ATHENA, ORE., MAY 3, 1912

line held a New York state charter any compensation received would be at the end of long litigation—and the proceeds would be divided with damage suit lawyers. That is because the New York supreme court has held that a workmen's compensation act denies vested interest of its constitutional right to due process of law.

For some time past Industrial Workers of the World, an organization of malcontents, have been preaching their incendiary principles all over the Northwest. Investigation shows that the most of their members are not native born Americans; but men who have received the rights of citizenship from this country. Realizing that naturalization has been a little too free, Judges Hanford and Frator of Seattle courts are making it harder to get papers. They are examining all candidates more carefully, as a result of which many have lately been refused. This is regarded as a step in the right direction.

Some day Alaska's needs are to be recognized. This prediction is based on the fight now waging for Alaska and the headway that is being made. The lower house of Congress has just passed the home rule bill, which indicates that things are going forward. More important at this crisis than the Presidency, is Congress; and in Congress, more important than a Democratic or a Republican majority, is a majority of Progressives regardless of party. This is the reason that Progressives of both parties should cross party lines to elect a Progressive of the other party rather than a reactionary of their own.

As a result of the investigation into the Titanic disaster it goes without saying that a lot of very stringent marine laws will be enacted on both sides of the world. The English press is indignant over the inadequacy of safeguards required under the laws of that country. The laws are old and hence not in accord with modern shipping conditions. The Congress of this country will also probably make some radical changes in the marine laws governing ships that carry passengers. With ample precautions, all of the Titanic's people might have been saved.

The first grand opera dealing with the Pacific Northwest has received a successful launching on the stage. It is called "Narcissa," and deals with the missionary passion of Marcus Whitman and his wife, Narcissa. The music was written by Mary Carr Moore and her mother, Sara Pratt, wrote the libretto. The four performances recently given in Seattle in a semi-professional way were ample to demonstrate the unquestioned merit of the work. It is all the more interesting because it is said to be the first grand opera ever composed by a woman.

Two new experiment farms have just been completed in Crook County one near Metolins and the other near Redmond. They are to be operated under the direction of the Oregon Agricultural College, which is sufficient guarantee that they will be operated on a practical basis and it is believed they will do much toward solving the problems new settlers are meeting with in tilling the dry farming and irrigated lands of the interior of the state.

The current year, it is said, will prove one of the best periods in the history of the lumber industry, the demand for forest products of Oregon being the best since the period following the San Francisco fire, when the forests of the Northwest were drawn upon heavily to rebuild that city. Prosperous conditions in the lumber trade will be felt generally throughout Oregon, so widespread is this industry.

Oregon did not forget Teddy. However, the result of the primary election was a surprise to the most conservative, for the reason that it looked to be all for Taft. When the test came, the remembrance of the rough rider's gladsome smile tinged in the memory of a majority of the republican voters, and they couldn't "turn him down."

By his own admission, Senator Bourne was defeated because only six newspapers gave support to his candidacy. His record as a senator was of such little consequence and benefit to his constituency that doubtless the support of the six papers was of a paid advertising nature. And Jonathan should know whereof he speaks. When he was elected to the senate, there were but few papers in Oregon that did not carry his advertising matter, paid for by him at regular rates. This year he lay back on his oars, so to speak and relied on his record to carry him through and got what nine-tenths of the people of Oregon wanted him to get—defeat. Bourne never represented Oregon. He is and always was a misfit. He merely held his residence in Oregon where he paid only $2.45 taxes, for political purposes, and hoodwinked the people into making him senator and now the hoodwink is where it belongs—on Jonathan Jr.

The heirs of the dead men and women of the Titanic's crew will receive almost immediate money compensation because the White Star company, being a British corporation, is subject to the English Workmen's Compensation Law. So the surviving seamen who were injured will receive similar automatic compensation for their injuries. If the White Star and entered, has appointed Monday, the 3rd day of June 1912, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon, as the time, and the County Court house of said county and state, as the place, where objections and exceptions to the said final account and report will be heard and the settlement thereof made.

The first publication of this notice will be made on Friday, the 3rd day of May, 1912, and the last publication on the 31st day of May, 1912.

Dated this the 30th day of April, A. D., 1912. Clyde Willaby, Administrator.

Peterson & Wilson, Attorneys.
