ELECTION RETURNS

Bowerman and West Will Fight for Governorship—Lafferty Defeats Ellis—Barrett Over Wilson.

The split in the anti-assembly vote in the primary election permitted Jay Bowerman to carry off the nomination for governor. The democratic nominee is Oswald West, who defeated Jefferson Myers, the Portland candidate.

Ellis lost out in an avalanche of votes for Lafferty, although the Pendleton man carried this county by more than two to one.

Complete official returns give Barrett the victory over Wilson by the narrow margin of 46 votes. Wilson carried Umatilla county by 27 votes, while Barrett led in Union and Morrow counties. The contention is made by Wilson's friends that Barrett's majority could be materially out down should Wilson feel disposed to enter a contest. This contention is based on the knowledge that democratic ballots with Barrett's name written in were counted for him.

Mann and Peterson are the republican nominees for representatives.

The race between Lane and Manning for congressman is close.

County Assessor Strain was given a good vote in his home county in his race for nomination for railroad commissioner, considering the light vote cast in the democratic primaries. He was given 293 to his opponent's 74. Godfrey led in the race for state printer by 251 to 79 for J. Scott Taylor.

The other democratic nominees are Turner Oliver of La Grande, secretary of state; Slater and King, supreme court justices; Saxton, water commissioner; Lewis, republican incumbent and nominee, endorsed for state engineer; Will Moore and J. T. Lieutollen, representatives; T. D. Taylor, sheriff; T. J. Tweedy, treasurer; Chamberlain, clerk; C. J. Smith, senator; J. W. Maloney, judge; J. B. Saylor, commissioner.

The following is the complete official count for the county republican primaries:

- For surveyor—Kimbrell, 849; Macomber, 59.
  - For coroner, Ralph Folsom, 1226.
  - For commissioner—Cookburn, 705; Wallman, 408.
  - Sheriff T. D. Taylor's name was also endorsed by the republicans by a vote of 215 to 141 for Zoeth Houser.
  - For representatives—Henneman, 356; Hinkle 371; Kern 319; Mann, 664; Peterson, 392; Schmitt, 260.
  - For county judge—Gilliland, 1125.
  - For county clerk—Saling, 1228.
  - For recorder of conveyances—Burrroughs 712; Hendley 627.

  - For justice of supreme court, six year term—Burnett, 850; Moore, 819.
  - For attorney general—Crawford, 806; Hart, 485.
  - For superintendent of public instruction—Alderman, 1074.
  - For state printer—Clark, 527; Dunlaway, 797.
  - For commissioner of labor—Hoff, 677; Orton, 593.

- Elections were not held in five precincts of the county. These were Encampment, Juniper, Gibbon, Prospect and Cottonwood. There was so little interest manifested in these precincts that not enough voters showed up to furnish officers for the election.

OLD VET KISSES FLAG

Gray Haired Fighters Bare Heads and Watch Old Glory Flutter Down for the Last Time.

Fort Walla Walla is no more. They baled down the flag for the last time at sunset Tuesday, and an old white-haired man stepped forward and reverently kissed it. As a member of E troop of the First dragoons he was present 53 years ago when the flag was first raised there. After kissing it, he turned and called on the crowd of several hundred people who had come out from the city to be present at the last retreat, to give three cheers, but the occasion was almost too solemn for cheering, and they were woefully weak.

Tuesday night the remaining officers, the band and a handful of enlisted men under command of Lieutenant Colonel Shunk, left for Boise, and Fort Walla Walla will be left with a caretaker until such time as congress finally disposes of it, and as a military post its history has closed.

The time set for the farewell ceremony was 5:45 and for half an hour before 5 o'clock people from the city arrived in groups of three and four and gathered on the parade ground near the staff.

Just before the band came out Dr. John Tempary, Joseph McEvey, Lewis McMorris, J. J. Robb and Michael Jenney, all veterans who served when the fort was first established, lined up in front of the flag.

Lieutenant Colonel Shunk, Major Gardner, Captain Sabell and Captain Hartmann stood beside them, while a picture was taken and then the officers took their position at one side of the band and next them a few non-commissioned officers and enlisted men who are still there.

Color Sergeants Kramer and Smith held the halcyards. All stood at attention while the band played "Auld Lang Syne." Then came the last sunset gun and then with the opening strains of the national hymn all hats came off and the flag fluttered slowly down.

Dr. Tempary gathered it in his arms before it touched the ground, McEvey stepped forward and kissed it, and as the cheering which followed it died away, the story of Fort Walla Walla came to an end.

BOUGHT PALACE DRUGSTORE

Byron Hawks Will Move Stock to South Side of Main Street.

Byron N. Hawks has purchased the Palace drugstore of Dr. J. D. Plamondon, the negotiations for which were mentioned in the Press last week.

Mrs. L. Dell has purchased the Palace drugstore building from Wm. McBride. The building is located on the south side of Main street and Mr. Hawks has leased it for a period of 5 years and will move his stock in the Pioneer building to the Dell property.

The Dell building will be equipped at once with a modern plate glass front, and with the two stocks combined, Mr. Hawks will have one of the leading drugstores of the county. He has made a signal success of the drug business in Athena. Coming here about four years ago, he at once commenced to build up a good trade.

