Dr. L. Deil came near being the victim of a careless rifle shot yesterday afternoon. Dr. Deil was in the act of leaving an upstairs room in his home, when a 25-35 rifle bullet came whizzing through the window, passing near his head. The bullet struck the wall and fell on top of a stand. It has the appearance of having struck some hard object before finding lodgment in the Dell home and was fired from a gun in the hands of some careless person in the east part of town, or probably in the Kirk field. Such carelessness is entirely inexcusable, and if permitted to continue will result in some one being killed.

THE WHITE WASH.

Its Presence on the Hudson Bay Company's Boat Explained.

It is or was a rule of the Hudson Bay company that no woman be allowed passage on its boats. One day some years ago as a steamer of the company neared one of the northernmost ports a string of white garments was seen stretched across the deck. The watchers were amazed, for to them the wash line suggested only the presence of a woman aboard the boat.

Comment was freely made of the scandal that would ensue and the shakeup that would follow. When the boat docked the line of washing had disappeared—still another proof of the scandal.

Later one of the landsmen said to the captain:

"Why, how did it happen that you carried a woman passenger this trip?"

"There was never a woman along the whole voyage," was the indignant answer. "What do you mean?"

"If there was no woman aboard where did all that white wash come from?" was the triumphant reply.

The captain looked puzzled for a moment, and then he laughed.

"Oh," he said, "and didn't we have Lord Strathcona, the governor himself, along with us on this trip? And every day doesn't he insist on having his clean white shirt, no matter how far north we are? That's the white wash you saw struck along deck. And, what's more, doesn't his lordship insist upon having his London paper laid out on his table every morning, no matter how far he is from London?"
