This Wife a Treasure.
The saving habit may not be as much in favor today as thirty years ago, but one New York man has had occasion to be converted to a belief in it. He is a man who has worked seventeen years as a carpenter. His wife died decently, leaving him enough money to live in comfort the rest of his days. He knew that his wife took care of his money, but had no idea that she had saved so much.

Matter of Judgment.
"So you suspect that men are quicker of judgment in practical matters than women?" asked her friend of the middle-aged spinster. "Yes," replied Miss Cayenne. "Men have heeded the warnings of the newspapers and quit buying gold bricks, but women continue to marry for money."

Better Not Take His Word.
Declaration of a learned source that the "day of judgment" is mythical may comfort such among us as have lived without due regard for the hereafter.—Exchange.

Life's Tearfulness.
"Did you ever cause your wife any tears?" "I don't think so. Certainly, not as many as leading actors and actresses at matinees have caused her."

It Was Tough.
"Will you give me a pie, madam," asked the tramp, "if I saw you some wood?" The woman agreed to the bargain, gave the man a pie and started him in the direction of the woodpile. In three minutes he was back at the door saying, "Madam, if it's all one to you, I'll eat the wood an' saw the pie."

Chop Suet $25 a Dish.
High cost of lard is not worrying the Chinese. One big Chicago restaurant on the Hong-Kong style has on its menu a dish that costs $25. "Foony wong wu yin" is what they call it, and one portion is enough for five hungry workmen or six ordinary men. It has to be ordered twenty-four hours before you get it.

Only Way.
Knicker—A fashion note says that skirts are to be six inches narrower at the ankle. Bocker—Will the girls stand on one leg?

Frequently Happens.
A man may work so hard running after a band wagon that when he overtakes it he's too tired to get any pleasure out of the ride.

Training the Colt.
Many valuable horses are spoiled by improper or harsh treatment in training. A man who is incapable of understanding the disposition of horses is certainly incapable of training them. Two-thirds of the horses that have been called vicious can be managed by proper treatment, says a contributor to Farm and Home.

It is bad policy to train a colt unless he is in the best of spirits. The brain will be more active, therefore the disposition easier to control. On the other hand, if you train a colt while he is in flesh, in poor spirits and on light food, as some men do, he will not take notice of objects, and when on good feed later, he is not well trained. Have them in good spirits, give plenty of food, and use less whip.

Uncle Snooks Puzzled.
"What puzzles me," said Uncle Snooks, as he looked up from a book he was consulting, "is this. If a man is standing on the side of a hill or mountain, how is he to settle in his mind whether he is on an acclivity or a declivity? According to my dictionary here, the former is 'a slope up,' and the latter 'a slope down.' I've never yet seen a slope up that didn't slope down."

Graft the Neglected Apple Trees
There are thousands of apple trees growing in fields and pastures and roadsides that bear only poor, natural fruit and many of the apples are left to rot on the ground. Blood Bath Knocks Rheumatism
Remarkable Effects of a Remedy That Actually Irrigates the Entire Blood Supply.
It sounds queer to take a blood bath but that is precisely the effect of a most remarkable remedy known as S. S. S. It has a peculiar action of soaking through the intestines directly into the blood. In a few minutes its influence is at work in every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emunctory becomes in effect a filter that strains the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. compel the skin, liver, bowels, kidneys, bladder to all work to the one end of casting out every taint, every pain-inflicting atom of poison; it dissolves by irrigation all accumulations in the joints, causes acid secretions to dissolve, renders them neutral and scatters those peculiar formations in the nerve centers that cause such mystifying and often baffling rheumatic pains.

And best of all, this remarkable remedy is welcome to the weakest stomach. If you have drugged yourself until your stomach is nearly paralyzed, you will be astonished to find that S. S. S. gives no sensation but goes right to work. This is because it is a pure botanical infusion, is taken naturally into your blood just as pure air is inhaled naturally into your lungs.

The great Swift Laboratory has spent millions of dollars in perfecting, producing and placing in the hands of the people this wonderful remedy. So give your blood a good bath with S. S. S., for it knocks the worst forms of rheumatism and gives you freedom to enjoy life.

You can get it at any drug store at 1.00 a bottle. It is a standard remedy, recognized everywhere as the greatest blood antiseptic ever discovered. If yours is a peculiar case and you desire expert advice, write to The Swift Specific Co., 169 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Beauty of Spider's Web.
There are few more beautiful objects than a spider's web covered with dew. In symmetry, in perfection of geometrical arrangement and in the prismatic reflection of color it is a gorgeous object. And consider the wonderful devices that our garden spider has for attending to its toilet. CHOOSE THE SANDWICH
HERE IS VARIETY ENOUGH TO SUIT ALL TASTES.

