EXAMINATION OF REYNOLDS.

Seven Witnesses Examined and Considerable Testimony Taken.

The examination of George N. Reynolds, accused of the robbery of the Weston postoffice, was begun before United States Commissioner Bean, sitting in the state circuit court room, yesterday morning. During the day seven witnesses were examined, and the case was then continued until today. The government was represented by District Attorney Lawrey and M. A. Butler, and the defendant by Messrs. Stillman and Pierce, of Pendleton, and Mr. Powers, of Weston.

The first witness called was L. R. Van Winkle, postmaster of Weston. He testified principally in relation to the construction of the safe which was plundered and the interior fixings of the office. He was away when the robbery occurred, and when he returned he spoke to Reynolds about it. The latter expressed regrets that the robbery should have taken place while he was in charge of the office. Mr. Van Winkle stated that prior to the deed he loaned Reynolds $50 and indorsed his note for $40. Reynolds received $20 per month as water commissioner and $30 as marshal.

Thomas Purcell, the next witness, stated that he was in the postoffice shortly before the robbery and saw about $10 in change in the drawer of the safe. He would not say how much more money might have been in the drawer, as he did not see it all. For all he knew, there might have been a $1000 in the drawer.

G. W. Blair was in the postoffice when Reynolds discovered that the safe had been plundered. Striking a dramatic attitude, Mr. Blair told how the defendant acted when he saw the screws and clasp of the safe scattered around the floor. On cross-examination, Mr. Blair said he had noticed footprints in the dust in the rear rooms, indicating that the robber had passed through these rooms in entering the postoffice.

Joe Morgan was sitting in front of the saloon on the night of the robbery and saw Reynolds leave the postoffice on his way to dinner. He did not see anybody enter or leave the building afterwards, but he did not sit in such a position as to command a view of the whole structure.

Dr. Osburn and Ed. Saling saw Reynolds shortly after the robbery, with about $40 in gold and $5 in change. On cross-examination they said they had frequently seen Reynolds with money.

William Blair, a groceryman of Weston, testified that on September 3 Reynolds paid his grocery bill of $16.45.

After the examination of Blair, the case was continued until 10 o'clock, a. m., today in order to allow the government time to subpoena more witnesses. These witnesses are William Watkins, F. J. Van Winkle and H. A. Worthington.—Tribune.

The Cylinder Exploded.

Joseph Elliot, a well known farmer living on the Coppel, about 18 miles east of Walla Walla, was instantly killed on Tuesday afternoon while engaged in feeding a threshing machine, says the Statesman. The machine was running at a high rate of speed and Elliot was feeding the bundles into the threshing, when suddenly the cylinder broke into a thousand pieces, tearing out the top and sides of the machine, and scattering pieces of iron and steel all over the field. Elliot was struck by several of the flying missiles and knocked off the platform upon which he was standing. As soon as possible the machine was shut down and the other farm hands hastened to the place where Mr. Elliot fell. He was found lying on the ground, face downward, buried beneath the broken woodwork of the machine. One large piece of the broken cylinder struck a team of horses that were used on the horse power and felled them to the ground but not injuring them to any extent.

Took an Airing.

This morning's Tribune has the following to say in regard to two prominent Athena business men: Some gentleman of humorous tendencies perpetrated a huge joke upon L. D. Lively and P. M. Kirkland, two prominent citizens of Athena, yesterday. Messrs. Lively and Kirkland had boarded the freight train bound for Pendleton, and were complacently viewing the scenery when the aforesaid individual slammed and locked the door of the freight car in which they were sitting. At Adams the door was opened, and the two gentlemen, taint with heat, were allowed to take an airing.

The Wheat Market.

The local wheat market dropped another cent yesterday, and wheat is now quoted at 28 cents per bushel. At Portland, Walla Walla again declined a cent and Valley followed. The San Francisco and Chicago markets were firm.

PORTLAND, Sept. 12.—Wheat, Walla Walla, 43c; Valley, 46c.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Cash wheat 90c per cental.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Wheat—Cash, 55½c.

THE CIRCUIT COURT.

A Short Session Held and Some Business Disposed Of.

Circuit Judge Fee held a short session of court Tuesday, and handed down decisions in several cases. In the suit of the Oregon Mortgage company against S. A. Scott et al., the plaintiff's petition for the discharge of the receiver, Mr. Austin, was granted, it having been shown that the crop under attachment, had been leased to certain parties, and that there was no work for the receiver to perform.

Judgment was given the First National bank, of Pendleton, against James L. Hall for $843.70.

Neagle Bros. vs. Annie L. Falkenstein et al.; confirmation of sale. S. G. Wingard vs. E. G. Michall; same entry.

Judge Fee has decided not to adjourn court until a few days before the opening of the October term. He has practically disposed of all the business on hand, but will keep the team open so that he may be able to act in any matter that is brought before him.

A Forger Arrested.

