DIED IN ALBERTA

Widow of Late James Mosgrove Succumbs to Cancer at Her Home in Nanton—Buried Here Today

Mrs. Mary Mosgrove, widow of the late James Mosgrove, died at her home in Nanton, Alberta, October 15, 1910, and the funeral occurred from the undertaking parlors of N. A. Miller, in this city today, at 2 p. m., interment taking place in the Athena cemetery.

Mrs. Mosgrove has been a sufferer from that dread disease, cancer, for several years, but it was not until about a year and a-half ago that she or her friends knew the nature of her trouble.

Her husband, James Mosgrove, was accidentally killed in a runaway near Nanton, in July of last year, and was brought to this place for burial. It was then that, through the solicitation of her friends she consulted a physician, who at once pronounced the case a hopeless one.

Everything possible was done for her comfort, and she spent several months at the home of Mr. Matt Mosgrove and his sisters, on the Walla Walla river; but becoming homesick, she was taken to her own home at Nanton, Alberta, where she spent the last remaining months of her life with her only daughter, Mrs. Felix Moran.

Mrs. Mosgrove was born in Pennsylvania, where her mother still resides. She leaves but one child, Mrs. Moran. Mr. James Henderson, a cousin of her late husband, left here Sunday for Nanton, to bring the remains to this city, and arrived here last evening. The daughter, who is ill at her home near Nanton, was not able to make the journey, and the funeral ceremonies were conducted there before the departure.

Methodist Episcopal Church.
At the M. E. church Sunday, the following subjects will be considered: Morning "How Many Leaves Have ye?" Evening, "What is a Christian?" A sincere and kind invitation is extended to all, by Thomas Lawson pastor. The Epworth Leaguers are now holding their services in the League room in the M. E. church every Sunday evening 6 p. m. A very interesting meeting was held last Sunday.

Taxation and Suffrage.
Those who advocate woman suffrage are fond of quoting the colonial dictum that taxation without representation is tyranny, and declare that this, one of the "fundamental principles upon which the country was founded," is violated under present circumstances as far as women are concerned. Having no votes, they are not represented in the tax-laying body. Hence, they conclude, here is taxation without representation. The colonists declared that taxation without representation was tyrannical—which was one thing. The suffragists pretend they said that taxation without votes was tyrannical—which is quite another thing. Thousands of men as well as women in this country are taxed without being able to vote. That is the condition of the residents of the District of Columbia. The property of minors is taxed, yet they have no votes. A man may own taxable property in a dozen different states and yet vote in only one. The truth is, that the phrase "taxation without representation" did not refer to individuals at all, but to the dealings of one commonwealth with another. Improved at Small Cost.
The new intake at the head of Weston's water works system has been supplemented by a wing dam of concrete, seven feet in depth, laid on cement gravel and extending 22 feet across the channel of the creek to the intake well. It connects with the bedrock well on the west side of the creek and is expected to catch every drop of water in the stream during the dry season. In fact, Weston's waterworks system is now regarded as about as complete as it can be made, and it is thought will prove wholly adequate and satisfactory. The dam was constructed in three days by Superintendent Snider and a few assistants at a total cost, material and labor of only $48, yet is substantial in every respect.—Leader.

Marion Kees Honored.
W. W. Union: A large company of men were present at the Y. M. C. A. last evening at the banquet given in honor of Marion A. Kees. Mr. Kees who is a former resident of this city and who is a graduate of Whitman has recently been engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in China and returned to this country for the purpose of placing his wife under the best medical treatment possible. She underwent a surgical operation a short time ago which was entirely successful. After the banquet a number of toasts and addresses were given, the chief talk of the evening being by Mr. Kees. Welcome was extended Mr. Kees by Mr. Reynolds, president of the Y. M. C. A. He gave a brief review of Mr. Kees' life. Mr. Kees in his early years lived at Weston and Athena. Later he came to Walla Walla and went through Whitman. After graduating he was in the employ of the college for two years. From this position he went to Portland where he held a position as educational director of the Y. M. C. A. While there he received his appointment to China.

MINISTERS ARE MAGNANIMOUS

Case Against John Vert, Egg Thrower, Dismissed By Request of Assaulted.

John Vert was relieved of the necessity of defending himself upon the charge of throwing the egg which struck Rev. Charles W. Hays of Portland in the face during Friday night's riot in Pendleton when the ministers were endeavoring to hold a Prohibition meeting in the street, following the anti-Prohibition speech by Clarence Darrow.

