

ANSWERS TWEEDALE

C. A. Barrett Refutes Arguments of Albany Man Regarding Statement No. 1.

C. A. Barrett, Republican candidate for representative from Umatilla county, and a strong adherent of Statement No. 1, sent the following communication to the Oregonian, but publication was refused. He then sent it to The Journal. Mr. Barrett is the only Republican candidate for representative in Umatilla county who has come out on a Statement No. 1 platform. Present indications are that he will be nominated by the Republican voters of the county. His letter to the Oregonian follows:

"Athens, Or., April 4.—To the Editor of the Oregonian—It has never been my purpose to rush into newspaper correspondence, especially to dissertate on political subjects. But when communications like that of the learned and intelligent W. C. Tweedale of Albany in the Oregonian of the second instant, appear I am somewhat impelled to answer them, but at the same time beg the pardon of the reading public for doing so.

"It has long been understood that the Oregonian is a newspaper of great worth, great force, and it now has a national reputation. In order for this paper to maintain its present and past high standard it seems that it should be at least necessary for it to publish nothing misleading—nothing but the plain, unvarnished truth about great political issues before the people, especially when such issues are based upon law. Of course there is an ancient legal maxim to the effect that 'ignorance of the law excuses no one,' however this may be, it is universally understood that but few people know the law. This writer does not profess to know it by any means, and it is not the purpose of this communication to endeavor to lead anyone to believe that he does know it.

"But the point is this: The learned and scholarly Mr. Tweedale in his communication has either willfully sought to mislead those who may read this article, or he has mistakenly placed a construction upon the meaning of the primary law and Statement No. 1, which, at first glance, is likely to mislead many voters. This is too plain for cavil, and the Oregonian knows that the construction in said communication is not only false and unfounded, but likely to mislead many voters; and this being so, is it doing right by its thousands of readers to give space to such an article?

"The primary law is plain, but the great majority of people in Oregon have perhaps never read it, and will never read it, and they depend upon great newspapers like the Oregonian to give the said law a fair, honest, truthful interpretation. But here in this instance the learned and scholarly Mr. Tweedale tries to make his readers believe that if there are five Republican candidates for United States senator before the primaries, and four of them get 1,000 votes each and the other 1,500, the one getting 1,500 is not the choice of the people; and that since the Democrats have only one candidate and his vote is 2,500, it would entitle him to be elected United States senator according to Statement No. 1.

"Nothing could be farther from the truth, and it is so palpable that we are inclined to say that the assertion is willfully misleading. The fact, under such circumstances, would be that the Republican getting 1,500 votes would be the Republican nominee at the ensuing election in June, and the Democrat getting 2,500 votes would be the nominee of his party. Hence, if the Republicans who are true to party want to do so, they can vote for their nominee and give him the full 2,500 votes, and he would certainly be 'the people's choice,' because the Democrat would only get 2,500 votes.

"In this instance the result would be that all Statement No. 1 members of the legislature would have to vote for the Republican candidate for United States senator, and if a majority of the members of the legislature were Statement No. 1 men, the 'people's choice' would be elected; if the legislature did not have a majority of Statement No. 1 men then, and in that event, the 'people's choice' might not be elected, but instead the legislature might be tied up for 40 days and nights trying to elect a senator. Therefore Statement No. 1 is the nearest expedient we have for electing to the United States senate the 'people's choice.'

"If at the coming primary election Fulton should receive 20,000 votes and Calk 21,000 or vice versa, and Chamberlain 25,000, it would not follow by any means that Chamberlain would be elected at the June election as the 'people's choice,' because at the election Fulton or Calk, whichever got the 21,000 votes, might get the entire Republican vote of 41,000, and thereby be the 'people's choice,' because Chamberlain would only get 25,000 votes. Therefore, when the legislature would meet to elect a senator, if it had a majority of Statement No. 1 members the election would be simple and the said Calk or Fulton, as the case might be declared elected without any '40 days' of quibbling, bribing and rascality.

Don't Put Off Your Mouth

It is a common habit to gulp down what is in your mouth without knowing what it is. Do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes his Favorite Prescription in each bottle wrapper, which is made of the most reliable and purest ingredients. He can vouch for it because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

A SOUL WINNING CHURCH IN FOUR PARTS.

By Rev. Israel Putnam.

Part Second.
What might be properly called pride, is no doubt, in the way of soul-winning on the part of the Church. And when I say social pride I do not mean decency, nor good manners, etc. but that which disregards the comfort of another because of superior wealth, intelligence etc. all of which go to evince a want of the Christlike Spirit and shows the unregenerate state of the heart.

