

Spring Humors

Impure or effete matters accumulated in the blood during the winter cause in the spring such disfiguring and painful troubles as boils, pimples, and other eruptions, also weakness, loss of appetite, that tired feeling.

The best medicine to take is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which thoroughly cleanses the blood, and effects permanent cures by giving healthy functional activity to the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and skin.

Sarsaparilla is Hood's Sarsaparilla in chocolate tablet form. They have identical curative properties as the liquid form, besides accuracy of dose, convenience, economy, no loss by evaporation, breakage, or leakage. It is of druggists or promptly of us by mail.

GUARANTEED under the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906. No. 324.

Mrs. L. Bickford, Gossville, N. H., says: "Every spring I was completely prostrated, run down, from dyspepsia and that tired feeling. But I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla helps me from the first dose, completely restores good health and strength."

Law of American Desert.

"One of the oldest humane laws in this country," said E. J. Sanford, "is in force in Nevada. In that section of the American desert which lies in Nevada travelers in distress may flag the limited passenger trains and compel the train crews to give them water to drink. The law makes it a felony to refuse to comply with the traveler's request."

Mr. Sanford said numerous instances were known in the earlier days when travelers took advantage of the protection this law afforded, but in recent years few persons attempted to cross the desert except by train.—Kansas City Times.

"THE MARRYING SQUIRE."

Justice Geo. E. Law, of Brazil, Ind., Has Married 1,400 Couples.

Justice Geo. E. Law, of Brazil, Ind., has fairly earned the title "The Marrying Squire," by which he is known far and wide, having already married some 1,400 couples. Ten years ago he was deputy county treasurer. "At that time," said Justice Law, "I was suffering from an annoying kidney trouble. My back ached, my rest was broken at night, and the passages of the kidney secretions were too frequent and contained sediment. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me in 1897, and for the past nine years I have been free from kidney complaint and backache."

Science AND Invention

An appropriation of $36,000 has been made by the Italian government for the establishing of six wireless telegraph stations at Rome, Milan, Turin, Sicily, Sardinia and Massowa. These stations are designed for general use, and an effort is to be made to popularize this system for the transaction of public and private business.

In a lecture to the Paris Academy of Medicine, Prof. Dr. Grebant stated that water gas is seven times more poisonous than ordinary lighting gas. In presence of the recent fire damp explosions at Lievin, in the north of France, and Saarbruck, in Germany, he advised that samples of the air in the underground workings be taken both day and night and be analyzed regularly.

It was in the latter part of 1903 that Sir John Murray made a series of experiments to determine the temperature of Loch Ness. The thermometer was immersed to a depth of 200 feet, and the temperature was recorded on an instrument at a distance of 1,200 feet from the thermometer. The thermometer was attached to a cable wound on a drum, which was fixed to the deck of a boat which was moored in the loch, and the cable was connected to the shore cable by an elaborate mercury cup.

When an automobile is running at high speed the rubber tires are rapidly warmed, and the heat sometimes becomes very great, with resultant injury to the rubber. The cause of this accumulation of heat in the tire is ascribed to the kneading of the rubber, which generates heat faster than it can be radiated away. For this reason manufacturers have found it to be an advantage to have metal parts in the tread, such as the ends of rivets, in contact with the tire, because the metal, being a good radiator, helps to carry off the heat to the outer air.

"It is generally conceded that within a year an electric glow lamp, the tungsten lamp, will be on the market," says Prof. W. S. Franklin, in Science, "and that the output of light per unit of power consumed will be increased at least threefold above that which is now obtained by the carbon filament glow lamp." The writer adds that this means that the light-producing capacity of every electric-lighting station in the world will be at once multiplied by three, with the possibility of greatly reduced prices per unit of light, and also greatly increased profits. The tungsten lamp, in which a metallic filament takes the place of the ordinary carbon loop, has received much attention in technical journals.

