourself and see if every time you go it doesn't look better than it did the time before. Brace up, go down to the store and buy a bathing suit and get into the surf for a swim.

FOUR MILE

By CLEM

Ira Anderson has been enjoying a visit with his father and mother of Dew Valley.

W. S. Dunning and family of Oakland, Cal., were callers at Four Mile last week. Mr. Dunning is a son of the gentleman who established the store and Four Mile postoffice in what is known as the "old store building" about fifteen years ago. The old gentleman obtained a homestead adjoining the Cass Smith ranch, but died before making final proof. The proof being made by his heirs, the property later falling into the possession of his son, W. S. Dunning, who still owns it.

Last Saturday during the high gale of wind the dwelling on the Sarah Mitchell place caught fire and was completely destroyed, together with nearly all of its contents; also numerous out buildings nearby were burned. H. B. Tucker, a stepfather of Mrs. Mitchell, also lost nearly all he possessed. Mr. Tucker is an old man and in poor health. He has the sympathy of the entire neighborhood.

Lela DeLong who has been living with an aunt in Beloit, Wis., and attending high school for the past two years, arrived home last Thursday to spend the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Burke Willoughby, the newlyweds, spent Sunday at Four Mile.

Last Sunday was an ideal day for an auto ride, consequently Brant Taylor poured a few extra gallons of gasoline in the tank of his new Dodge, then proceeded to load his family together with Jim Adams and wife, and rolled away to Port Orford to view the wreck. Not having seen Jim since I am not able to ascertain as to whether he has become inoculated with the jitney germ or not; it sure is powerfully contagious.

Rid of a Lingering Cough

You can get relief from racking, hacking coughs, from whoezy, sneezy, creaking, from raw, inflamed throat and tight chest. W. G. Glazier, Bentonville, Ark., writes: "I can recommend Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. I used it for a cough that I had for years, and was said to have consumption but it cured me." Sold everywhere. je

KILLED BY FALLING TREE

Myrtle Point, June 22—Clifford Laird, the seventeen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Laird of Sitkum, was almost instantly killed when a tree which he was cutting down fell on him. The tree did not fall as he expected it would. He is survived by his parents, two older brothers and a younger brother and sister. The funeral was held at Dora, interment being in the Dora cemetery. The deceased was a nephew of Geo. P. Laird of Bandon; and had other relatives living at Coquille.

A Day in June

What is more lovely than roses and a day in June, and to be the guest of Mrs. John Rodgers for a happy afternoon; which pleasure was enjoyed by Mrs. Buck, Mrs. Turnbull Sr., Mrs. Wolverton and Mrs. Zeek on Thursday last. The pros and cons of several subjects were discussed, principally dressmaking, as our hostess was wearing a nifty new house dress. Refreshments were served at 4:30, consisting of strawberries and cream with cookies (none better). The table, set in blue and white, with the red berries made a pleasing combination. Mrs. Wolverton is our next hostess.—Contributed by Mrs. Zeek.

DEATH OF A. H. THRIFT

Pioneer Resident of This Section Died in California.

(From Coquille Sentinel)

A. H. Thrift, one of the very oldest pioneers of Coos and Curry counties, in point of residence, passed away at his home in San Jose, California, on Saturday, June 16th, at the age of 81 years and 9 months. Mr. Thrift came to Coos county with the first party of settlers in the year 1853. Other members of the party were Captain Harris, Perry Maple, Mr. Foley and others. This was the first party of actual settlers to come to this section. Mr. Thrift followed the usual vocation of hunting, trapping and gold mining for many years, was the discoverer of the Lane mine at Randolph, and mined in that locality for several years. He had also worked on both the Sixes river and in Jackson county. He crossed the plains with an ox team party, arriving at Portland in 1852, coming to Coos the following year. He settled in Curry county, near Langlois, buying the place he has owned since August, 1869. This ranch comprises 840 acres of valuable dairy land and is one of the best in that section. He entered into the mercantile business at his place in the early days and combined that with dairying for many years. In 1899 he retired from active life and purchased a home at San Jose, where he had since lived.

He was married in 1865 to Mary Jane Goodman who survives him, together with ten children: Mrs. Haney of Arizona; T. J. Thrift of this city; E. B. Thrift of Langlois; Mrs. Belle Lowe and A. G. Thrift of this city; Miss Harriet Thrift and A. A. Thrift of San Jose; Mrs. Eva Dolstrom of Oakland and F. R. Thrift of San Jose. One child died in infancy.

Mr. Thrift was one of the best known men of northern Curry county and was always at the head of all progressive movements in that section. He was highly respected and honored by all who knew him; had no enemies and had never been a party to a lawsuit in his entire life. Mrs. Thrift is also a pioneer of Oregon having come to the state with the Waldo party in 1843. She is now 78 years of age.

THE COLONEL IS FULL OF PEP

Coos Bay News Editor Pauses to Say a Few Words About a Friend.

R. H. Rosa of Bandon while attending the bankers' convention here last week, stopped in at the News' office for a talk about old times on the lower Coquille in the '70's. In looking over the files of the paper we occasionally see a local item of over forty years ago, where R. H. Rosa, of Randolph, was paying the Bay a business visit. Everything has changed since those days, but notwithstanding that Col. Rosa is much older, and is approaching the period of the serene and yellow leaf, he is remarkably well preserved, and has an abundance of vim and pep that is lacking in many men less than half his age. The writer has known him since 1873, and when we suggested the other day that his present healthy condition, mentally and physically, was in all likelihood the result of early piety and abstemious habits, he recalled to our mind a few episodes of early day life at Randolph, in which both of us were participants, and the drift of conversation promptly changed to the probable effect the war would have on the price of lumber. Colonel Rosa is a live wire, a consistent booster for Bandon and Coos county in general, and the development of the lower Coquille country has been aided to a considerable extent by his untiring efforts in behalf of that section.—Coos Bay News.
