BATTLE WITH LION

FIGHTS VICIOUSLY WHEN KEEPERS TRIED TO MOVE HIM.

Secretary Objected to Being Sold, But Finally Succumbed and Was Dragged Into a Transferring Cage.

New York.—The lion Secretary, a Cape buffalo and two lions of the Central park menagerie were shipped to William Bartels of Newark recently, for a consideration, which included two eelands, two taptis and a pair of ostriches.

It was one of the busiest afternoons Headkeeper Snyder and his assistants ever put in, but finally all the animals, in their respective shipping cages, were loaded on wagons and carted away.

Everything went smoothly until the attempt was made to inveigle Secretary, who was born in the lion house about seven years ago, into his shipping cage. Secretary did not want to go, and it took an hour and a quarter of pushing, pulling and fighting to overcome the spirit of one of the meanest lions in the menagerie.

With all the doors and windows barred, and hundreds of persons surrounding the lion house, the work of getting Secretary from his cage was begun. Rose and Bismarck, the mother and father of Secretary, in adjoining cages, lashed themselves into a fury while their big offspring was hurling himself against the bars of his cage in an endeavor to get at the keepers. The lion did not care to march into the trap. He would put his head in the open door of the shifting cage, snuff once or twice, and with a great roar would lurch against the bars and rush to the rear of his cage.

After half an hour of prodding had shown that the animal could not be transferred that way into the cage, "Bill" Snyder decided to try a noose. By this time the lion had worn itself out, and was lying in a corner as docile as a cat.

The noose was slipped over Secretary's head, and then, while three men pulled and three men pushed, and "Bill" did the bossing, in went the lion, like a lump of lead, to the furthest part of the transferring cage. The beast was so exhausted it could not move.

This lion, named Secretary because he seemed to have an interest in everything transpiring in every other cage in the lion house, has been the first always to announce the daily rations and the last to subside when anything unusual had happened to mar the serenity of his surroundings. "Bill" said he was sorry to part with him, but there would soon have to be some room made for the three cuba He weighs in the neighborhood of 400 pounds, and was considered one of the best specimens in the Central park collection. His value is said to be about $1,700.

The two eelands were received at the zoo earlier in the afternoon. They are the only ones in the Central park collection. In the last ten days two of these animals have been received by the New York Zoological society, coming from the Arctic of Devonshire.

Valuable Assistance.
Children always love to have a "finger in the pie" and to help with whatever is going on. When mother or nurse does everything for them they are deprived of a great deal of pleasure and will not be so well fitted to struggle for themselves when the time comes as they would have been if they had been accustomed to do things for themselves. They should be encouraged to be useful and to assist with any preparations that may be going on.

Mary's Revenge.
Mary was a little girl who did not like to wait, but one day her mother, having several guests, Mary was made to wait anyway, so just about the time dinner was under good headway, she poked her little curly head in at the dining-room door and said: "I don't care if I do have to wait; that was an old sick turkey, anyhow."
—Norman E. Mack's National Monthly.

Complainers.
What is odious but noise, and people who scream and bewail! People whose vane points always east, who live to dine, who send for the doctor, who coddle themselves, who toast their feet on the register, who intrigue to secure a padded chair and a corner out of the draught. Suffer them once to begin the enumeration of their infirmities, and the sun will go down on the unfeathered tale.—Emerson.

Humor in Signs.
A New York shop exhibits a card warning everybody against unscrupulous persons "who infringe our title to deceive the public." The shopman does not quite say what he means, any more than the proprietor of an eating house, on the door of which may be read the following announcement, conveying fearful intelligence to the gallant tars who frequent port: "Sailors' vitals cooked here."

Our War.
The war we wage must be waged against misconduct, against wrongdoing wherever it is found; and we must stand heartily for the rights of every decent man, whether he be a man of great wealth or a man who earns a livelihood as a wage worker or a tiller of the soil.—Theodore Roosevelt.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

The Great American Pie.
Steak, salad, fish, potatoes in all forms, may be thrown into the furnace in a huddle, but when the close of his repeat approaches, when the pie hour is about to strike, it is the duty of every true American to reflect. Then he should attack the pie firmly but reverently, never in the spirit of one who runs a race.

Helping Her Out.
"Have you a young chicken? I am rather green at cooking."
"Such being the case, madam, don't you think you'd better have an old, experienced fowl?"—Courier Journal.

Labor.
If it were not for labor men could neither eat so much nor relish so pleasantly nor sleep so soundly nor be so healthful nor so useful, so strong nor so patient, so noble or so untempered.—Jeremy Taylor.

Lavender and rose perfumes are credited with the virtue of being microbe killers.