Upon petition of Dr. Hays and the ministers comprising the Synod of Oregon, of the Presbyterian church, of which the assaulted man is a member, City Attorney J. Roy Raley moved that the case be dismissed. Acting upon the motion of the city attorney, Judge Fitzgerald ordered the charge withdrawn, though announcing that in future persons guilty of such acts would be prosecuted even though he be compelled to employ a prosecutor to do the work. As soon as the case was called City Attorney Raley read the petitions signed by Dr. Hays and Dr. Bleakney as moderator of the synod and stated that in view of these petitions he would move that the case be dismissed.

The assaulted minister requested that the thrower be complimented upon his good marksmanship and then allowed to go with the admonition not to do it again. He stated that he did not bear any malice toward the man whatever.

Talent Recognized.
Athena is proud of some of the talented young people whom she has produced in the past, but in no case is she more so than in one just recently developed. Miss Zelma DePeat, who left here a couple of months ago to attend the Tacoma High school, and who entered as a senior in that institution, has been signally honored in appreciation of her voice. Out of a selected chorus of 200 voices, Miss DePeat has been given leading soprano and is chosen for the solo parts. Her talent is well known here, and her friends are pleased to know that she will continue the cultivation of her voice after her graduation in June.

Prominent Speakers Secured.
County School Superintendent Welles has been notified that the instructors for the annual meeting of the eastern division of the Oregon State Teachers' association which is to be held in La Grande next month, have been secured. They are: President John N. Cook of the North Illinois Normal, Miss Katherine Montgomery of the training department of the Bellingham State Normal School, President Campbell of the University of Oregon, H. A. Adrian of Santa Barbara, California and State Superintendent J. H. Ackerman. A rate of one and a third fare for the round trip has been ordered by the railroad company.

School Piano Arrived.
The new piano for the Athena schools has arrived from Eilers' piano house in Portland, and was this morning installed in the school house.

Don't forget on or before October 24 is your last chance to get good photographic work at Athena. Van Winkle, photographer.

Mrs. Hattie Linsner, of Arlington, was a guest last week of her aunt, Mrs. D. H. Sanders.

MOSES WOODWARD

Honored Pioneer Is Laid to Rest in Walla Walla Cemetery—Hundreds Pay Respect to His Memory.

The funeral services of Moses Woodward, who died at his home in Walla Walla Thursday evening of last week, were held at the Central Christian church in that city Sunday at 11 o'clock, and were in charge of Rev. Joseph D. Armistead. In commenting upon the occasion, the Walla Walla Union says:

The high esteem in which Mr. Woodward was held was evidenced by the large attendance of neighbors and acquaintances from Umatilla county where Mr. Woodward formerly lived near Athena, the attendance from that section including many pioneers who knew the deceased in early life. These together with the general attendance from this city and vicinity filled the church. The floral offerings were numerous and very beautiful.

The pall bearers were chosen from the officers of the church and from neighbors of the pioneer days who are now residents of Walla Walla. They were: E. S. Hornaday, William Scott, John McRae, S. P. Wright, C. H. Whitman, William Gross, J. H. Roulstone and Gus Lindberg. The following is a portion of the biographical sketch prepared and read by Rev. Armistead at the funeral service:

"Moses Woodward was born in Ellsworth, Ohio, July 23, 1832, passing away in his 78th year. At the age of nineteen he crossed the plains with his parents, driving five yoke of oxen, an incident in his life which he always delighted in telling, being one of the few things he referred to in the latter hours of his life when memory was feeble.

"He settled near Salem Oregon, where in October, 1872, he was married to Miss Laura Fletcher. Immediately afterward he and his wife crossed the mountains and settled near what is now Athena.

"Nine years ago Mr. Woodward retired from active work on his farm and came to Walla Walla to live, where he has since made his home.

"In his honest efforts to gather some of this world's goods he met with the hardships of the early days, and like many of the men of those times, he was hard-pressed, but he lived to see the fruits of his labors, and his efforts crowned with success.

"He was always a public spirited man, devoted to the interests of the community, especially in the development of the schools. While he was always known as a moral man, thoroughly just and upright in all his dealings, he did not become a member of the church until he was about sixty years of age. From that time until his death he was an ardent supporter of the church in all its activities, being not only an earnest defender of the truth as he understood it, but a generous supporter of all the interests of the church with his money. In this connection it is appropriate to say that he gave not less than $7500 toward the erection of the Walla Walla Christian church building. The large east window is dedicated to his memory."

MUST GIVE SHIPPERS REBATE

Order Made By Railroad Commission Affecting O. R. & N.

A dispatch from Portland says shippers in eastern Oregon along the lines of the O. R. & N. company will soon divide $150,000 among themselves. This division was made possible through the agency and activity of the transportation department of the Portland Chamber of Commerce and the good work of the Oregon Railroad commission.

An order was made by the state railroad commission affecting the distributive rates of the O. R. & N. from eastern Oregon points, last April. This became effective May 13. The railroad company however refused to abide by the order without a fight. The case came to trial in one court after another who found in favor of the railroad commission and the shippers.

