

SUGARLESS CANDY RECIPES

The following are sugarless candy recipes sent by the State Honor Guard leader, Miss Dobell, to the Bandon guard:

FRUIT NUT CARAMELS
1 cup figs, 1 cup dates 2 cups walnuts. Wash and stone dates, wash figs and remove stems, and put with the nuts through meat grinder. Mix together thoroughly and press firmly three fourths of an inch thick into a small buttered pan. Cut in squares and wrap in wax paper, or shape in small balls and roll in powdered sugar.

CHOCOLATE NUT FRUIT BAR
6 ounces sweet or coating chocolate, one fourth pound (one half cup) raisins finely cut, one fourth lb chopped peanuts, one fourth teaspoon salt. Melt chocolate over hot water, beat until smooth and nearly cool, and nuts, raisins and salt, and spread in the tin cover of a cracker box. This should make the mixture about one fourth inch deep. Leave until firm and cut the candy in 18 bars.

COCOANUT BISCUITS
Cocoanut chopped 1 and three fourths cups, Corn syrup light one fourth, Flour one fourth, 1 egg white. Beat egg white until stiff; gradually fold in corn syrup, flour, and finely chopped cocoanut. Drop on baking sheet, forming biscuits about 1 and three fourths inches in diameter. Bake in hot oven for 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 11 biscuits.

COCOANUT CANDY
Corn syrup light 1 one half cup, one half teaspoon vinegar, Oleomargarin 1 tablespoon, Cocoanut 2 cups. Boil together the syrup and vinegar until it is brittle in cold water. Add oleomargarin and heated cocoanut stir quickly together. Pour on an inverted sheet, making a layer of candy about one eighth of an inch thick. Before cold mark into squares. Makes 58 squares.

FRUIT CANDY
Prunes (uncooked) one half cup, figs one fourth cup, Raisins one half cup, Nut meats one fourth cup, salt one fourth teaspoon, cloves one fourth teaspoon (ground), Dates one half cup. Remove seeds from raisins dates and prunes. Put fruit and nuts through food chopper. Add salt and cloves and mix well together. Roll to one fourth inch thickness. Cut into shape with fancy cutters. Sprinkle with confectioner's sugar.

BUTTER SCOTCH
Corn syrup (dark) 2 cups, vinegar 1 teaspoon, Oleomargarin 6 teaspoons, Cook syrup, vinegar and two thirds of oleomargarin together until brittle when dropped into cold water. Add remainder of fat; stir until melted. Pour in thin sheets on inverted pan. Mark in 1 inch squares while warm. Makes 72 squares.

STUFFING FOR DATES
English walnuts, Pecan nut meats, Salted peanuts are chopped, peanut butter, creamed with a few drops of lemon juice, is made into little rolls. Candied pineapple is cut in small pieces. Two or three roasted almonds are placed in each date.

PEANUT BRITTLE
Three cups Karo syrup, 1 cup chopped peanuts. Boil the syrup until it is very crisp when dropped into cold water or almost to the scorching point. Stir the nuts while it is boiling and working as rapidly as possible turn into an oiled pan. Smoothing with the spoon.

Puffed Rice Brittle is made as Peanut Brittle except that a heaping cup of puffed rice is used instead of peanuts. Cocoanut Brittle may be made by cooking three cups of syrup until almost scorching and then adding one cup shredded cocoanut.

PEPPERMINT CHEWS
Cook four cups of taffy syrup or Karo corn syrup five minutes, then add a level tablespoon of crisco and a pinch of salt. Let boil until breaks crisply when dropped into cold water. Add peppermint extract and when cool enough to hold begin to pull.

CONTINUED FOOD SAVING URGED BY MISS TINGLE

Conservation Must Not Cease, Says Head of Home Economics at University.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Nov. 18.—Much difference will be made in home economics because of the close of the war, says Miss Lillian Tingle, head of the department of home economics at the University of Oregon. "indications before the armistice was signed pointed out that there would be an increased need of conservation with the cessation of hostilities, although no orders concerning food conservation after the war have been received," said Miss Tingle.

"All foods must be carefully conserved now," Miss Tingle stated, "although there has been some relaxation concerning flour substitutes because more ships are available to bring in long distance wheat."

She believes, however, that the demand from across the seas will be greatly increased, and that the people of the United States will have to continue with food conservation to make possible the provision of food for the repatriated people and for the prisoners of war.

"The average family of the United States will have plenty to eat," said Miss Tingle, "but it will have to economize in order that there may be a fair distribution of food for all countries. The entire outlook is much brighter now, but we must not relax. Food conservation has brought an increase in the health of the American people and this should be a lesson to us and to the generations to come. It has been a marvelous education to us and one which was badly needed, because the people of the United States have been the most dyspeptic, and the most extravagant in the world."

REPUTATION ESSENTIAL IN CHEESE INDUSTRY

Cheese Maker Can Gain Reputation by Winning Prize at Contest in Dairy Convention

O. A. C., Nov. 20.—Cheese makers can win a reputation, so essential to the success of their industry, by winning a first or second prize in the scoring contest to be held in connection with the annual meeting of the Oregon Butter and Cheese Makers' association at Portland, December 11 and 12.

