AWFUL.

The Trust Magnate—They tell me that I am accused of being two-faced.

The Silver Lining.
"Anyway," remarked the optimist, "there is one good feature about the tariff on wool."
"Huh!" sneered the pessimist. "I'd like to know what it is."
"Why," rejoined the optimist. "It will make it more expensive for the wolf to masquerade in sheep's clothing."

Kow-Kure

is not a "food"—It is a medicine, and the only medicine in the world for cows only. Made for the cow and, as its name indicates, a cow cure. Barrenness, retained afterbirth, abortion, scours, caked udder, and all similar affections positively and quickly cured. No one who keeps cows, whether many or few, can afford to be without Kow-Kure. It is made especially to keep cows healthy. Our book, "What to Do When Your Cows Are Sick," sent free. Ask your local dealer for Kow-Kure, or send to the manufacturers, Dairy Association Co., Lyndonville, Vt.

HALIBUT.

Halibut is the "holy but" or sound er. The flounder plaice or but was called holy, it is supposed, because it was chiefly used as food on the fast days of the church. "Hollyhook" is the holy hook or mallow, which got that name because it was brought from Palestine.

One of Tom Hood's Last Jokes.
Shortly before his death, being visited by a clergyman whose features as well as language were more lugubrious than consoling, Hood looked up at him compassionately and said, "My dear sir, I am afraid your religion doesn't agree with you."—From Planche's Reminiscences.

"Salt River."
That imaginary stream called "Salt river," up which defeated candidates are supposed to be rowed, is one of the most felicitous of all our political Americanisms, although its authority is unknown.

VALUE OF PINEAPPLE JUICE.

Delightful Drink is Now to Be Had in Convenient Form.

The man who thinks out and brings out a new food preparation usually has to create the "long-felt want" which he fills. In tackling the pineapple juice problem, no such difficulty confronted James D. Dole, of Honolulu.

When we eat pineapple it is for the juice alone, and less fibrous and more tender the fruit, the juicier it is and the better we like it.

When the doctor orders pineapple in cases of throat trouble or certain stomach and intestinal difficulties it is the pure, uncooked juice pressed from the ripest obtainable fruit which he wants his patient to have. It is this same refreshing juice which the nurse gives fever convalescents where cooling and slightly acid drinks are desirable. So pineapple juice already had a place.

The problem then, to be solved, was how to get the pure juice of pineapple on the market in such a form that it would please the healthy lover of the fruit, and be useful to the doctor and the nurse. A syrup would not do, because of the impossibility of suiting individual tastes. Even the juice of the finest Hawaii canned pineapple would not answer with its small quantity of preservative pure cane sugar, because the physician needs to regulate the amount of sugar prescribed. To make a long story short, Mr. Dole spent years in experiments which finally resulted in the Hawaii Pineapple Juice which bears his name.

Dole's is the Juice of "Picked Ripe" Hawaiian Pineapples pressed out and bottled on the Islands where the fruit grows. Filtered, refined, sterilized in the bottle, retaining all the natural flavor and aroma, not a bit of sugar, water, preservative, or anything else is added. It has been four months on the market. During this time the Juice has been distributed all over the United States, in some parts in ample quantities, while in others the supply has been very restricted.

Its success has been most gratifying and unprecedented.

In its favor were the previous favorable reception of Hawaiian Pineapple, the general knowledge of its high quality, the therapeutic values of pineapple juice known to the medical profession, and the remarkable product itself. So, four months have sufficed to give this new drink a large hold upon the people of the country until the demand is practically unlimited.

Ultra-Swell.

Little Madge of Shantytown is no so fortunate as her well-dressed sisters and is often forced to wear her mother's "hand me downs." When she appeared out on the river pier in a skirt that was so long she could scarcely walk all the gamins started to jeer her. "Get onto de umbrella cover she has on," bantered Jimmy Finn. "What do yer call it, anyhow, Madge?"

And Madge elevated her little snupped nose and retorted: "Get some sense about yer, Jimmy Finn, an' read de Paris styles once in a while. Dis is one of de new 'hobble skirts.'"

Melodrama.

As the eighteen-carat villain leaped down from the pastboard castle the beautiful heroine gave a shriek of despair.

"Harold McDuff!" she moaned, as the great crystal tears welled in her eyes, "you have been my undoing!"

Turning as white as a summerboarding house sheet, the eighteen-carat villain vanished among the paper foliage. And the beautiful heroine spoke the truth.

By stepping on the train of her gown the arch conspirator had loosened two tiny hooks up near the neck.
