School Notes.

The Public School desires to thank patrons and friends for the splendid patronage on the evening of the school entertainment. The receipts were $52.95 for admissions. Students were admitted free, except that some insisted on paying their admission to help the cause along. The net proceeds will be applied to legitimate expenses of the school, such as piano rent, laboratory incidentals, athletics etc., a full statement of which will be filed with the school board.

The book keeping class has grown so that another table is demanded.

It grows dark so early these evenings that students cannot see to do their work. The electric lights will be appreciated with joy and acclaim.

The High School basket ball team will play Weston tonight at that city. Let a goodly number go and make the occasion a success, socially especially. Our county schools should cultivate a good school spirit. Games should be strictly supervised and all unnecessary roughness eliminated in the interest of clean sport. It is well for some teacher and older ones to accompany students, not to handicap boys and girls in all legitimate fun, but to help the young people to properly interpret and appreciate the true spirit of athletics.

Mrs. Raymond C. B. Brooks of Walla Walla, assisted by local musicians will give a musical recital at the Opera House on Dec. 17, under the auspices of Athena High. Mrs. Brooks' ability is known to some of our people. She has given entertainments in large cities, to the edification of large audiences.

Herbert Parker spent Sunday with friends in Pendleton.

Don't forget the basket ball game at Weston tonight. Let every "Freshman" and his lady be there.

A very commendable feature of the High School is the regular attendance of the students and a manifest interest in their work. The new arrivals of last week are showing themselves to be of the right sort. Let us have more of them.

The opera house has been obtained by the High School and has been arranged for the purpose of playing games, which will be scheduled with other teams for the season. Mr. Beverly has kindly consented to assist in coaching the squad in the absence of Mr. Case.

The last meeting of the Literary society was held in the High School room Friday, Nov. 27. Affirmative and negative sides had been chosen by leaders on the question of the Commission Form of Government, and a short debate ensued, a favorable start being made. The next meeting will be a special called meeting. On the affirmative side in the debate will be: Luvois McEwan, Zelma DePeatt and Clarence Brotherton; on the negative, Archie McIntyre, Jessica McEwan, and Ada Bannister. A series of debates will be held with Pendleton, Weston and probably other schools.

FIRE SALE

Of course you know we had a fire at our store which did some damage to our stocks. We have had a large crew of men working ever since repairing and finishing the damaged goods until now you could hardly tell we ever had a fire. After thinking the matter over we decided to put on a

and reduce the price of everything in our entire store, whether damaged or not.

We have decided to rid our store of everything that was here the night of the fire, and replace it with new goods. So if you are in need of anything in the home-furnishing line you will find you can save many a dollar by buying now.

Carpets, Rugs, Draperies, Furniture, Stoves, Ranges, Chinaware, Glassware, Silverware, Etc.

Remember we pay the freight where purchases amount to $10 or over. Write us today, or better still, come to our store, buy your needs for months to come.