It is not known whether Mrs. Metzger, the owner of the Pioneer building, has as yet rented her building. The location is a good one, and most any line of goods could be accommodated there.

Automobile Accident

Mrs. Ed. Barr lies in St. Anthony's hospital at Pendleton as the result of an automobile accident. The woman has a fractured thigh and other serious injuries. Charles McBee, owner and driver of the automobile, was also seriously injured. He was making a turn of a street corner at slow speed, when a cab was pulled up suddenly by the driver to avert running into the automobile, but not in time to prevent the tongue from tearing away the steering wheel and throwing McBee to the ground. This left the machine to run amuck. It darted across the street and plowed Mrs. Barr against a brick building. The street was full of people at the time and others narrowly escaped injury.

Accidentally Shot

Joseph Saltmarsh, a farmer residing south of Pendleton, was accidentally shot and killed at his home Tuesday morning. He had taken his rifle into the field to shoot a coyote, and after firing one shot returned to the house, where his daughter heard another report from the gun. On investigating she found her father lying dead in the room with a bullet hole in his head. It is supposed that Saltmarsh, in putting the rifle in the corner accidentally discharged it.

Public Sale

A. Phillips, of Weston, will sell at public auction, on Thursday, October 13, his live stock, including registered Clydesdales, farm implements, etc.

The sale will commence in the forenoon, beginning at 8 o'clock; a couple of hours will be devoted to speeches, and music will be furnished by the Ladies' Band of Weston. Free lunch at noon.

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute of Portland, Oreg., operates six official institutes in America under supervision of R. R. and Wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details.

FOUR ACRES NETS HIM $1000

Such Is the Record Made By L. J. McIntyre on Poultry.

That there is money to be made in the poultry business in this end of the valley is being demonstrated in a business-like manner by L. J. McIntyre on his four-acre tract located on Grover street, says the Milton Eagle. At the present time Mr. McIntyre has on hand four times as many orders for his Crystal White Orpington chickens as he can fill, and what he has will be sold at prices much above the average, owing to the excellent breeding.

At the present time, there are in the McIntyre pens about 200 young pullets and cockerels ready to be marketed. Last year there were sold from this place 90 pullets at $4 apiece.

The four acres in this farm are fenced and cross-fenced into 11 pens, each with a small house. These are all arranged with the idea of adapting the smallest piece or parcel of ground to the greatest possible use.

The record sales from poultry products on his place last year was better than $1000 and this figure will be surpassed considerably the present year.

Brain of the Bee

In a German scientific periodical E. Jonescu gives the results of his studies of the brain of the bee. As might be expected from its wonderful instincts, this is found to be very complex. The various divisions of the brain, as described in detail, but perhaps the most interesting part is the comparison of the brains of queens, workers, and drones. The worker has a larger brain than the queen, and as the difference between queen and worker is the result of diet during the grub stage it appears that the food which develops size of body and fertility is not best for the growth of brain. The "royal jelly" as a mental stimulant is a failure. In the drone the brain is not larger than in the worker, but the optic lobes are large, corresponding to the large eyes.

Didn't Wait the Attack

At Boulogne during a royal reception some years ago a number of English ladies in their anxiety to see everything pressed with such force against the soldiers who were keeping the line that the soldiers were forced to give way and generally were, as policemen say, "hindered in the execution of their duty." The officer in command, observing the state of affairs, called out: "One roll of the drum! If they don't stand back kiss them all!" After the first sound of the drum the ladies took to flight.

"If they had been French," said a Parisian journal, "they would have remained to a woman."

A Tale of Heroism

"I went for a bath yesterday," said an Auvergnat. "I had been in the water some time when I suddenly perceived an enormous shark advancing toward me with its jaws open. What was I to do? When he was a yard off I dived, took out my pocketknife and ripped up the monster."

"What! Then you are in the habit of bathing with your clothes on," said one of the listeners.—From the French.

Perplexing

Territorial (his first experience as sentry, going over his instructions)—If any one comes along I say: "Halt! Who goes there?" Then he says, "Friend," and I say, "Pass, friend; all's well." But some silly ass'll say, "Enemy," and then I shan't know what to do. Rotten job, I call it.—Punch.

Indignant

The mayor of a small town had come to Leipzig to see the fair. A stranger who had lost his way asked him, "Pray, good honest man, what is the name of this street?" "I am not a good honest man," said the former; "I am the mayor of Marburg."

Squashes Galore.
A 54-pound squash, grown by Andy Weaver and J. E. Fromme on the Cass Cannon acreage tract south of Main street, is the center piece for an attractive window display in the grocery department of the Mosgrove Mercantile store this week. It has companions weighing 52 1-2 and 30 1-2 pounds, respectively.

Child Severs Thumb.
Saturday while playing with a lawn mower, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Reed severed one of the fingers of the left hand. The little one was taken at once to Dr. Sharp, who joined the severed parts and it is now healing nicely.

Big Red Apples.
Some of the finest apples in the land may be seen in David Taylor's orchard. A choice collection of Spokane Beauties were selected by Mr. Taylor and sent to Pendleton for exhibition at the fair.