Tomato and Horse-Radish Makes an Excellent Combination—Pineapple Fine for Those Who Like the Fine Flavor.

Tomato and Horse-radish Sandwiches.—Butter thin slices of bread, lay a crisp lettuce leaf on lower slice, then place very thin slices of firm tomatoes on top, spread a little prepared horse-radish on each slice, cover with another lettuce leaf and slice of bread. Trim the edges evenly and cut through center.

Brown Bread Sandwiches.—Butter thin slices of brown bread, lay a lettuce leaf on lower side, spread a little boiled dressing over, sprinkle with chopped walnuts; lay another lettuce leaf with dressing on that, press top slice of bread on and cut into three triangular pieces.

Pineapple Sandwiches.—Cut pineapple into thin slices, trim off the rind and remove center core, now shred into fine shivers, sugar slightly and set in cold place over night. Or, if desired leave the slices whole, place between slices of buttered bread and cut into triangles.

Ginger and Walnut Sandwiches.—Between thin slices of buttered bread lay bits of preserved ginger and chopped walnuts, using a little of the syrup the ginger is put up in. Cut into thin slices.

Dream Sandwiches.—Rub one cupful of stewed prunes to a paste with two spoonfuls of lemon juice, spread between thin slices of buttered bread; a few chopped walnuts may be added. Cut each into four little squares.

Hot Preserve Sandwiches.—Cut bread moderately thin, trim into even squares, butter lightly, spread with any well-flavored firm preserve, cut into triangles, place in fat tin and toast under gas flame in broiling oven until a golden brown. Turn and toast other side, and serve on hot plate covered with napkin.

Bacon and Lettuce Sandwiches.—Cut crust from thin slices of bread, toast on one side only and keep warm. Fry thin slices of bacon until crisp. Wipe butter the soft side of the bread, lay a lettuce leaf and a few slices of the bacon between and cut into triangles.

Fried Egg Sandwiches.—Prepare as directed above, then lay a lettuce leaf and a carefully fried egg on lower slice; season with salt and pepper, place second slice of toast on that and lay strips of fried bacon across. Either of these bacon sandwiches may be made with plain bread. Potato salad or water dress are nice with hot sandwiches.

Chicken in Paper Cases.
Singe and draw a two-pound chicken. Cut off the neck and feet and cut it in four pieces. Mix one-half pint of olive oil, one sliced onion, one carrot, two branches of celery, three sprigs of parsley, two cloves of garlic, half a bay leaf, two cloves, three peppercorns, one coffee-spoonful of salt. Put the chicken in this at least six hours before cooking it. See that every piece is well soaked in the marinade, turning them over every two hours. Cook them in a skillet, adding the marinade slowly, for ten minutes, placing the inside part under.

Have ready square boxes made of white paper, put the pieces into them, place them in a baking-pan side by side. Cover the cakes entirely with an oiled paper and bake for twelve minutes. Strain the sauce, finish with the juice of a lemon squeezed over the chicken and serve very hot.—Harper's Bazar.

Egg Beater.
An egg beater will do many things besides beat eggs. If a custard boils a little too much, keep it from curdling by beating thoroughly. Use it also for lumpy gravy. After boiled salad dressing is removed from the double boiler beat it hard for a few minutes, and it will be much more delicate and fluffy. One may use the beater for cake batter. Reduce the milk with a couple of tablespoonfuls of hot water, which will soften the batter so that you can beat the sugar, butter, milk and part of the flour to a delicate cream before adding the remainder of the flour and baking powder.

Apple Salad.
Apple salad is delicious and reasonable, too. You take large red apples and scoop out the inside, creating cups. These are put into cold water with a few drops of lemon juice until ready to be filled. The filling consists of the apple chopped with celery, a little grapefruit and mayonnaise dressing. On the top heap bits of walnut and maraschino cherries, and lay each cup on a lettuce leaf. This is a very dainty salad, put together at very little cost. Water and cheese are served with it.

Richness of Meat Need Not Be Lost.
In parboiling meat that seems a bit tough before baking it none of the richness of the meat need be lost. Parboil it in just a little water. Then put the meat in a pan and bake it, using the liquor left in the pan after boiling it to baste it as it bakes. In this way all the richness that has boiled out will cook back into the meat and the gravy will be rich and savory.

Tomato Scramble.
Drain and chop sufficient cooked tomato to make one cupful and put in the chafing dish with two tablespoonfuls of butter and seasoning of salt and pepper. When this is hot, add four eggs slightly beaten with two tablespoonfuls of cream and thoroughly mix. Serve on rounds of toast and decorate with circles of tomato or pimiento.—Mother's Magazine.