As a result of Wolverton's decision the railroad will be compelled to pay rebates to all shippers who were compelled to pay the old freight rates after the railroad commission had ordered the old rates reduced. It is estimated that the rebates will amount to fully $150,000 and it is understood that the railroad will begin the payment of them within a few days.

M. M. Johns Injured.

News has been received by friends here of a serious accident which befell M. M. Johns, recently. Mr. Johns, who is now residing in Vancouver, Wash., was attempting to ride a motorcycle, which is owned by his son, Melville, and fell in such a manner as to break or crush the hip-bones. The injury is said to be very painful and it is feared that Mr. Johns may be laid up for many weeks to come. His friends here will join the Press in extending sympathy to him in his misfortune, and hope for his speedy recovery.

John Fisher Dead.
John Fisher died recently of typhoid fever at his home in North Battleford, Saskatchewan. For many years Mr. Fisher resided in Athena and Weston neighborhoods, and won the esteem and friendship of those who knew him. For the past eight years he was employed as car inspector on the Canadian Pacific out of Edmonton, Alberta. He was born in Indiana in 1853. Mr. Fisher is survived by a wife and two daughters, Mrs. Isham Davis of Walla Walla and Mrs. Harry Cameron of North Battleford.

Corps of Teachers Complete.

Miss Ethel Fleener, of Lewiston, Idaho, arrived in the city Monday morning and has taken a position in the Athena public school. Miss Fleener has been assigned to teach the 6th and 7th grades and will also have charge of the music. The young lady is a thorough musician and will be an acquisition to the social life of Athena. She is a niece of Mrs. H. H. Hill and will make her home with that lady.

Annual Fair and Supper.

The Ladies Aid society of the Christian church will give their annual fair and supper some time in December. This was definitely decided at their meeting this week. The exact date of the fair has not been determined, but will be announced in the near future with all particulars. These annual affairs are exceedingly popular, and will undoubtedly be liberally patronized this year, as has always been the case in the past.

DEMOCRATS MADE SPEECHES

Arrived in Autos Monday and Were Escorted to Hall By Athena Band.

Despite the heavy rain of Monday morning, the democratic candidates arrived in Athena about 11 o'clock, after having addressed the people of Adams on the political issues of the day. They were met by a number of prominent Athena democrats and, headed by the Athena Band, were led to the opera house where a number of speeches were made.

Among those in the party were Oswald West, candidate for governor; Turner Oliver, candidate for secretary of state; Dr. M. K. Hall, candidate for joint senator; Dr. C. J. Smith candidate for senator; Ben Hill candidate for joint representative; T. J. Tweedy, candidate for county treasurer; Ralph Watson staff correspondent for the Portland Journal; Lee Teutob, Will M. Peterson and a number of other gentlemen whose names were not obtained.

Mr. West is very optimistic concerning the result of the election to be held on November 8, and is sure to win over Bowerman by a substantial majority. He says he was agreeably surprised to find the sentiment in his favor so strong throughout all of eastern Oregon and says there can no longer be any doubt of the result in November.

The party left here for Weston, Milton and Freewater.

Prohibition Speech at Opera House

George H. DeKay, of California, will speak at the Opera House next Sunday evening, at 7:30, the subject of his discourse being "Oregon Dry in 1910." Mr. DeKay is an interesting, entertaining and forceful speaker, and will doubtless be met by a large audience.

Women's Time Schedules.

Few women speak of a train starting slightly off the even hour, as the 3:02 train, for example, or the 3:12 "Three" will do. It bothers a man a heap to go hunting for a 3 o'clock train by feminine directions when it is a 3:12 train. For some women "3" will do for the 2:54 train; it's near enough. Then the man following feminine directions, unless he is on his guard against these pitfalls, is lost. Probably if it weren't for his business training, which teaches a man that 3:02 is not 3, not 3:01, not 3:01½, not 3:01¼, but 3:02, he'd be better nattered about women's time schedules.—Bastion Post

The Soft Answer.

Two men were occupying a double seat in a crowded car. One of them was a long distance whistler and the other was evidently annoyed. "You don't seem to like my whistling?" said the noisy one after a five minute continuous performance. "No, I don't," was the frank reply. "Well," continued the other, "maybe you think you are man enough to stop it?" "No, I don't think I am," rejoined the other, "but I hope you are." And the whistling was discontinued.—Argonaut

Warmth Not Wanted.

"This would be a pleasant world if people put more warmth—genuine warmth—in their letters," said the man of sentiment. "I don't agree with you," replied his worried friend, "there was a warmth about some of the business letters I got this morning that I didn't at all like."
