Knees Became Stiff

Five Years of Severe Rheumatism

The cure of Henry J. Goldstein, 14 Barton Street, Boston, Mass., is another victory by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mr. Goldstein says: "I suffered from rheumatism five years, it kept me from business and caused excruciating pain. My knees would become as stiff as steel. I tried many medicines without relief, then took Hood's Sarsaparilla, soon felt much better, and now consider myself entirely cured. I recommend Hood's." Get it today in any liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

Dog Days.

Dog days is the name applied to the heated season of the year at the time of the heliacal rising of Sirius, the dog star; that is, the time when it rose just before the sun. They usually lasted for about 40 days. We still retain the expression of dog days as applied to the hottest season of the year, but owing to the procession of the equinoxes it is no longer the time of the heliacal rising of the dog star.

Does Away With Poising.

The latest craze among the Berlin smart set is having one's portrait sketched or painted while asleep. The craze was started by an Austrian aristocrat, Countess Czizick, who, according to a current story, fell asleep while waiting in the atelier of a well-known painter. The painter found the countess so charming as she slumbered that he drew her in that condition. The portrait was a great success.

BLUE! BLUE! BLUE!

Blue that's all blue. RED CROSS BALL BLUE delights the laundress. A wash day necessity. Once tried, always used. A standard bluing for 20 years.

More satisfactory than liquid blue, and more economical because it is not 4-5 water. Easily handled and cannot spill. Price, 10 cents. ASK THE GROCER.

Game From Africa.

A special train recently left Nairobi containing a record shipment of wild animals, intended for a menagerie at Hamburg. The game was collected by a hunting party in British and German East Africa. It embraced eight giraffes, eleven hippopotami, two rhinoceroses, twelve waterbucks, seven wildebeests, three hartebeests, nineteen bushbuck, nineteen reedbuck and about fifty antelopes and gazelles.—Daily Consular and Trade Reports.

Father's Fairy Friends.

Out in Swarthmore, where everybody is unusually bright and clever, a little girl was asked by a visitor who is spending the summer at Strath Haven Inn if she knew anything about fairies, relates the Philadelphia Times. "Oh, indeed I do," promptly responded the little eight-year-old. "They're particular friends of papa, but mamma doesn't like 'em, and every time she's angry with father she scolds him for associating with them."

Originally Color Bearers.

Ensign is a word formed from the idea of the display of insignia, badge or device and was formerly used where we now employ the word colors. The company officers in a regiment who were, until late years, termed ensigns were, at a still earlier period, more correctly termed "ensign bearers."

Composition of Precious Stones.

The refraction of the opal is due to the amount of water in its composition and contraction fissures in the stone, but similar characteristics are found in other stones where films cause diffraction. The opalescence of the moonstone is caused by the enormous number of planes of separation in the stone, light being totally reflected from these planes.

Ancestral Pride of the Future.

"One of my forefathers was a signer of the Declaration of Independence," "That is something," replied Mrs. Votey Gumm. "But think of the proud satisfaction with which my great-great-granddaughters will point to the fact that one of their foremothers was a militant suffragette."

One Explanation.

There are men who are startlingly successful as cheap politicians, and for the life of us we can not tell why, unless it be the wind bloweth where it listeth, and that from them the wind bloweth loud even though no one listeth long.—Exchange.

Alice, the Traveler.

A successful Chicago man of the self-made variety having purchased a fine library by the foot was showing it with some pride to a friend of literary attainments.

The self-made man ran his business on the card index system and his library with the same degree of method. Cases were marked plainly, "Travel," "Art," "Poetry," "Science," etc.

Occupying a prominent place in the "Travel" case the friend noticed a very handsome volume with the title in gold letters on the back, "Alice in Wonderland."—Youth's Companion.

WHAT I WENT THROUGH

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it had worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. It will help others who may publish my letter."—Mrs. NATHAN B. GREAZON, 51 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.

PRINCE MIGHT GET SHOT

But Mrs. Pattison Was Willing Her Husband Should Face the Burglar Alone.

Mr. and Mrs. Pattison awakened suddenly. Both thought the noise came from the basement.

"Better go and see what that is," said his wife uneasily. "It may be a burglar!"

"Oh, I hardly think it's a burglar," Pattison said as he turned over in bed.

"Yes," his wife returned, "but then it might be. Oughtn't you to go and investigate?"

Pattison never had gone in much for burglar chasing, but he wasn't afraid of a burglar. Or if he was wasn't going to let his wife know it. He arose from his bed and strode bravely forth, stubbing his great toe as he did so.

Then he paused to think what would be the best way to approach the burglar. He thought and thought and by and by a thought came out. He would call little Prince, Mrs. Pattison's pet dog, and have him go on ahead and bark an occasional bark.

"Then," thought Pattison, "if there really is a burglar in the basement like as not he'll run before I get there."

Prince up to that time didn't know there was a burglar around.

Pattison called the dog softly: "Heh, Prince," he whispered, "heh! heh!"

Mrs. Pattison heard the hoarse whisper for the dog. "Why, George," she exclaimed in alarm, "you're surely not going to take Prince down with you after the burglar!"

"Why, er—ah—the fact is," bluffed Pattison, "I thought if I took the dog along he might help me find the burglar."

"Yes," retorted his wife, "but Prince might get shot!"

TOOK TOO MUCH FOR GRANTED

How Sir Andrew Clarke, by Hasty Prescription, Taught Patient to Smoke.