Dr. James Gale, the well known British scientist, whose death at the age of 73 is announced, was stricken with blindness when he was 17. But this did not prevent him from pursuing the study of science and literature with ardor and success. He invented a voltaic battery, which was once the means of bringing him in what is said to be the record fee of $250,000, as the reward for the cure of a millionaire patient. Dr. Gale discovered a means of making gunpowder temporarily non-explosive, and gave a demonstration before Queen Victoria. "While I was conducting the experiments," he related, "which included stirring up a quantity of gunpowder with a red-hot poker, Prince Leopold and Princess Beatrice came into the orangery. I was much amused at hearing the princess remark to the queen in a very audible whisper, 'I thought you told me Mr. Gale was blind. I am sure he isn't. He has beautiful eyes.' 'Hush!' said the queen, reprovingly: 'Mr. Gale is blind, but pray remember that he is not deaf.'"

A Bond of Sympathy.
While the new maid tidied the room the busy woman kept on writing. "Do you make that all out of your own head?" asked Jane. "Yes," said the busy woman. "My," said Jane admiringly, "you must have brains!" "Brains!" sighed the woman despondently. "Oh, Jane, I haven't an ounce of brains." For a moment Jane regarded her with sincere commiseration. "Oh, well," she said presently, "don't mind what I say. I ain't very smart myself."—New York Press.

Beat Him One Way.
As Mark Twain and a friend were chatting at the summer home of the humorist, Quarry Farm, near Elmira, N. Y., the conversation turned to the wealth of John D. Rockefeller. "Just think of it, Sam," said the guest, "he has more dollars than there are hairs in that vigorous old thatch of yours." "That's nothing," replied Mr. Clemens, "I have more dollars than he has hairs in his head."—Success Magazine.

Matrimonial.
Three Germans were sitting at luncheon recently and were overheard discussing the second marriage of a mutual friend when one of them remarked: "I'll tell you what. A man that marries de second time don't deserve to have lost his first wife."—Life.

Pe-ru-na Relieves Spring Catarrh

MISS DORA HAYDEN

"Without hesitation I write to thank you for the great relief I have found in your valuable medicine, Peruna, and will call the attention of all my friends suffering with catarrh to that fact. Besides I cheerfully recommend it to all suffering with catarrh in any form."—Miss Dora Hayden, 819 6th St., S. W., Washington, D. C.

A Case of Spring Catarrh.

Mrs. N. P. Lawler, 423 1/2 N. Broadway, Pittsburg, Kas., writes: "Last spring I caught a severe cold, which developed into a serious case of catarrh. I felt weak and sick, and could neither eat nor sleep well."

"A member of our club who had been cured of catarrh through the use of Peruna advised me to try it, and I did so at once. I expected help, but nothing like the wonderful change for the better I observed almost as soon as I started taking it. In three days I felt much better, and within two weeks I was in fine health. Peruna is a wonderful medicine."

Fortune in a Boy's Dirty Feet.

Because John Herrmann, a small boy in Lincoln, Neb., forgot his mother's command to be sure and wash his feet before going to bed, several Lincoln men seem to owe him the chance to make a fortune. An antiphlogistine factory is to be started in consequence, the antiseptic application to be manufactured from clay banks in the southern part of the city. The boy, who had gone barefooted for the first time this year, awoke the next morning to find that his clay-covered feet were blistered. Dr. Winnett, after examining the clay with which the youngster's feet were coated, declared that all that it needed to obtain a very good quality of antiphlogistine, or Denver mud, was the addition of glycerin and an antiseptic. The doctors and the owners of the land through which the clay banks run at once made plans for a factory.—Chicago Record-Herald.

How Did He Hide It?
"I see by the papers that Mr. Slickus, who was riding in the smoking car, was injured when his train ran into another one a few mornings ago. I feel sorry for his young wife."
"So do I. She hadn't the least suspicion that he was a smoker."

Reaction.
With a heavy sigh the candidate threw himself on the lounge in the family sitting room.

"Maria," he said, "the election is going against me. I am sure to be defeated."
"Then," spoke his wife, in a cold, metallic voice, "I don't get the fine new bonnet you were going to buy for me when you were elected."
"By George!" he exclaimed, brightening up. "I hadn't thought of that!"

Caste.
"You haven't been here half a minute," protested the microbe on the dollar bill. "What's your hurry?"

"If I should happen to meet you again," said the visiting microbe, looking with a glance of disdain at the surroundings. "I'll thank you not to speak to me."
"Why?"

"Because you're on a rank counterfeit and haven't sense enough to know it. Good-by."—Chicago Tribune.