"The only way for the cheese maker to get a reputation is through his products," declares P. S. Lucas, instructor in dairying at the College. "The advertising is up to the cheese maker, as the general market has no time for that."

"Oregon cheese men are called upon to help make the meet in Portland a hammer. I will prepare rules for the state fair, and suggest needed legislation. Its power for good depends upon the influence put back of it by the members."

"The Portland boys, creamery men and wholesalers, are tearing up things in getting ready. Portland business firms are offering valuable special prizes to bring out the very best products. Big dairymen will deliver timely addresses, and the whole convention will be a continuous round of pleasure and profit."

No Farmers Week This Year.

O. A. C., Corvallis, Nov. 20.—Farmers' and Home-Makers' Week has been declared off this year, but the various conventions scheduled are cordially invited by the Oregon Agricultural College to make the College their meeting place. Because of contracts with the war department to train men for officers and technicians in the army the College is unable to offer facilities for carrying on the regular work of farmers' week. Conventions planning to meet at the College are requested to notify the extension service.

Bandon to Boom Soon

I. Randleman, who is connected with Conway & Co. at Marshfield, was in Bandon on business Monday. His face is pretty badly scarred as the result of having been run over by an auto truck at Marshfield on the day the armistice terms were celebrated. He says that the injuries didn't affect his disposition a bit; neither his optimism. He then confidentially informed the editor that Bandon is on the verge of the biggest boom in the history of the city.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

MOON THEORY JOLTED

Monmouth Professor Grows Potatoes Without Its Aid.

Monmouth, Ore., Nov. 12.—The theory that potatoes must be planted in a certain phase of the moon received a bad jolt when Professor L. P. Gilmore of the Normal faculty dug his spuds recently. Gilmore, at planting time, set out deliberately to squash the moon theory and investigated to find when moon conditions were exactly wrong before he planted his crop in a field where bricks and refuse from building operations constituted the ground basis of the soil.

Although he scorned the moon theory, the professor did use fertilizer of the patent variety, however, to a slight extent. Results when the spuds were dug they yielded at the rate of 365 bushels to the acre.

Railroad May Yet Be Built

Not long ago in talking with one of the leading financiers over at the Bay we asked if he ever expected to see a through railroad line built directly east from the Bay to connect with the railroad system of the country without going via Portland, says the Coquille Sentinel. We were surprised to learn that he was not only inclined to think such an undertaking possible but even probable.

One of the reasons not advanced for the faith that was in him was that since our recent experiences in raising two and a half millions of dollars in Coos county in a year and a half for war activities the financing of a great project like that at home did not seem so entirely out of the question as it used to. Indeed with the right kind of a man at the helm in promoting such an enterprise he was sure it could be put over. He said the grades over the two mountain ranges between the coast and eastern Oregon were moderate, especially between here and the Umpqua valley, the Rock creek canyon above Bridge actually following a water grade into Canas valley.

The portion of the road from the main line to the Southern Pacific down the Middle Fork to Myrtle Point, Coquille and probably Bandon, we have always felt certain would be built but we had never before thought of it as part of a transcontinental system reaching on through the Cascades over into the Snake river valley and on to Salt Lake. Still even that may be entirely feasible; and we are, of course, glad to know that in thinking of a through line directly east from Coos Bay no other route looks so good as the one by way of Coquille.

HANDS NEARLY BURNED OFF IN GASOLINE FIRE

George Esgate, employed in the Davis slough camp, threw some gasoline on what he supposed was dead coals to start a fire in a donkey engine. The heat from the grate and the smoldering ashes exploded the gasoline, throwing the flames up through the door of the firebox, burning his hands to a crisp until the flesh dropped off and scorching his breast and arms. Fortunately his face being above the door, escaped. He called for help and started to run, falling into a place filled with mud and some water. This extinguished the flames and saved his life. He was brought to the Mercy Hospital where Dr. Dix and Dr. Edwards dressed his wounds. His mother, Hattie Richards of Vallejo, Calif., arrived last week to assist in caring for him. Mrs. Richards is a sister of Dick Richards now in the jitney business there and who formerly resided here.—North Bend Harbor.

County Judge W. A. Wood of Curry county has been re-elected as an independent candidate, after having lost the nomination at the primary election to C. H. Bailey.

FOUR MILE

Remember the turkey shoot at the Shaw ranch Saturday the 23rd. Ernest DeOa, and F. H. Miller who have been fishing on the Coquille are at home again.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Thompson of North Bend were callers in the valley Saturday and Sunday.

John Hurley is assisting a stockman, Syl Jones, in gathering up cattle up and down the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Willoughby of Halls Creek are visiting relatives at Four Mile at this writing.

The United War Work Campaign at Four Mile netted a total of $91.00 lacking $34.00 of our quota of $125.00. Of the amount raised $45.00 was raised on Upper Four Mile and $46.00 for the lower part.
