IRRIGATION IN CANADA.

Alberta Country Fast Coming to the Front.

The Canadian Pacific Railway company is now engaged in a great irrigation work, just east of Calgary, that will eventually bring under water 1,500,000 acres of as fine land as there is in all of Canada. They have just thrown open to settlement the first block of 110,000 acres, which they are selling at from $15.00 to $25.00 per acre. In connection with this irrigated land they are selling non-irrigable lands at from $12.00 to $15.00 per acre, which cannot be surpassed for grazing purposes, and affords a range where stock may graze throughout the entire year without shelter.

The future of Western Canada, and particularly the southern portion of Alberta province, is assured. Calgary, its metropolis, a city of 20,000 inhabitants, composed largely of Americans, is a live, up-to-date city. Its retail business is in the hands of bright, progressive business men, who handle enormous stocks. There are a number of jobbing houses located there, and a home market for stock is afforded by a large packing house. Along the line of the Canadian Pacific railway in Southern Alberta, there have been twenty elevators established the past year, to be followed by thirty more next year, so that there will be no shortage for the immense crops produced in this section.

In pulling down the old cathedral of Metz a strong box has been found containing coins and watches valued at $120,000.

Caution.

Imitations have been placed upon the market so closely resembling Allec's Plasters in general appearance as to be well calculated to deceive. It is however, in general appearance only that they compare with Allec's, for they are not only lacking in the best elements which have made Allec's so efficient, but are often harmful in their effects. Remember that Allec's are the original and only genuine porous plasters—the best external remedy known—and when purchasing plasters the only safe way is to always insist upon having Allec's.

Uncle Allen.

"Let me see," mused Uncle Allen Sparks, "in the old days, when we couldn't charge it up to 'grip,' what was it we used to call this rocky sort of feeling we all have just after the Christmas festivities?"

BAD BLOOD

THE SOURCE OF ALL DISEASE

Every part of the body is dependent on the blood for nourishment and strength. When this life stream is flowing through the system in a state of purity and richness we are assured of perfect and uninterrupted health; because pure blood is nature's safe-guard against disease. When, however, the body is fed on weak, impure or polluted blood, the system is deprived of its strength, disease germs collect, and the trouble is manifested in various ways. Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes and the different skin affections show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition as a result of too much acid or the presence of some irritating humor. Sores and Ulcers are the result of morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood, and Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood disorders that will continue to grow worse as long as the poison remains. These impurities and poisons find their way into the blood in various ways. Often a sluggish, inactive condition of the system, and torpid state of the avenues of bodily waste, leaves the refuse and waste matters to sour and form uric and other acids, which are taken up by the blood and distributed throughout the circulation. Coming in contact with contagious diseases is another cause for the poisoning of the blood; we also breathe the germs and microbes of Malaria into our lungs, and when these get into the blood in sufficient quantity it becomes a carrier of disease instead of health. Some are so unfortunate as to inherit bad blood, perhaps the dregs of some old constitutional disease of ancestors is handed down to them and they are constantly annoyed and troubled with it. Bad blood is the source of all disease, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and purified the body is sure to suffer in some way. For blood troubles of any character S. S. S. is the best remedy ever discovered. It goes down into the circulation and removes any and all poisons, supplies the healthful properties it needs, and completely and permanently cures blood diseases of every kind. The action of S. S. S. is so thorough that hereditary taints are removed and weak, diseased blood made strong and healthy so that disease cannot remain. It cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., and does not leave the slightest trace of the trouble for future outbreaks. The whole volume of blood is renewed and cleansed after a course of S. S. S. It is also nature's greatest tonic, made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is absolutely harmless to any part of the system. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores. Book on the blood and any medical advice free to all who write.

Gone with a Handsome Man.

