Oh, Clarissa, dear, wasn't it a hummer?
And that good natured Walla Walla bunch—even they, too, got their money's worth—and then some. Good losers, every one of 'em.
The Bears came to town loaded for bear, and a good time. But they didn't take anything home with them but the good time; they left the game right here in this old town, and they were as cheerful about it as a bunch of canaries, reports from elsewhere to the contrary notwithstanding.
Aside from a couple of decisions by Ump Van Winkle, they liked it all, and said so, and played the game from a to z in every stanza except the eighth, but—well that's farther along in the story. So let's hit a little.
With Mr. "Hunky" Shaw, Mr. Johnson and another Mr. or two, Aug was properly "fixed" for the Millers—on paper, only.
For.
Mr. Walter Frink, the man who caused all kinds of guesses and on whom nobody had the right dope, was on the mound for Athena. By some he was said to be a soldier from Vancouver; Walla Walla had him on their badges as Hollis, and he pitched under the name of Smith. And he pitched a swell game—so swell that after his tryout he had no trouble in getting in with Roll Brown at the "Fannery," and will henceforth make his home in Athena.
He was pitted against Hanson,

Walla Walla's clever twirler, who started right off the reel by fanning Clark and Pelland, after Walla Walla had been retired in the first in 1, 2, 3 order.
Harmon scored for the Bears in the second when he got a scratch single, stole second and went to third when Frink dropped Seachrist's pop-up and crossed the platter on Lankard's hit. Then the Millers came back in their half with three runs. Picard teat out an infield hit and stole second; Brown went out, Beck to Shaw. Lienallen was safe on Beck's error, Picard going to third. Bundy laced out a two sacker, Picard scoring. Then Frink showed himself to be ducks with the stick, by finding Hanson for a bingle, which scored Lienallen and Bundy. Then Walla Walla tied it up in the third when Blackman and Beck scored. Blackman's third strike getting away from Brown, two singles, a stolen base and an error letting the runs over.
Then the two teams, working like machines, and the pitchers buzzing over their offerings in mid-season style, it was in again, out again until Hanson weakened in the eighth, and the persimmon was plucked and pickled. DePeatt, who had been easy for Hanson all the afternoon, fanned for the third time and it looked like an extra inning affair, was to be dished up. But nay, nay, Pauline—what did Frink do but break up the aspirations of Mr. Hanson by stepping into a corking smash that went for only two bases just because a home run was prevented by a messy fence post getting in front of the ball. However, the bingle was contagious, for Owens and Pelland singled in succession, which with the aid of a fielder's choice and Siegrist's error, let three runs over.
The Bears gave no trouble in the ninth, Lankard going out, Frink to Clark, while Hanson and Beck fanned. The score book says:

Weston shut out Echo, 4 to 0, in the irrigation town Sunday.
Pendleton received a terrible flogging by the Milton Bull Dogs in Sunday's game. On 12 hits only, Milton accumulated a total of 20 runs while Pendleton got 8 safe bingles and 6 runs.
Milton comes to Athena Sunday; Weston goes to Walla Walla and Echo to Pendleton.
Catcher Kaebe had his bum finger hurt in the Echo game.
Bade and "Hunky" Shaw fished on Tucanon this week, and Bade caught a trout 23 inches long. The Union says he used a sack of Athena flour for bait.
Manager Littlejohn attended a meeting of the league directors at Pendleton last night. The action of the league officials resulted in the retention of Shaw and other players on the Walla Walla team, and Frink on the Athena team. Evidently the officials favor giving the public the best ball possible.
Athena High school defeated Dayton High in this city Saturday by a score of 6 to 5. Both teams used players not entitled to play under interscholastic ruling.
