In a Western town one of its great men was returning from a long trip abroad, and the citizens erected a triumphal arch from which they suspended a wreath by a rope. The arch bore the inscription, "He has well deserved it." A gust of wind carried off the wreath, so that when the honored man marched under the arch the ropes dangled over his head and the legend on the arch read, "He has well deserved it."

GREAT CHASM BEING SPANNED
Steel Bridge Built Entirely Without the Aid of False Work or Side Supports.
Seattle, Wash.—One hundred and fifty feet above a rushing stream whose depth rendered the usual supports impossible, a steel bridge, differing in construction from any built in the past, is nearing completion for the use of the Idaho and Washington Northern railroad. It is located near Box canyon, this state, and will extend from cliff to cliff across the Pend Oreille river. At this point the water is known to be more than two hundred and thirty feet deep, and in places bottom has never been reached. As the illustration shows, the bridge is being built entirely without the aid of false work or side supports. So far it has been balanced by weighting the shore span with 600 tons of steel rails. When finally completed, the bridge will weigh more than one thousand tons, and it will be the longest span of its kind.

The way in which American engineers have met and solved the difficult problems that confronted them in carrying the trans-continental railroads across the Rocky mountains has challenged the admiration of the world. In many cases they have been forced to methods of construction heretofore deemed impossible, and their success has set a new engineering pace for the entire world.

SHE WORKS FOR THE QUEEN
Little Old Woman Who is a Skilled Lacemaker in the North of England.

London.—In a little cottage in the pastoral village of Shelton, near Rushden, in Northamptonshire Mrs. Jane Morris, a little old woman, put forth every energy to complete an assignment given her by Queen Mary. Mrs. Morris was to have a certain number of yards of wonderful lace ready for her majesty's use on the occasion of the coronation, and it was done on time.
The lace is known as Bedfordshire pillow lace, and with it Queen Mary had some of her coronation garments embroidered. The lace is of exquisite beauty and it takes the little old woman an full day to make three-quarters of an inch of it. It is five inches wide and it requires 184 bobbins to work out the design.

Just what Mrs. Morris was paid is not known, but it stands to reason that after having such an assignment from the queen she will have no cause to fear the workhouse or to ask the government for an old-age pension.

MAN WHO REPLACES HIS HENS
When They Were Stolen He Went to Bed and Brought 42 Chickens Out of 85 Eggs.

Lockwood, Ohio.—Jacob B. Seitz, a resident of this place, has hatched out 42 chicks. He did it all by himself, spent all his time on the nest and says that being a human incubator isn't so hard a job as many persons might think. He admits that only for the care and attention of his wife who brought him his food daily, and kept him supplied with tobacco he would have been unable to keep his nest so well and the hatch might have been lost.
For eighteen days Mr. Seitz had watched over his three hens with all the care of a mother and kept telling his neighbors that he was going to have at least 55 chicks when the hens came off their nests. But a few days ago he went to his hen house and found his poultry gone. He grabbed up a basket, wrapped the warm eggs into it and ran home. Then he and his wife discussed what they should do to save them.
The result was that Mr. Seitz made a bed in the cellar, into which his wife tucked him with a blanket. All the eggs were carefully placed about him. In this bed nest he remained for three days and brought out 42 chicks

Ink Spots.
These troublesome stains may be removed by an application of equal parts of citric acid and cream of tartar melted on a plate. Mix and rub over the stains and then wash out carefully. In almost all cases the ink will disappear at once without injury to the color. Stains that have been laundered may require several treatments before they yield.—Woman's Home Companion.

Flute Playing for Consumptives.
It is cheering to know that one instrument at least can be counted on to bring health and longevity to those who practice it. This is the flute. Doctors recommend it for incipient consumptives—as the operation of playing the instrument involves the precise motion of the lungs of most benefit to the consumptives; that is, full inspiration, not too full or strained; followed by slow and gentle delivery of the breath.—Sunday Magazine.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION
By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had tumors, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sensitive Wash relieved me. Your Liver Pills were no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mount St., Peoria, Ill.

Another Operation Avoided.
New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. LILY PEXROCK, 1111 Carriere St., New Orleans, La.

Favorite Cholera Cure.
A favorite cholera cure in the west is made as follows: Red pepper, two ounces; powdered asafoetida, two ounces; carbonate of iron, four ounces; powdered rhubarb, one ounce; Spanish brown, six ounces; sulphur, two ounces. The mixture is made into pellets with flour and water and given three times a day. The mixed powder is added to the soft food as a preventive, giving a tablespoonful twice a week to every two dozen fowls.

Calves and Cows.
If you want to make a veritable milk-producing machine of a cow and have her worry as little as possible never permit her to "mother" her calf. Take it away from her as soon as possible, for if she has time to become strongly attached to it she is sure to worry when it is finally taken away from her. If the first two or three calves are thus removed the maternal instinct is likely to become largely dormant, and she will come to consider a calf rather than a calf as the natural channel for her milk.

MAKE MONEY WITH CHICKENS
However, One Must Understand Every Requirement to Get Most Out of Flock—Start With Few.

Success or failure with chickens rests with the operator alone, writes C. N. Whittaker of Lawrence, Mich., in the Chicago Daily News. To get the most out of his hens one must understand and be ready to meet their every requirement. He must be able to keep them in first-class physical condition, he must know just how much to feed and the kind of food that constitutes the best ration. Nothing can be left to chance or guesswork. Ignorance or indolence means failure.

