Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, of Walla Walla, are guests this week of their daughters, Mrs. Wm. Winship and Mrs. Sam Haworth in this city.

A party of gentlemen went up to Wenaha springs last evening, returning this morning. They went in the Wilson and Sturgis automobiles.

Don't forget that Jarman's Department store carries a large line of Economy fruit jars and caps, also Mason jar caps and rubbers. Prices right.

Mr. Ira Boober of Montgomery county, Indiana, is visiting relatives in this city and vicinity. He is very well pleased with his first trip to the Pacific slope.

Louis Keen, John Mitchell and Wm. Woodside left Wednesday for Coeur d'Alene, where they will register, hoping to secure a prize in the reservation land drawing.

Ellis B. Harris, pastor of the Christian church, left today for Davenport, Wash., where he fills the pulpit for Rev. Handaker, who will supply at the church here Sunday.

We are headquarters for gloves, overalls, jumpers, Sox, handkerchiefs, cool hats, quilts and blankets, canvas—in fact everything for the harvest hand. Jarman's Dept. Store.

Mrs. Lillie Miller yesterday went to Walla Walla, where she placed an order for fall millinery with a Denver wholesale house, meeting the traveling salesman there by appointment.

Miss Myrtle Thompson, the efficient saleslady at Jarman's Department store is taking her summer vacation and will spend the time with friends at Pendleton and Walla Walla.

Sam Taylor, of Manitoba, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sheard this week. Mr. Taylor is a cousin of Mrs. Sheard, and a brother of Ed Taylor, now of Alberta.

A Weston farmer has a field of wheat which is free from smut. He does not attribute absence of the fungus to luck, but to the fact that he sowed his seed in the light of the moon.

Harvest is at hand, horses are in demand and the horse thief has made his appearance. Athena officers have received descriptions of two bunches of horses that have been stolen during the last two days.

Dying suddenly from an attack of apoplexy, O. R. Ballou, one of the oldest pioneers of the Walla Walla valley passed away Wednesday night. His death was sudden and came as a great shock to his family.

Miss Carrie Sharp left last week for Yaquina Bay, where she will visit her sister, Miss Katherine, during the remainder of her school term there. The two young ladies will return home together at the close of the school.

Mrs. O. A. Rhodes and daughter, Ethelwa, left Wednesday for Salem, near which place they will visit at the home of Mrs. Rhodes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jenkins. They will also visit friends at Hood River en route.

A number of Athena men will register for the land drawing on the Spokane, Coeur d'Alene and Blackfoot Indian reservations. Considering that it's a 100 to 1 chance whether they get a homestead, many will take the trip from a standpoint of pleasure.

The mountain camping places and resorts are claiming all who can find time to enjoy the pleasures of recreation. The huckleberry crop promises to be fairly bountiful and will lend a zest to the pleasure of the summer outing.

Uncle John Callender is having a grand time at the fair. He writes friends here that he is keeping up in statistics of the great exposition, and reports that on Tuesday, the 13th, paid admissions to the fair reached the millionth mark.

Just a few of the new arrivals at Jarman's Department Store—Silkline in all shades, percales with or without border, silence cloth for the table, blankets of all descriptions, summer hosiery, collar supporters. New goods arriving all the time.

Tuesday evening a pleasant informal party was given at the home of Mrs. B. W. Myers, as an aftermath to the jolly times spent on the river last week. The party was confined to the number comprising the young people who were chaperoned by Mrs. Myers.

P. P. Collier, a former well known resident of Pendleton, died last Saturday at the home of his son, Attorney H. E. Collier, in St. Johns. He was 72 years old and a veteran of the civil war. He moved to Pendleton from Kentucky in 1870 and last fall moved to the home of his son.

M. M. Johns arrived in the city Wednesday from Los Angeles, via Portland, and will remain to harvest his wheat crop. His family, who are visiting in Portland and Vancouver, will probably be in Athena within a week or two, where they will be made most heartily welcome by friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Moran left Monday for their home near Nanton, Alberta. Mr. Moran, who is a son-in-law of James Mosgrove, who met death in a runaway accident, believes that Mr. Mosgrove was stricken with heart failure and was dead before the team, which was one of the farm teams and ordinarily gentle, started to run. The position in which the body was found impresses Mr. Moran with the belief that had the victim been holding the reins the head would have been lying in the direction the team went, instead of the opposite direction. The widow will remain at Milton until Mr. Matt Mosgrove can return with her to Alberta to settle the affairs of the estate.

In Memoriam.
Whereas: Our Divine Master in His infinite wisdom, has taken unto Himself our beloved brother, James Mosgrove, and in so doing has for some inscrutable purpose of His own laid the heavy hand of affliction upon our brother's family, and the community at large, Therefore, be it Resolved, That in the death of our brother, James Mosgrove, his bereaved widow and family have sustained the irreparable loss of a most loving, faithful and devoted husband and father; and the community one of its most respected and valuable citizens; one whose love and kindness was not bounded by the immediate circle of his friends and acquaintances, but of whom it might truthfully be said: "He loved all his fellow creatures;" and one who, in every duty of life was ever found faithful and true; whose every motive and action was influenced by the right, and was as free from guile and duplicity as it is possible for human nature to be. And, while we wonder at the inscrutable ways of the Great Being who controls and directs our destinies, and confess our inability to understand His ways, or either of the twin mysteries of life and death, we can only say, with bowed heads and hands inert, "Thy will, O God, be done."
Resolved, That the brethren of this lodge extend their most heartfelt sympathy to those whom it has pleased the giver of all good to add to the number of the disconsolate; and we most earnestly pray that He may buoy them up under this heavy stroke, and sustain them against despondency. And may they "so live, that when their summons comes, to join the innumerable caravan that moves to the pale realms of shade, where each shall take his chamber in the silent halls of death," they may be prepared to meet their loved one in the "land that is fairer than day."

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the journal of this lodge, and that a copy thereof be furnished by the Secretary to the widow of our beloved brother, one to Brother George Legler, Worshipful Master of Nanton Lodge No. 23, at Nanton, Alberta, Canada, and one to the Athena Press for publication.

Words To Freeze the Soul.
"Your son has Consumption. His case is hopeless." These appalling words were spoken to Geo. E. Blevens, leading merchant of Springfield, N. C. by two expert doctors—one a lung specialist. Then was shown the wonderful power of Dr. King's New Discovery. "After three weeks use," writes Mr. Blevens, "he was as well as ever. I would not take all the money in the world for what it did for my boy." Infallible for coughs and colds, its the safest, surest cure of desperate Lung diseases on earth. 50c. and $1.00. All druggists guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free.

Strayed from my place north of Athena, one brown filly, 3 years old; one black yearling filly with one white hind foot. Will pay reward of $10 each for information leading to their recovery.
Oliver Dickenson, Athena, Oregon.
