

DO WE PRIZE LUXURY MORE THAN LIBERTY?

Asks Bandon Soldier Mother in Appealing to All to Buy Liberty Bonds to the Limit

An elderly mother of this community, who has two sons in the service and who is practically left alone and lonesome since their departure, has written a little sermon on Liberty Bonds that expresses a sentiment in all soldier mothers' hearts at this time she addresses it "to those who witnessed Saturday's parade," and says:

"You did not look on a parade of handsome women, nor yet on a dress parade, but you did look on a band of women who have given more than any other class of individuals can give in this the greatest crisis the world has ever known, except the boys who have given themselves.

"You who have your loved ones around you, may sell all you have and give it to the government not loan it, and it is as nothing compared with the gift our boys have made in giving themselves, or the gift the mothers and wives have made who have given sons and husbands that not only this country but humanity itself shall not perish from the earth?"

"You have been asked to buy bonds until it hurts. If you have the right kind of patriotism in you it cannot hurt but will be considered not only a duty but a pleasure—not only to do your bit but to do your best. If we here at home cannot deny ourselves the luxuries and pleasures of life to help maintain our boys in the service, it is a needless sacrifice to send them over there. Why fight and die for liberty if we here prize luxury more than liberty?"

You who have no sons in the service, give until you have given the price of a son. And then there will be no lack of funds to carry on the war. To give only what you can spare is no sacrifice. The times call for sacrifice, not pleasure.

Remember that parade was a funeral march to some of us mothers."

George Dunn and Miss Dewey of Port Orford motored to Bandon yesterday.

At the first of the month Mr. Carpenter will again take over the management of the Racket Store, which has been conducted by P. J. Chatburn. He has made application for enlistment in the quartermasters department under the new ruling admitting men over 45 years of age, but has received word from Portland that the office there had been closed and it would be necessary for applicants to apply to the Adjutant General at Washington.

WANT BEST OREGON POTATO

To find and develop the best strains of the leading commercial potatoes grown in Oregon, the U. S. Department of Agriculture purposes to cooperate with the O. A. C. experiment station in conducting a state-wide investigation. Dr. A. B. Cordley, director of the station, and Dr. William Stuart, of the U. S. A., probably the greatest potato authority in the country, have planned the campaign, which will work hand in hand with the seed inspection and certification now conducted by the College. G. R. Hyslop, professor of farm crops at the College, will probably have charge of the work in the State. It is expected that a reliable source of the best seed stock for farmers and potato specialists will be obtained.

Freemen buy bonds; slaves wear them.

THE S. A. T. C.

No young man who is a slacker, a draft delinquent or a deserter is eligible under any circumstances to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the Government for induction into the Students' Army Training Corps for special training at a university or college before being called into service.

On the other hand, once a duly qualified registrant has accepted the opportunity for such induction, and has signed the required waiver of all claims for deferred classification, he must go through with the induction, and attend the college until called into service, even though he should subsequently change his mind.

To obtain this induction, a registrant must first apply in the regular way to the proper authorities of the university or college he desires to attend, for admittance thereto. The regular college entrance requirements, modified to a certain extent to meet changed conditions, will govern action by the college authorities on the application.

If this application is approved by the college authorities, it will be forwarded by them to the Provost Marshal General at Washington, who will issue a competent order for the induction of the registrant, and send this order to the registrant's local board.

The Board, upon receipt of the order, will summon the registrant before it and offer him voluntary induction into the Students' Army Training Corps. He must indicate his acceptance or rejection of the offer within 24 hours, a waiver of all claims to deferred classification being one of the conditions of acceptance.

While attending the college he is subject to call into active service at any time the Provost Marshal General shall direct.

Contrary to wide-spread belief, there is no specific age limit for the Students' Army Training Corps. The age of students accepted depends considerably on the college authorities.

Students under 18 years of age, who can qualify for admittance to college, of course cannot be inducted into the college through draft boards, inasmuch as they are not yet old enough to register. But there is nothing to prevent the college authorities from accepting them as regular students; later, when they reach the age for registration, they may apply while in college for induction into the Students' Army Training Corps, the granting of which would enable them to continue their college work until called.

