

MOUNTAINEERS WON

A Slow Game, Interspersed With Errors and One Brilliant Play—Pendleton Won From Pilot Rock.

| | Won. | Lost. | P. C. |
|------------|------|-------|-------|
| Pendleton | 3 | 1 | .750 |
| Weston | 3 | 1 | .750 |
| Pilot Rock | 2 | 2 | .500 |
| Athens | 0 | 4 | .000 |

Except for a bright spot now and then, the game between Weston and Athens in this city Sunday was mediocre in the extreme. A total of eleven offences crept into the error column, eight of which were made by Athens at times when they counted in the run-making.

The game dragged through two hours and 15 minutes of monotonous play, the only redeeming feature being Dave Stone's spectacular catch out in center garden, which elicited an old time hand clapping in the grand stand.

Jack Keefe, the Weston catcher, impersonated Danny Shea to a frazzle. His rag-chewing and stunts around home plate brought forcibly to mind the antics of the old "yellow kid" premier catcher, and he sure got what was coming to him from the side lines. The mountaineers scored twice in the first inning. Keefe, first man up went to second on E. Lisenallen's wild heave to Willaby. Wilson fanned W. Nordean. A. Nordean took first on Wilson's booting of a slow grounder and Keefe scored. Barnes leaped out a single, Nordean going to third. Wheeler was safe at first on a fielders choice, Nordean scoring the second run on the play. Maloney went out, L. Lisenallen to Willaby, and Wheeler at second.

Athens tied the score in her half of the second after Smith had fanned. Willaby rested on first cushion by virtue of Wheeler's error, and went to second when Nordean failed to hold DePeatt's long fly. He scored on Grove's single. DePeatt taking third, and scoring on Wilson's sacrifice. Hawks fanned.

A base on balls, two hits, an error and a sacrifice hit was good for two runs for Weston in the fourth. In the seventh Weston rang up two more without a hit. Two errors, two wild throws and a muffed fly being responsible for the runs.

Groves scored in the seventh, when he singled, flied second, and went to third on Lansdale's error. He came over on Hawk's single. In the eighth the Maroons loaded the bases with nobody down, and had the chance to do things to the Mountaineers. Stone led off with a single-bagger, L. Lisenallen followed with a single and Wheeler passed Smith. Willaby dumped a slow one down to short, Stone scoring on a slow throw to the plate. DePeatt went out on a fly to center, Lisenallen beating the throw in. Groves and Wilson went out on flies.

Weston gleaned three in the ninth on three errors by H. Lisenallen, a wild throw and one man hit by a pitched ball. The score:

| | | | | | | | | | |
|--------|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|----|
| Athens | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 2 | 0 | —5 |
| Weston | 3 | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 | 2 | 0 | 3 | —9 |

Batteries—Wilson, Stone and Hawks; Wheeler and Keefe.

Pendleton won from Pilot Rock Sunday, score 11 to 2. Athens plays at Pendleton Sunday and Pilot Rock plays at Weston.

ENGLAND'S LIGHTHOUSES.

Controlled by a Board Known as the "Elder Brethren."

The lighthouse service of England is controlled by a board composed of thirteen "elder brethren." When a vacancy occurs one of the "younger brethren" is selected by the "elder brethren" to fill it. The position is for life, and the salary is £500 a year. Any commanding officer of the navy or master of the merchant marine is eligible for election as one of the "younger brethren" by the "elder brethren." There is no salary attached to the position, but they are eligible for election as one of the "elder brethren."

England is divided into seven lighthouse districts, each in charge of a superintendent. The superintendents are persons who enter the service as apprentices at the age of thirteen and have worked up to the position of master on board of a steam tender. They enter the service between the ages of nineteen and twenty-eight, and their salaries are regulated according to length of service and not according to station. Lightkeepers as well as the other employees of the lighthouse service are pensioned when too old to perform duty. There is a regular lightship service, also for life, and the officers are selected from the men. The men enter between the ages of nineteen and twenty-eight, but must have been at sea. They are then eligible to work up to lamp-lighter, mate and master. These men are pensioned when too old to serve.

The King in Wrong. "The king can do no wrong," quoted the wise guy.

"Oh, that's all rot!" retorted the simple mug, who had been up late the night before. "Suppose you were drawing to a straight and wanted either a deuce or a seven spot."—Philadelphia Record.

OLD ENGLISH HUMOR.

The "Joe Miller Jest Book"—It is famous. Mark Twain mentions it as the alpha and omega of deflected humor. It is unrivaled, incomparable, apart. Further, it is English—very English.

Possibly the latter phenomenon is responsible for the difficulty a searcher had in finding an unrevised copy. After an afternoon of search a second-hand but scarcely worn copy finally was discovered in a little bookstore. The bookseller eyed the buyer curiously, but with some awe, and seemed very glad to get rid of it for 25 cents. Twenty-five cents! How instantly reminiscent of one of the Joe Miller jokes—beg pardon, jests:

THE LIGHT SUBJECT.

The government, having threatened to proceed rigorously against those who refused to pay assessed taxes, offered to them a remission of one-fourth. "This at least," said one sufferer, "may be called giving them some quarter."

You can get that off in your very next after dinner speech. You can put a little accent on one-fourth and quarter and get quite as loud a laugh.

Second specimen (it must be remembered that the jest book was compiled in the early part of the eighteenth century, when there were literarians; therefore the jests that aren't blamed on lords are mostly charged to writers):

A DIFFERENCE.

Jerrold one day met a Scotch gentleman whose name was Letich, who explained that he was not the popular cartoonist John Leech. "I'm aware of that," said Jerrold. "You're the Scotchman with the let-ich in your name."

There! Just think of the triumph with which Mr. Jerrold later related that quip to his friends.

THE CONNOISSEUR.

A person to whom the curiosities, buildings, etc., in Oxford were shown one very hot day was asked by his companion if he would see the remainder of the university. "My dear sir," replied the connoisseur, "I am stone blind already."

Whether the friend expired in spasms of mirth or subsequently was hanged for mayhem the jest book doesn't say.

The wit of the Irish is called in too. Smiles.

Microscopic Measurement.

The measurement of microscopic objects is done by rulings on glass, which are produced by wonderfully delicate machines. These rulings are constructed so as to accurately divide an inch or any other unit of measurement into any desired number of parts—as, for instance, one one-hundredth of an inch or one one-thousandth of an inch. The finest rulings thus far produced by any of the machines are at the rate of something like 200,000 to the inch. Some idea of the closeness of the ruled lines can be obtained from considering that a thousand such lines would occupy only the space included in the thickness of a sheet of ordinary writing paper.—New York American.