C. P. Moody is under arrest for forgery of two checks, one for $14 and one for $16, drawn in the name of George Peringer on the First National Bank of Pendleton. One was cashed at the First National Bank of Athena by Cashier Lively, and the second one was presented at McKay's saloon in Athena, and later to the Athena bank. Both were cashed and got as far as Mr. Peringer before the fraud was detected. He repudiated the paper as falsely uttered, and John Vert went up Tuesday as deputy sheriff, and, after some pretty good detective work, singled out Moody as the guilty man.

Peringer had been drawing many checks of late paying harvest hands and some one has taken advantage of the fact that this was known to forge the checks and raise a few dollars. Moody will be examined in a day or two by Justice Parks.

MAY TUNNEL THE BLUES.

A Report That the O. R. & N. Co. Contemplates a Great Improvement.

It is reported in La Grande that the O. R. & N. Co., will soon build a tunnel through the Blue mountains and thus reduce the distance between that city and Portland 30 miles. "The construction of this tunnel has been talked of for several years," says the La Grande Chronicle, "but now it is claimed by leading railroad men that the timber which the company desired to secure is about all gone along the present route, and there is now no more inducement for the company to delay building the tunnel. The road now takes a very circuitous route up and over the mountain and goes thirty or more miles out of its way in going from here to Pendleton. It is the desire of the company to shorten the time as much as possible between Huntington and Portland, and these 30 miles would assist in that as well as reduce the expense of the maintaining several helpers on the mountain.

The O. R. & N. Co. is making many improvements at The Dalles. New ties are being put in, and a new incline to the steamboat landing is to be constructed.

OREGON FRUIT IN THE EAST.

Special Trains Carrying Peaches and Pears to Chicago and Other Points.

Umatilla county orchardists are interested in the effort being made by the Oregon Fruit Union to place the fruits of this state as a permanent feature of the Eastern markets, says a Pendleton paper. It is complained that Chicago's fruit exchange is conducted solely in the interest of California fruit raisers, but in spite of alleged discrimination, the O. R. & N. and U. P. have already hauled from Portland during the present season, six train loads of Oregon fruits to Chicago and other population centres in the east. The sixth train has just gone through. It is said that especially Oregon's prunes and pears have found a ready market, not only in Chicago and New York, but in other Eastern cities. Denver, Omaha and Kansas City have consumed several carloads. When brought in competition with California fruit the Webfoot product readily holds its own. California sends an immense quantity of fresh fruit to Eastern markets. During the present season as high as five or six train loads are sent over the Central and Union Pacific system each day. Trains are also sent by the Southern Pacific through route. The trains are run on schedule time, and other freight trains give way for them.

Besides the special fruit trains sent from Portland, there have gone every day from one to three cars. Umatilla county has already established a good market in Denver,

Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chicago. By regular shipment, the market not only will be held, but enlarged by the creation of a demand from other cities. Peaches and pears are an unusually good crop at Milton this year, and a large quantity is being sent out from that place.

The Rowe Brothers Settled.

Rowe brothers, who has been causing so much excitement by resisting officers near Oakesdale, and threatening to call out an armed mob to prevent the sale of some of their property on execution, have decided that laws are made to be obeyed. They came into Oakesdale Saturday last, and settled with the McCormick Harvester Company by letting the agent have sufficient wheat to satisfy the judgment. The execution has been satisfied, and the sale of the property, which was to be held on Monday, will not occur. The criminal prosecution for resisting officers and larceny of property under execution has not been dismissed, and will come on to be heard at 10 a. m. next Thursday.

The Russian Thistle.

The Russian thistle, which has proved rather destructive to grain, is on exhibition at the office of Bentley & Ferguson, in Pendleton. This thistle was cut on the farm of E. N. Smith, seven miles south of that town. There is a great deal about the place, and also on the farm of Ed. Ditchenwalter, S. Henderson, Milo Palmer and John Denton. It was introduced into this country by the carelessness of North Dakota seedmen, who mixed the seed of the thistle with some millet seed which Mr. Ditchenwalter ordered, and which he sowed, the thistle being the result.

An Ideal Community.

Mgr. Capel is going to establish an ideal community in the Sacramento valley, where he has a big ranch. On one part of the land a space will be set aside for an agricultural college. This institution will be the monsignor's special care. It is his earnest purpose to educate those people in California agriculture, of which he has made a close study during his residence in California. It may be necessary to carry these settlers for the first year before they begin to get a return for their crops, but that very important point the monsignor hopes to provide for.

The Barber's Doom.

Shaving by machinery has been rendered easy by the construction of a machine reported to have been made by one Melchior Farkas, a convict in the penitentiary of the city of Szegedin, in Hungary. Farkas was put to labor in the cabinet-making shop of the prison, and talking to his work with a will he soon displayed great inventive ingenuity. With his shaving machine he is said to have shaved all the inmates of the prison, nearly one hundred and fifty in number, within less than an hour's time.