Nor is there anything to prevent older men from making application for induction. The college authorities would undoubtedly take into consideration in such cases, however, the purpose of the application in desiring to attend the college. They could approve or reject the application according to their conclusions.

TRUE IS CHEESE SALESMAN.

Fred C. True has been appointed to succeed Claud Giles, of Myrtle Point, as the selling agent of the Coos and Curry county creamery association. This will take all his time but until the first of the month he will still help some in the First National Bank where he has become a very efficient and highly esteemed bookkeeper. His place there, will be difficult to fill.—Coquille Sentinel.

EGGS MUST BE CANDLED

Eggs must be candled by the first buyer as the new regulations of the Federal Food Administration can be put into effect, and to help the "first buyer"—frequently the grocer who does not understand candling—a new bulletin on candling eggs has just been issued by the O. A. C. Extension Service. The leaflet was prepared by James Dryden, head of the poultry department, and tells exactly how the producer or the buyer can candle and classify his eggs. The candling is good business as well as an honest policy and legal, Prof. Dryden points out. It profits the producer by increasing the demand for his candled eggs, and it profits the buyer by protecting him from a show box and lamp. Send for your leaflet to O. A. C., Corvallis.

Ivory Phonograph Needles.

The phonograph stylus of vegetable ivory has a decided advantage over the old wooden needle, the usefulness of which is finished when it has played one record. The ivory point will stand the wear of six records, then when it has been filed over the bevel end can be used on six more. The vegetable ivory is produced by a Central and South American growth, the phytoloph palm, which produces large clusters of seeds.

"One Thing More."

Brave old Gen. "Jim" Stedman, during the thickest of the battle at Chickamauga, dashed up to a retreating brigade and shouted: "Face about, boys! We must hold this point!" "But, general," said a brave officer, "we have done everything that brave and patriotic men can do for their country—" "What! Everything?" said Stedman, "you haven't died yet."—Argonaut.

ARMY CORPS TO ADMIT BOYS ON SHORT CREDIT

University of Oregon Takes Action At Request of War Department —13 Credits Needed.

Eugene, Sept. 16—At the request of the war department the faculty of the University of Oregon, at a special meeting this afternoon, voted to admit students who otherwise can qualify for the S. A. T. C. on condition, when they have a total of 13 high school credits, instead of the 15 usually required. The credits lacked must be made up before graduation from the university and the condition applies to only students admitted to the S. A. T. C. Students admitted to the other departments of the university than the S. A. T. C. must present the usual 15 entrance credits.

The university is organizing only section A of the S. A. T. C., which prepares men for commissions in combatant branches of the army and for advanced technical work. For this work the government desires men who have had thorough high school preparation. It evidently has occurred to the government that good men are being lost to the service through lacking the necessary entrance requirements of 15 credits, and it requests that the university admit students with only 13 credits, thereby admitting a considerable number of young men who are just short of graduation from their high school and who are available otherwise for entrance in S. A. T. C. work.

At base hospitals in France the Young Women's Christian Association maintains huts for the nurses. A secretary in charge arranges for recreation. She is always on hand to help the nurses, or serve them hot chocolate in the middle of the night, or whenever they come off duty.

LIMITED SERVICE MEN GET CHANCE

Special Training For Army Will Be Given After Induction Into Students Corps.

Eugene, Sept. 16—Telegrams received at the university today from the committee of education in the war department indicate that limited service men may be inducted into the S. A. T. C. This means that young men who failed to pass the examination for active service, who are passed for limited service, will be permitted to enter the S. A. T. C., receive technical training for which they are fitted and receive pay, subsistence and quarters while receiving this training.

Young men who are physically unfitted for service in the fighting branches of the army will be paid by the government while they are receiving technical training in branches in which they can render just as great service as men whose physical condition is fit.

Branches in which they will receive training including the following:

Chemistry, in which the government is unable to secure an adequate supply of trained men; medicine, accounting and secretarial work, psychology, laboratory technicians, bacteriology and photography.

Word is also received that men under 21 who are able to qualify will be accepted for commissions. Heretofore, no man, no matter how well prepared under the age of 21 could ever hope to secure a commission. Under the new orders S. A. T. C. men at the university who show special ability may be commissioned.
