

THEY WANT IT "DUG UP."

The Board of Regents Bring Action Against Kincaid. The regents of the Eastern Oregon State Normal School located at Weston, propose to find out who is running that institution, they or the Hon. H. R. Kincaid, Secretary of State.

The manner in which the regents proceed to find out who shall say aye and nay in the management of the funds appropriated for the school's use by the late legislature, is, to say the least, impressive to the full extent of the term.

It seems there is a wood-pile somewhere in which is contained a son of torrid Africa. At least the board of regents think so, and back up this belief by bringing mandamus proceedings against the secretary of state. The papers were filed in the circuit court at Salem, Wednesday, July 10th, Judge Geo. H. Bennett, presiding. The suit is to recover the full amount of the appropriation made at the last session of the legislature.

The attorneys for the regents are Judge J. J. Ballery and Hon. J. H. Raley, both men of brain and legal knowledge. Answer to the complaint must be made within twenty days from the date of filing, and the case will probably be heard at the next term of Judge Bennett's court at Salem.

It seems that the machinery at the capitol is "out of line," to use a mechanical term, or in other words, the matter which pertains to this particular appropriation, is somewhat conglomerated—mixed up. According to the Weston Leader, Secretary Worthington, of the normal school board of regents, wrote to the state secretary in regard to proposed improvements, the building of a dormitory, etc., and Mr. Kincaid replied that he had referred the matter to the attorney general. As the board was in a hurry to have the work completed, Mr. Worthington at once wrote to the attorney general, asking that he render a decision as soon as possible, as to the right of the regents to contract for the improvements. The official had replied that he is very much surprised, no such question having been brought to his attention, officially or otherwise, by the secretary of state. This leaves the regents slightly puzzled, and they have not as yet been enlightened. There seems to be considerable red tape in the conducting of the state affairs down at Salem, and probably it has led to mixing things up a trifle.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Evidence in a Larceny Case Takes an Unexpected Turn.

Something of a sensation was developed recently at Milton. Henry Mahaffey was examined in Justice Stowe's court on a charge of larceny from a person, and on account of insufficient evidence, was, on motion of District Attorney Lawrey, discharged. But during the examination, says the Pendleton Tribune evidence came out which went to show that C. C. Cunningham, who has a cigar and confectionery stand in Milton, was also running in connection a private saloon and gambling joint. Cunningham was at once arrested. He waived preliminary examination and was placed under $500 bonds to appear before the grand jury. It is said that the character of the place has long been known, but that positive evidence has not heretofore been obtainable. It is also hinted that during the examination above mentioned several other witnesses whose evidence might tend in the same direction were induced to make themselves invisible to the naked eye. Milton is somewhat stirred up over the matter and satisfaction is expressed that the business is to be investigated.

The Crack Athena Band.

Speaking of the band's Sunday visit to Pendleton, the East Oregonian says: "Sunday evening the band gave a short concert in the court yard, before starting on their drive home. The Athena band is well drilled and has some artists among its members. They have lately purchased new uniforms and are now accounted for service at any time. It is, without doubt, the crack band of Eastern Oregon. C. C. Sharp, the leader, is a thorough musician and always has a lot of good musicians around him."

Kicked in the Face.

The eight-year-old son of James Nelson, of Wild Horse, was kicked in the face by a colt Sunday evening. Dr. G. W. King, of Pendleton, was called and found the little sufferer's nostrils cut through and the bones of the nose shattered. He removed the pieces of bone and took two stitches in the injured member. The boy narrowly escaped death.

Installation of Officers.

Eureka lodge, I. O. O. F., Pendleton, installed the following named officers, District deputy Grand Master, I. T. Barr being the installing officer: Elected officers—J. R. Porter, N. G.; Wm. Dial, V. G.; John Halley, Jr., secretary; R. Alexander, treasurer. Appointive officers—D. Hemier, W.; C. H. Meyers, C.; J. U. Willeke, R. S. N. G.; S. O. Medernach, L. S. N. G.; Louis Larone, I. G.

A Big Yield.

Robert Steel, a Polk county farmer grew the phenomenal crop of 4,000 bushels of barley on thirty acres of ground, more than 133 bushels to the acre. The field was formerly a huge pond, which was drained by Mr. Steel with a ditch to the Luckiamute, in a big bend of which river it lies. It has produced six crops of barley and the lowest average of any season was 60 bushel to the acre. In harvesting the big crop of last year two weeks were required in cutting it with a binder drawn by five horses, and after the grain was cut the shocks so nearly covered the entire ground that the wagons in hauling it could not pass between them. The market value of last year's yield from 30 acres was about $1,600.

A Strange Story.

The Lewiston Teller says: The body of Pete Caddy, drowned May 3 while crossing the LoLo with two other companions, was found a few days ago lodged against a large limb in that stream about one half mile below where the accident occurred by Charles Dickinson and son Bert. The strangest part in connection with the finding of the body is that Mrs. Dickinson dreamed the night previous to the finding of the body, that it was lodged where found and told her husband to go and get it.

UNCLE SAM, JUNK DEALER.

He Has a Price List of the Old Trumpery He Disposes Of.

Uncle Sam is a sort of second-hand dealer and runs a good-sized junk shop on his own hook. Not only that, says the New York Advertiser, but he sends out circulars to those of inquiring turn of mind, with descriptions and price lists of his wares, just as a second-hand book dealer or postage stamp or coin collector would do.

If a grand army post should conclude to feasten the rafters of its armory with old muskets and antique scabbards it will find Uncle Sam right on hand, for, though he has disposed of all his heavy arms, he has innumerable old pistols, muskets, bayonets and sabers which he is not averse to disposing of at a fair price, and he will promptly forward a printed price list showing the comparative newness or antiquity of his second-hand wares and warranting the articles to be exactly as represented and to all the bill precisely for decorative purposes. And they are offered very cheap, too. One can buy an old sword, blood-stained and full of memories of furious charges and well-sustained assaults, for twenty-five cents, a horse pistol for a dime or a Spencer breech-loader for seven dollars, other articles varying to suit.

Bullets Carried for Years.

Two extraordinary cases of bullet wounds becoming active after a lapse of twenty-four years are reported by a German medical paper. One is that of a watchmaker named Kleemann, living at Dusseldorf, who was wounded in the Franco-German war. Three years ago he had a bullet successfully extracted from his right shoulder, and a short time ago, after a month's illness, a second bullet was extracted from his left side. The second case is that of a stationmaster who a few days ago was operated upon at Bonn and had a French bullet, which pierced his right shoulder in the war, cut from his right side.