John—
I've worked in the field all day, a-plowing the stony streak;
I've scolded my team till I'm hoarse, and I've tramped till my legs are weak.
I've choked a dozen swears so as not to tell Jane fibs,
When the plow point struck a stone and the handles punched my ribs.
I've put my team in the barn and rubbed their sweaty coats;
I've fed 'em a heap of hay and half a bushel of oats,
And to see the way they eat makes me
like eating feed,
And Jane won't say to-night I don't make out a meal.
Well said, the door is locked out here;
She's left the key Under the step in a place only known to Jane and me.
I wonder who's dying or dead that she's hustled off pell-mell;
Here on the table is a note—probably this will tell.
Good God, my wife is gone! My wife has gone astray;
The letter it reads, "Good-by, for I am going away.
I've lived with you six months, John, and so far I've been true,
But I'm going away to-day with a handsome man than you."
A handsome man than me—why, that ain't much to say;
There's handsome men than me go past
here every day;
There's handsome men than me—I ain't of the handsome kind—
But a loviner man than I was I'll vow she'll never find.
Curse her! Curse her, I say, and give my curses wings;
May the words of love I've spoke be changed to scorpion stings.
Oh, she filled my heart with joy; she emptied my heart of doubt,
And now with the scratch of a pen she lets my heart bleed out.
Curse her! Curse her, say I, she'll rue this day;
She'll some time learn that hate is a game that two can play.
And long before she dies she'll grieve she was ever born,
And I'll plow her grave with hate and send it down to scorn;
And when her face grows pale and when her eyes grow dim,
And when he is tired of her and she is tired of him,
She'll do what she ought to have done—she'll coolly count the cost—
Then she'll see things clear, she'll know what she has lost,
And thoughts that are now asleep will wake up in her mind,
And she'll mourn and cry for what she has left behind,
And maybe she'll sometimes think of me,
of me, but no,
I've blotted her out of my heart and I'll not have it so!
And yet there was something or other she had That sort of fastened a man to her, and she wasn't entirely had,
And she loved me a little, I think, although it didn't last;
But I mustn't think of these things—I've buried them with the past.
I'll take my hard words back, not make a bad matter worse;
She'll have trouble enough, she shall not have my curse.
But I'll live a life so square, and I well know that I can;
She always will sorry be she went with that handsome man.
Ah, here is her kitchen dress; it makes my poor eyes blur;
It seems when I look at it as if 'twere
holding her;
And there's her week day shoes and
And yonder is her wedding gown—I wonder she didn't take that.
'Twas only this morning she came and called me her dearest dear,
And said I was making for her a regular paradise here.
O God, if you want a man to sense the pangs of hell,
Before you pitch him in just keep him
in heaven a spell.
I'll worship no woman again, but I guess
I'll learn to pray
And kneel as you used to kneel before you ran away.
And if I thought I could bring my words
on heaven to bear,
If I thought I had some little influence
there,
I would pray if only it could be so That I might be as happy and gay as I was half an hour ago.

John—
Well, if this isn't a joke with rather a bitter cream,
It seems as if I'd awoke from a mighty ticklish dream;
And I think she smells a rat; she looks at me so queer.
Good Lord, I hope she don't; I hope she didn't hear.
'Twas one of her practical drives; she thought I'd understand.
Before I break sod again I'll get the lay of the land.
One thing is settled with me—to appreciate heaven well
It's good for a man to have some fifteen minutes of hell.
—Will Carleton.

THE SPENCER SEEDLESS APPLE

An Expert Investigates It and Makes Flattering Report.

There has been much adverse criticism of the Spencer Seedless Apple, notably in the Rural New Yorker and some of its satellites. The opinion of a recognized horticulturist, who has made a thorough examination of the apple, being allowed free range in the orchard where they are grown, should be valuable to those who are thinking of planting these trees, as well as to those who by reason of the criticisms have been deterred from purchasing.

A company was recently organized in Canada to handle the Spencer Seedless Apple trees, but the adverse criticisms alarmed the organizers, and they refused to proceed further with the negotiations until they could have the proposition thoroughly examined by an experienced horticulturist of reputation of their own selection. This was readily assented to, and as a result the Hon. John Dryden, who for more than twenty years was minister of agriculture for the province of Ontario, was selected to examine and report on this apple.

The Hon. John Dryden's name is a household word in Canada and Great Britain, and his reputation is such as will carry great weight wherever he is known. His report is most flattering and an unequalled endorsement of the apple. A copy of it is sent free upon application to the Spencer Seedless Apple Company, Everett, Washington.

Conclusive Reasoning.

A little elderly German who keeps a stationer's shop amuses and interests himself by making up stories about his customers and telling them to his family.

"Dat young lady who has de pink cheeks, she be married soon, I tink," he announced one night.

"Now, my Carl, you know nottings of her whateffer, is it not so?" and his wife tried to look as if she did not think him a wonderfully clever man.

"It is like dis," said the stationer, solemnly. "I observe, and I know. At first she buy paper and envelopes de same; later she buy twice as more paper, and den five times as more paper as envelopes. So I know she is become betrothed."

"And to-day," he said, beaming with pleasure, "to-day she buy only one half-dozen envelopes and five times as more paper; and when I tell her she get dem cheaper if she buy many, she say to me, 'I have no need of more, I tink you,' so I know de friend he comes soon, and so comes de marriage on quicky."

Harvesting Dollars

is possible if the seed be judiciously planted.

Southern Alberta, Canada, has demonstrated beyond a doubt that it is the greatest cereal growing country on the continent, and "Alberta Red Wheat" grown there took both the Gold and Bronze medals at the Portland Exposition.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has 3,000,000 acres of the best of land, irrigable and non-irrigable, just east of Calgary, Alberta, which they are selling at from $12 to $15 per acre for non-irrigable and $18 to $25 per acre for irrigable.

Lands sold by them three months ago at these prices are now being held by the purchasers at $50 per acre and upwards. The harvesting of dollars invested in these lands is just as certain as the harvesting of cereals.

If you are interested drop a card to the address below for literature fully describing the opportunity of the age.
