Upon the announcement of the decision, Col. J. H. Raley for the opposition, immediately appealed the case to the circuit court. Judge James A. Fee represented the faction fighting for the road.

The second lecture in the series given by A. Mackenzie Meldrum at the Christian church, took place Wednesday evening, with Scotland as the subject. This seemed to be keenly appreciated by the large audience which greeted the lecturer and especially to a student of Scottish history and literature were the views of the old feudal castles, the historical lochs, crags and battlefields interesting in the extreme. Mr. Meldrum promises at least two more lectures on Scotland and her literature during the series. The next will be either on Greece or Rome, and will be on Wednesday evening of next week.

Jack Wright, one of the best known and most popular locomotive engineers in the employ of the O. W. R. & N., met with a horrible accident at Pendleton Wednesday. Wright was on his annual vacation, and attempting to board a moving train for Portland, fell under the wheels and lost both legs, one being crushed below the knee and the other above the ankle. The injured man was taken to the hospital and it is thought he will survive the shock. He has had the Pendleton Starbuck run on the Spokane passenger services for years, and is personally known to several Athena people.

TRAPPING EAGLES.

The Chinese Get Them With a Baited Net and a Decoy Bird.

Every year, according to an old custom, in the second quarter of the September or October moon, the inhabitants of the Chinese province of Shantung go to Mongolia to hunt the eagles which abound in that region. The hunters march in troops along the roads, carrying on their shoulders long poles from which are suspended their baggage and provisions and on which are perched tame eagles to be used as decoys.

The hunters make use of a large net, spread open on the ground and baited with small dried fishes. In the midst of which is placed a tame eagle. The decoy naturally begins to devour the bait and thus invites its wild cousins to follow its example. When the birds have alighted and are feeding the hunter, from his hiding place two or three hundred yards distant, quickly closes the net by means of cords and thus captures the eagles.

Eagle hunting is very lucrative. The fowls are used in the manufacture of fans and are sold at a high price even in China. There are three sorts—Kieck, black with white centers; Chema, white spotted with black; Toutsing, half white and half black. Several eagles contribute to the making of a fan, for only a small part of the plumage can be utilized; hence these fans are very costly.

Adjustable 2-Collar Coat

OUR "Miller-Made" Adjustable "Two-Collar" Coat is really two coats—a handsome dress coat and a snug protector coat—but both in one for the price of one.

