Standard Sewing Machines

Standard Sewing Machines have been in use for 25 years and during that time have given complete satisfaction to operators in all parts of the world. This is due to their thoroughly scientific construction, accurate fitting, easy action and great strength and also the superior quality of metal used in them, which makes the "Standard" more durable than any other machine. Every part is accurately made and interchangeable and can be replaced, if necessary, at any time, which means—the "Standard" machine will last forever; there is no wear out to it. Each machine is given a practical sewing test, and is properly adjusted by experienced operators before leaving the factory. The machine is then ready for immediate use, and our complete Book of Instructions tells the purchaser how all kinds of up-to-date sewing can be perfectly and quickly done on the "Standard." The "Standard" is not a cheap machine, neither in quality or price. It is made especially for those who demand the highest quality from the very best materials obtainable. No machine is cheap that is not durable; to the cost of repairs on an inferior machine will soon double the original price, not counting the wear and tear on nerves and patience; and no machine is durable unless planned upon correct mechanical principles, and made of the very best materials, fitted and furnished by competent workmen. We are General Agents for Eastern Washington and Oregon, and have a complete line of "Standards" on our floor.