How unlike is this to the attitude of Jesus toward the poor, the unfortunate and the sin-cursed. He was known as the Friend of publicans and sinners and the "Common people heard Him gladly." Mark 12, 37. He went into their homes, talked with them, ate with them, and helped them to a better life, but He was especially kind and considerate toward the weak and fallen. John 8, 3-11. From his precious and powerful lips fell (Matt. 23, 12-33) scathing denunciations of the Scribes and Pharisees who thought themselves too holy and high to show any kindness to weak erring ones, while from his eyes fell tears of pity, not only for the inhabitants of the wicked city (Luke 19, 41) but for the sin-chained and sin-cursed everywhere.

Shall the Church follow her Lord, or the Scribes and Pharisees?

While Howard Johnston was pastor of a large church in New York City, a poor Magdalen came, one day, to his study, told him she was tired and sick of sin and that she had been to several asking for help to a better life, but they had all turned her away. Like his Lord, he talked kindly to her, and prayed with her and she gave herself to Christ. He then helped her to a position. But when some of the fashionable women of his Church learned what he was doing they rebuked him and thought themselves disgraced by their pastor having anything to do with a woman of that kind. "Tell it not in Gath, nor publish it in the streets of Askelon" (2 Sam. 1, 20) that those who profess to be followers of the meek and lowly Saviour should dare to rebuke a Minister of His for helping the lost and perishing. The blessed Holy Spirit is often grieved by the pride and selfishness of such hearts, both men and women, so that they cannot be used as the channels of his grace. In her early days, Methodism was to the humble, sin-cursed, and lost, the strong arm of deliverance, as in the face of opposition, and often serious and shameful persecution, she, with loving heart and faithful step and great sacrifice, and without retaliation, so far as I am informed bore the palm branch of Heavenly peace to the poor masses of humanity, drifting down, and away, in the awful darkness and ignorance of sin. Shall we lose our crown? O that the old time Jesuslike spirit of loving faithful service for all, might fall speedily upon the millions of all branches of Christianity, as well as our own! Then the mourners cry would rise from our altars and great prosperity would attend our beloved Zion everywhere.

Indifference concerning the condition of the unsaved is one of the greatest hindrances to revival work on the part of the Church. Is it not strange that men are always asking how is business, how are the folks, how is politics, how is this and how is that, how is your dog and how is your cat, etc. etc. but very seldom how is your soul and what are your prospects for Heaven. If fashions, flirting and peevish-dogs were discussed less and soul-winning more in every day life, by the Church, we should sooner see a work of grace.

Olive Schreiber in "A South African Farm" draws a vivid picture of a little German boy who caught a glimpse of souls dying. Waking up at midnight, he heard the ticking of his fathers watch and remembers what he said the evening before, that with every tick of the watch a soul goes into eternity: "And it now seems to be saying 'Eternity, eternity, eternity.'" He covered his head and sought not to think nor hear, but both seemed rather to increase and putting back the clothing he heard the watch still ticking, and now it seemed to be saying "Dying, dying, dying." Then he saw a great dark valley, through which was winding a long procession of people toward a very high precipice, over which they were dropping into darkness, one by one, with every tick of the watch. The boy could no longer control his feelings and springing from his bed threw himself on his face, on the floor, and cried, "O God, save one, save one!" Would to God that every professing Christian would have the vision of that little boy! For there are so many who seem to have no real conception whatever of the value of an immortal soul, and do so little to save one from death.

All the Gold IN GEORGIA Could not Buy-

Roding, Ga. August 27, 1906. Messrs. E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ills.

Gentlemen:—In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. Some physicians told me it was Dyspepsia, some Consumption of the Lungs, others said consumption of the Bowels. One physician said I would not live until Spring, and for four long years I existed on a little boiled milk, soda biscuits, doctors' prescriptions and Dyspepsia remedies that flooded the market. I could not digest anything I ate, and in the Spring 1902 I picked up one of your Almanacs as a poor emaciated Dyspepsia wreck with no grasp at anything, and that Almanac happened to be my life savior. I bought a tiny cent bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE, and the benefit I received from that bottle ALL THE GOLD IN GEORGIA COULD NOT BUY. I kept on taking it and in two months I went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. I still use a little occasionally as I find it a fine blood purifier and a good tonic. May you live long and prosper. Yours very truly, G. N. CORNELL.
