What Are The Six-Year Molars?

WHEN the child is about six years of age the first permanent molars appear. There are four of them—two in the upper jaw and two in the lower. They come in after all the temporary teeth have taken their place, and appear just back of the last temporary molar on each side and in each jaw. They are very often mistaken for temporary teeth, and folks imagine that any teeth coming in at that age must necessarily be temporary teeth. If anything goes wrong with them they let it go, thinking they will soon be replaced by Nature. If any of the six-year molars are allowed to be lost by decay, it is a loss which cannot be replaced. Nothing can ever be done in the future which will permanently replace the lost molar after it has been removed. These four permanent molars do most of the masticating for a period of five years. They prop the jaws apart while other teeth mature and take their several places in the jaw. Their loss is not necessary and may be wholly avoided. No other teeth are so necessary and important as the first permanent or six-year molars.

Experts Say
"ZEROLENE IS BETTER"
—because it holds better compression, gives better protection to the moving parts and deposits less carbon.

The "T" Head type engine, illustrated here, like all internal combustion engines, requires an oil that holds its lubricating qualities at cylinder heat, burns clean in the cylinders and goes out with exhaust. Zerolene fills these requirements perfectly, because it is correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crude.
