Mrs. W. P. Littlejohn, wife of the head miller of the Preston-Parton Milling company, accompanied by her little daughter, arrived in the city Monday evening from Marysville, California. Mrs. Littlejohn is by no means a stranger in Athena. She will be remembered by many Athena friends as Anna Molstrom, daughter of Henry Molstrom, and when a girl attended the Athena public school. Mr. and Mrs. Littlejohn are residing in the Bell cottage, corner Fourth and Jefferson streets.

Tuesday evening at the Methodist church, in the Epworth League rooms the young folks of the city were given a rare good time by the members of the League. The event was in the nature of a basket social. The young ladies responded liberally with baskets well filled with good things. These were sold to the highest bidder, bringing the neat sum of $50 for the work of the Epworth League, newly reorganized. Coffee was served with the supper. A short but excellent program was rendered before the sale of the baskets.

Missionary work in the Congo was the live topic for able lectures in Athena the past week. Saturday night Dr. Dye appeared before a large audience at the Christian church and the result of his lecture netted over $300 to the fund which is to be used in constructing the steamboat, "Oregon," which is to ply the waters of the river Congo, and which will greatly assist in missionary progress. The Christian churches of Oregon have pledged themselves to raise $15,000 for this purpose, and funds are coming in most encouragingly. The Athena church hopes yet to raise their offering to $500. Wednesday evening Dr. Moody delivered a strong lecture at the Baptist church, going deeply into the subject of missions and illustrating in an interesting manner how faithful workers are doing their best to Christianize darkest Africa.

Orchardists Are Busy. With one week of spring weather past and indications good for a continuance of the same temperature, orchardists are pruning and spraying their trees and vineyards in all parts of the Walla Walla valley. The country adjacent to Milton and Freewater is one compact scene of activity in this line. Every day sees large quantities of limbs and tops of trees cut and piled in large heaps for burning, and the following night the heavens are illuminated in many places by large bonfires consuming this debris.

Card of Thanks. For the many kind acts on the part of friends during the illness and death of our beloved son, we desire to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks. T. P. Defreese and family.
