REPUBLICANS FOR BURGESS

Unanimous Nominee for State Senator's Position Explained.

Umatilla county is a Republican county; it is both right and fitting that it should be represented by a Republican in the State Senate.

Umatilla county is a distinctly agricultural community. In such a community it is both right and fitting that a farmer should represent farmers at Salem.

The only candidate for State Senator who fulfills both these requirements is J. N. Burgess the Unanimous Republican Nominee for that office.

But there has been an impression in some people's minds that Mr. Burgess is not the right man for the office because it was only comparatively recently that he filed a formal statement with the county clerk declaring that he accepted and would support Statement Number One and the Direct Primary law.

However, this was incorrect, for Mr. Burgess has always been in favor of what the law represents. Statement Number One is a declaration tion by the candidate for office that he will vote for the people's choice for United States Senator.

J. N. Burgess

Now "Newt" Burgess has always done this.

In 1903 he was in the memorable legislative session as representative of Wasco county. That year T. T. Geer was the people's choice for United States Senator.

Mr. Burgess did not like Mr. Geer; he did not approve of him; yet that made no difference with what he felt to be his duty.

This was before Statement Number One was even talked of but he consistently voted for Geer right through the long session. But the machine was forcing Charley Fulton on the legislature; Burgess headed a revolt and continued to push the name of Geer, the people's choice.

But it was no use. All could see that Geer was defeated, so in a last desperate effort to save the day for the people Mr. Burgess voted for Harvey W. Scott.

Mr. Burgess has been charged of making a "death bed repentance." Does the action of Mr. Burgess in 1903 look as if he needed any "repentance?"

His action was that of a man scrupulously honest, who did his duty. At that time Mr. Burgess saw that voting for the people's choice gave a chance for the machine to get in, so he has always considered the Statement not so much as an oath for a man to take, by which he should be bound, but more as a statement of advice.

However, at the Primary election the people of Oregon made it emphatic by a majority of 75 percent that they considered the statement binding.

As soon thereafter as was possible Mr. Burgess wrote out a formal statement and deposited it with County Clerk Saling.

As an honest farmer, and an honest man, there is not one right thinking man in Oregon, believes "Newt" Burgess will violate his pledge.

Mr. Burgess has made his attitude clear but if there is any Republican voter who would like a personal pledge, he has only to write to Mr. Burgess to obtain it.

Mr. Burgess is not an Assembly man, although he is charged with being one.

He is not an Assembly nominee but was the unanimous nominee for the farmers and business men of Umatilla county who are republican voters.

He is known from one end of the county to the other. He is opposed to the tactics of his opponent, Dr. C. J. Smith, who for eight years has consistently misrepresented Umatilla county.

Mr. Burgess is a farmer and a wool grower. He is in favor of good roads and will act accordingly. Although his opponent voted for the Crater Lake national road and helped to vote $50,000 for that road, he has never done a thing to improve or better the roads for the Umatilla county farmer.

As a citizen Mr. Burgess has been public spirited always. The farmer knows that in Mr. Burgess he will find a man who can sympathize with his troubles always—and who will do more to help to alleviate them.

The citizens of this, an agricultural county, can do no less than send a man who will truly represent them to the State Senate. Such a man is J. N. Burgess.