The late Sir Andrew Clarke was so ardent in his crusade against overeating and overdrinking, and so firm in his belief that in a large majority of cases diet would do far more than drugs, that he was a little too much inclined to take it for granted that his patients were self-indulgent to the ruin of their health. Among the many anecdotes to which his views gave rise the following is one of the most amusing:

A patient came to consult him and was at once overwhelmed with directions on the subject of the life he should lead and the diet to which he should adhere.

"Now, remember, only one glass of wine at each meal," the physician concluded, "and just one cigar after dinner won't hurt you. Good morning. Be sure you keep strictly to one cigar."

"One cigar!" said the patient.

"My dear sir," broke in Sir Andrew, somewhat testily, "I must insist. If I am to treat you, you must follow my directions. I know quite well you will find it hard, but it is absolutely necessary for your health."

The patient heaved a deep sigh.

"All right, Sir Andrew. Since you insist, I will do my best. Good morning."

He went his way, but his health did not improve, and at the end of a few weeks he returned to the physician's consulting room.

"No better?" said the doctor, surprised. "But have you followed all my directions?"

"Absolutely," replied the visitor. "I must admit that the cigar was rather hard work at first, and in fact it made me feel ill, but I soon got used to it, and now I rather like it."

"Good heavens!" said Sir Andrew, on whom the truth dawned; "do you mean to tell me—"

"Yes, I had never smoked before,"—London Telegraph.

The late Sylvanus Miller, civil engineer, who was engaged in railroad enterprises in Central America, was seeking local support for a road, and attempted to give the matter point. He asked a native: "How long does it take you to carry your goods to market by mule pack?" "Three days," was the reply. "There's the point," said Miller. "With our road in operation you could take your goods to market and be back home in one day." "Very good, senior," answered the native. "But what would we do with the other two days?"

Coffee to Relieve Fatigue.

The question is sometimes asked: What will relieve fatigue more quickly than anything else? Clerks in stores and men generally as well as women shoppers become at times very tired. Fortunately the British army has thrashed the question out and tried every kind of decoction that could be thought of, and we may profit by their experience. They award the palm to coffee, and declare it has neither superior nor equal for this purpose.

Did Horse Seek Death?

Can a horse commit suicide? This theory is brought forward through a singular affair at Brighouse, England. About a week ago a horse fell into a pond in the vicinity of the Brighouse cricket field, and it was got out after two hours of strenuous exertion. A day or two later the horse found its way to the same pond, and this time met with its death. Brighouse people are asking if the horse went there purposely.

An Early Award.

"Do you think there is anything creditable in that man Skinnum's past?" "Well," replied the discreet man, "I understand that somewhere among his effects he has a mug with the sentence 'For a Good Boy' printed on it in gilt letters. But, of course, I have no way of knowing how he came by it."

Stomach Blood and Liver Troubles

Much sickness starts with weak stomach, and consequent poor, impoverished blood. Nervous and pale-people look good, rich, red blood. Their stomachs need invigorating for, after all, a man can be no stronger than his stomach. A remedy that makes the stomach strong and the liver active, makes rich red blood and overcomes and drives out disease-producing bacteria and cures a whole multitude of diseases.

Get rid of your Stomach Weakness and Liver Laziness by taking a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—the great Stomach Restorative, Liver Invigorator and Blood Cleanser.

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Metaphorical Zoology.

The latest mixed metaphor comes from France, and is worthy of being placed on record. The occasion of it was a dock strike at Rochefort, the dockers being filled with indignation because the authorities refused them a fortnight's holiday on full pay, and this is how their spokesman rendered the ancient sentiment that worms will turn. "Even the feeble sheep," he exclaimed, "when the fierce blasts of indignation make its fleece bristle up on end, feels that it must turn out its talons and scratch."—Fall Mall Gazette.

Singular.

We noted yesterday the drowning of a boy named Johnny Ward in Mill river, and stated his body had not been found. That night a man who is familiar with the circumstances of the case had a dream in which he saw the boy, so he states, clinging to a post under a building. Yesterday a careful search for the body was made, and it was found under Daniels' mill, on Mill street, the arms of the lad firmly clasped about a piece of timber used for a support to the building. The finding of the body in the position as seen in the dream is singular. —Hartford Courant.

A pin scratch may cause blood poison, a rusty nail cut is very apt to do so. Hamm's Wizard Oil used at once draws out all infection and makes blood poison impossible.

Clara Barton's Splendid Work.

America owes its Red Cross almost entirely to one woman—Clara Barton. While resting in Europe, after her arduous work during the civil war, she learned of Mr. Durant, read his book, looked into the treaty, saw its application in the wars then pending, and came home determined that her own country should ratify the treaty and put it to good use. Said Miss Barton: "If we had adopted the Red Cross idea in the Civil War Andersonville, with its 10,000, would never have stained our record."

Constipation causes and seriously aggravates many diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. Tiny sugar-coated granules.

Purists Up in Arms.

The purists are now objecting to the use of such modern terms as "drammer" for commercial traveler, "sleep'er" for sleeping car, "hard up," "on the go" and so on. They also oppose the phrase, "an awfully pretty girl" on the ground that beauty never produces awe in the beholder.

Just Like That.

"I shall not permit you," he declared, "to trample on my love with impunity." "I shall not do it," she saucily replied, for she had just been invited to go to dinner with the son of a Pittsburgh millionaire. "When I trample on your love I shall do it with my feet."

Roman Cookery.

The striking features of cookery among the rich Romans were: multiplicity of dishes, the destruction and waste of vast quantities of material, and the absolute disguising of flavors by means of extraordinary combinations of highly seasoned sauces and gravies.

Overcoming Obstacles.

There is something else for us to do in this world than to resign our selves to a series of circumstances. If we try hard enough we will find a way to surmount them.