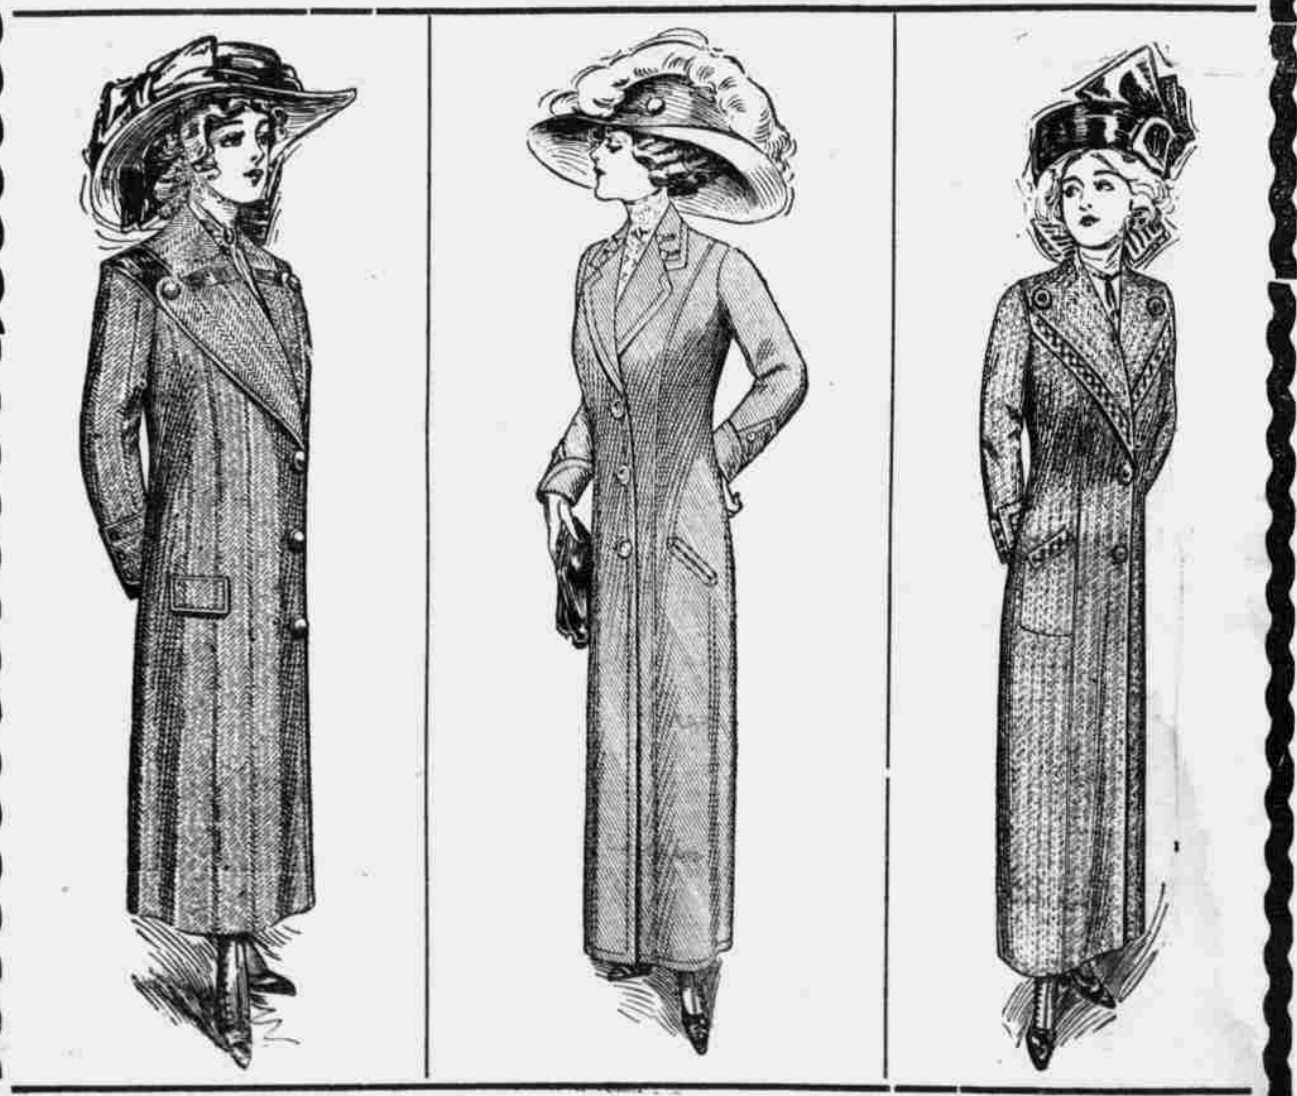

We have this coat in a number of different styles of "Miller-Made" Overcoats and Raincoats, such as Regular Fly-front coats, single and double breasted button-through coats, button-through and Fly-front 50 and 52-inch raincoats and the double breasted Auto coats. And in addition to being any one of these styles, a "Two-Collar" Coat can be had lined with regular serge lining, or you can select a plaid-lined one, with a fine silk yoke quarter lining over the shoulders, or you can have it unlined, made of fancy "plaid-back" fabrics with a silk yoke lining over the shoulders, and with bellows pockets. Just say "Two-Collar" and we'll show you a great coat.

BASE BALL PLAYER IN TROUBLE

Walter Frink Sentenced to Pen From Chehalis on Burglary Charge.

Walter Frink, the ball player, has been committed to the Washington state penitentiary on the charge of burglary. The following dispatch from Chehalis, Wash., appeared in the Portland papers Monday: "Early Sunday morning Frink, who pitched for Chehalis in the state league this year, tried to break into a hardware store of the Fred Dunbar company and was caught in the act by Night Officer John Parr. Parr had been to the fire for some time and left there about 2:30 o'clock to make the rounds of the city. He started down the alley between Chehalis and Pacific avenues just in time to catch Frink in the act of trying to enter the store by way of a rear window. The latter jumped and started to run, but was compelled to stop and put his hands up. He begged Parr to give him another chance, as he said he was drunk and did not know what he was doing. Frink was arraigned before Judge Rice this morning and pleaded guilty to attempted robbery in the second degree and was sentenced to the penitentiary for from one to five years with recommendations for one year only."

Do You Want a Position

All schools are not alike, and especially in helping students to a position. Do not overlook this point.

PENDLETON BUSINESS COLLEGE cannot supply the bills received for stenographers and bookkeepers and has several good positions in view.

Students from other business colleges are attending this school. What does this prove? That we give the best. Nothing else would satisfy us. Nothing else should satisfy you.

Bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting and all business subjects practically and thoroughly taught. Lectures on commercial law by a practicing attorney. Day and evening classes. School opens September 4th. Will not wait. Decide now. For particulars write, or phone Black 782.