In the forty years, 1868 to 1908, Japan's yearly foreign trade increased from $13,000,000 to $407,000,000.
There are about 3,000 weddings every twenty-four hours, taking the entire world into consideration.
A metal seat, hinged and suspended by chains from a window casing, has been patented by an Ohio man for window cleaners as well as for use as a shelf on which food may be placed to cool.

For the college girl a Norfolk suit is just the thing. Honespun seems to fit the style better than most materials, and this one of brown had a collar of lighter brown velvet. It was belted in a very businesslike way with brown leather.

A PHASE OF SPRING.
The Wandering Orchestra a Feature Which Pleases Nearly Everyone.
The season of the year has come when the wandering orchestra goes around, cornet, clarinet and barytone, and last but not least the big bass horn, says the New York Sun. Cornet may shriek and clarinet creak and then barytone soften things some, but for grand effects, vast thunder in tone, all depends on the big bass horn.
Hear its rumble and rebound, its swelling surge of sound, its deep and mighty cough—ah! Let the cornet squeak and the clarinet beat and the barytone mildly ponder—lost, all lost, submerged and swallowed up in the bass horn's mighty thunder.
Spring is the season when the wandering band comes, when the weather mellows and people open their windows, and generally it seeks the interior courts of flats and apartment houses, where its audience flatters itself with the fancy that this is a private concert given to it alone and is willing to pay accordingly.
But the band has its vicissitudes. Sometimes it is cut off abruptly in the middle of the first number by an obdurate janitor who comes in and says "Skiddoo!" Sometimes somebody looks out of a window and says softly, "Sh-h! You mustn't play here. Somebody sick." Then as the news works around to all the players the music peters out with a wail; but commonly the band is welcome, and now the cornet screams, and now, now hear the big bass horn, with avalanche-like reverberations within those enclosing walls.
Loud as it is ever, yet for some reason or other it always sounds loudest now in the spring. This may be because people have missed it through the winter, and now it comes as something new, but the more likely reason is that the bass horn man stores up thunder in the winter, which he turns loose in greatest volume in the vernal season, when he first brings the horn into play.
Be that as it may, there is no sound that so appeals to people as that of the big bass horn, in whose deep and billowing and all pervading roar Niagars and Vesuvius are combined.
Java coffee growing is now being introduced into Porto Rico to meet the American demand for a "highly flavored aromatic coffee."
Pellagra and malaria, which are much alike, are being successfully combated by the government in Italy.
Siam buys more sewing machines from America than from Great Britain, Germany, Belgium and France combined.

Peculiar Excuse.
A teacher in a girls' school recently had the following excuse for absence handed her by one of her pupils: "It gives me much pleasure to write to you because I have a worryment, and you should please excuse my Annie, who does not come by you because she has to go to the hospital with her sister's sore eyes."

Not a drop of Alcohol
Doctors prescribe very little, if any, alcohol these days. They prefer strong tonics and alteratives. This is all in keeping with modern medical science. It explains why Ayer's Sarsaparilla is now made entirely free from alcohol. Ask your doctor. Follow his advice.

Ayer's
Unless there is daily action of the bowels, poisonous products are absorbed, causing headache, biliousness, nausea, dyspepsia. We wish you could ask your doctor about correcting your constipation by taking laxative doses of Ayer's Pills.

Adjustment.
Divorce is increasing, insanity is increasing, parental authority is declared to be prostrate, the boy is not what he was! Surely we must be heading for the bow-wow, and progressing fast. Not at all. We are merely getting adjusted to the greatest changes in the conditions of human existence that any one generation of men has seen in centuries. And possibly it is true that high prices of food are helping our adjustment by driving some city dwellers back into the country.—Harper's Weekly.

Lots of Fun.
The sweet little sole sister of a large family was asked if she didn't have a lot of fun with the big brothers who were at once her slaves and tyrants, her adoring and adored. "Yes'm," came the surprising response, accompanied by a seraphic smile, "we have lots of fun always. Sometimes," the wide eyes waxing fascinatingly reminiscent and dreamy, "sometimes they fight me, an' sometimes I fight them!"

He Made a Hit.
Binkley—"My gracious, old man, you are all banged up." Crankleigh—"You have hit it." Binkley—"What did you do—dispute the right of way with an automobile?" Crankleigh—"No. Took a drop too much." Binkley—"Why, I didn't know you drank." Crankleigh—"I don't. The drop I took was from an aeroplane 20 feet from the ground."

Seasickness Nothing New.
One of the most curious errors as to seasickness is that it is a suffering which the sturdier ancients did not know. Really there is plenty of allusion to the trouble in the ancient classics. Above all there was that bout of seasickness which, according to Seneca, cost Cicero his life. It was so bad that rather than endure it any longer he put back to land, risking certain death at the hands of Mark Antony's agents if they caught him, as they did. The word "nausea" is Greek, meaning literally "shipplenee."