There is good money in poultry and Chicago is a good market. Last year our Rhode Island Red hens cost us about $1.25 each for feed, and the return from them was a little less than $3 each. This is not a small farm flock, as we keep several hundred, and even now when they are all yarded to keep them out of a crop of buckwheat, growing on their range, and are in the middle of the molting season, they are paying a profit of $1 to 10 cents each a month.

A man came to Michigan about a year ago. His ignorance was colossal, his conceit stupendous. He had read "systems" until he exuded portions of them at every pore, and his plans were all made before he put a foot on his farm. He said he was going to make us sit up and take notice. He did. Owing to the improper ventilation of his poultry house he lost half his hens during the winter, and he did not get to exceed two dozen eggs through November, December and January. About the middle of August his son said: "We got an egg yesterday, the first one we have had in over two months." Success with chickens under such conditions is impossible.

Standing to Reduce Flesh.
A little trick is standing for twenty minutes after each meal. This does not mean simply being on your feet, clearing off the table, etc. It means that you must stand perfectly still, balanced evenly on both feet. Have a book in the dining room, stand near a window and read for twenty minutes after each meal. This is also said to be a great cure for indigestion. Try it anyway, for certainly it cannot hurt you.

FEW LITTLE ORCHARD HELPS
Trees Respond to Application of Manure as Quickly as Any Other Crop—Better Plowed Under.

When the mercury hovers around the small figures and the snow is on the ground, there is a job waiting for you.
Haul a little manure into the orchard. And little, as used in this connection, means a good deal. For an orchard twelve or fifteen years planted, a two-horse wagon load will not be too much for two trees. Trees respond to the application of manure as quickly as any other crop. And anything which increases the vigor and health of the trees adds to their ability to produce fruit.

For young orchards upon rich prairie soil, manure is not advised, but after ten years of growth, the soil needs reinforcement. It was formerly taught as a cardinal principle that a new tree should never be planted where an old one has been removed. But practical men no longer regard this view. They make the old spot rich with fertilizers and plant the trees there just the same. And the trees bloom just as well as any well-planted tree should.
Successful fruit men do not pasture their orchards, neither do they cut and remove crops of hay. Everything which grows upon the surface is returned to the soil.
In the application of manure never pile it about the body of the tree, but spread it out over a surface as large as the spread of the tops. In many cases this will mean covering the whole surface. If you can plow it in better when spring comes, that is better. But if you cannot do this, much of the nutrient will get down to the roots, through the medium of the spring rains.
If your fruit is poor and small, it is not fair to lay it to the depravity of the tree, or the insects every time, for often it is the lack of fertility which causes failure. Help the tree to do its work by feeding it liberally.

Phosphate Rock.
Phosphate rock is the great American fertilizer. It is about the only natural raw material that has yet been found in great quantities in this country, and its abundance has led to rapid development of the mines, leading to a production of 2,655,000 long tons in the past year. The average price during the year declined from $4.62 to $4.11 per ton. Most of the deposits are in the south, but there is a great deal of phosphate land in the west. An effort is being made to encourage the use of raw phosphate rock, finely ground. It is claimed that this material, low price considered, is superior to the acid phosphate, because, although it acts more slowly, the effect is more lasting. Experiments indicate that the raw rock will be found adapted to such uses as top dressing and moving lands and for use in orchards and vineyards, also for general improvement of poor soils.

Even the solemn and serene comery of the Moravians at Bethlehem supplies an interesting addition to the curious epitaph collection in the following, which is cut on a stone over the grave of an Indian: "In memory of my dearest son, James McDonald Ross, eldest son of John Ross, principal chief of the Cherokee nation, died in St. Louis, November 9, 1864. His corpse was transported by Adams Express to Bethlehem and interred at this sacred spot November 23, 1864, age fifty years, twenty-nine days."

Fashions Change Little.
From the fresco paintings of women in the Cretan palaces of the period about 2,000 B. C. it is learned that the women of that time plinched in their waists, had lounced or accordion plaited skirts, wore an elaborate coiffure on their heads, shoes with high heels and hats which might have come from a Parisian hat shop, while one woman might be described as wearing a jupe culotte.

Yellow Journalism.
Grandpa often read aloud from the newspaper for mamma as she went about her work. One morning five-year-old Maxine brought a paper and sat down at his feet. Grandpa noticed that she, too, was pretending to read aloud. "A little girl ate a chicken alive and feathers grew out all over her back," was the startling bit of news he heard.—From the Housekeeper.

Chief Sufferer in the Duel.
The cost of due is dwelt upon by Aurlen Scholl in his "Reminiscences." He tells of the elaborate preparations made for a hostile encounter between two journalists whom he knew. One of them borrowed $20 from Scholl to meet his share of the expenses. This sum was never returned. "After ten minutes perfunctory fencing," he adds, "the principals embraced each other, and both left the ground without a scratch. I was the only man hit."

Soft Water for Good Tea.
"New York water is too hard to make good tea," said the English matron. "The use of soft water is one secret of tea making that New York people seem never to have learned. Before we found that we could buy soft water bottled we softened the water for making tea with a pinch of soda."

Effective Wall Paper Border.
Recently there has come into wall paper fashion a type of border that is cut along the bottom to follow the lines of the design, usually vines, leaves or the like. Against a plain wall paper such a border is particularly effective, as all who have seen it can testify. At first this border had to be cut out after the design was printed on the paper, but a New York man has invented a machine which does the printing and the cutting at the same operation.