Chicken Griddle Cakes.
Beat one egg, add two tablespoonfuls of chicken fat, melted; one cupful of minced chicken, half a level teaspoonful of salt, one pint of milk, and flour enough to make a batter that will spread slowly when placed on the griddle, having previously sifted three teaspoonfuls of baking powder into the flour.

FRENCH PASTRIES IN DEMAND
First Served by Fashionable Hotels, They Have Been Taken Up by Hostesses Who Are Up to Date.

The increase in the number of good patisseries shops where really delicious French pastries can be purchased probably accounts for the serving of French pastries for dessert at the home table just as they have been served for years in the big hotels and restaurants. There is a special box filled about with a huge silver platter gored with concoctions that make the mouth water and the purse strings open. When the diner or luncheon chooses the sort he desires the boy deftly removes it with a wide bladed silver knife. Nowadays the home hostess has the maid pass French pastries at luncheon and dinner. They are passed on a big platter and naturally each guest chooses the particular sort which appeals to him.

Many of them are simply boat shaped shells of puff paste filled with fruit of some sort. Grapes, covered with rich syrup, are sometimes used for filling; and strawberries, luscious and ripe, combined with a syrup, can also be used. Some of the pastries are made in layers of puff paste with an appetizing and delicate cream or almond paste or fruit filling between.

These interesting pastries really help to solve one of the housewife's worst worries, for they constitute a dessert which is easily procured and which is a welcome relief from loaves and creams and the more usual sweets served.—New York Times.

GET BUSY WITH CHAFING DISH
Many Delicious Concoctions May Be Prepared for the Late or Sunday Night Supper.

A light, but fairly substantial edible, served piping hot, directly from a chafing dish, adds immensely to the informal Sunday night supper. Creamed salmon is delicious and is easy to prepare in a chafing dish. Use the hot water pan first, brown a little butter and sprinkle crumbed bread into it, turning over until crisp. Set these crisped crumbs aside and proceed with the blazer pan, to make a simple béchamel or cream sauce, first melting a tablespoon of butter, stirring in a tablespoon of flour and adding a scant cup of milk. Season this fairly-thick white sauce with salt, pepper and a few drops of lemon juice. Stir in a can of salmon and when steaming hot and ready to serve, shake over the top the browned crumbs. The creamed salmon may be served without the bread crumbs, but they add an appetizing flavor, suggestive of the browned crust over a hot dish prepared in the oven.

Cream of Celery.
From the Caterer we take the following recipe, and for family use each can reduce the quantities to suit. Even in using the leaves and poorer parts of one head only the recipe of the best chefs will be a good foundation for experiment and adaptation. Remove the outside stalks from 12 heads of celery, keeping the hearts to be eaten raw. Cut up these stalks in small pieces, wash well, drain and set in a pan with a piece of butter; cover the pan and cook over a slow fire.

When the celery is nearly done, moisten with one gallon of lightly thickened chicken or veal stock, allow to cook for 15 minutes, and then rub through a fine sieve; pour the soup into a clean pan, let boil and clean from scum. Season with salt, pepper and a pinch of sugar, and before serving bind with one pint of cream, six eggs and four ounces of butter. Serve small fried crusts of bread separately.

Instead of Potatoes.
A dietitian, talking with a woman who was lamenting the potatoes cut from her diet list, advised her to substitute macaroni. As this is usually supposed to be fattening, directions for cooking it must be carefully followed.

By boiling the macaroni an hour and a half, the dietitian says, the injurious ingredients are converted into a food that is nourishing, yet without starch. When used in a diet for obesity, it must not be dressed with milk, merely with a little butter, salt and pepper.

The woman thus advised ate macaroni each evening for dinner, instead of potatoes, yet lost 20 pounds in two months.

Jelly Custards.
One scant coffee cup sugar, one-half cup acid jelly, one heaping tablespoon cornstarch, two cups sweet milk, yolks two eggs beaten light, butter the size of walnut. Sift cornstarch and sugar into a bowl, pour the milk over this, beating constantly to prevent lumping, then add the well-beaten egg yolks. Place jelly and butter on stove to melt and beat them slowly into the first ingredients. Set on stove and cook until mixture begins to thicken; stir continually to prevent scorching. Pour into a baked crust and make meringue for top of whites. Set in oven for a few minutes until golden brown. It must be perfectly cold before serving.

Spider Corn Cake.
Take one cup of cornmeal, one-half teaspoon salt, mix with new buttermilk till it can be poured from the dish, then dissolve one-half teaspoon of soda in one tablespoon cold water and add to the batter, also one egg not beaten. Beat all well and turn into hot spider which has been well buttered. Put in hot oven and bake till just cooked. It does not get brown on top and is about one inch thick when cooked. Serve hot with butter or molasses. Cut it in wedges like a pie.

Bolled Salmon Steak.
Boil a pint of broth or water with a small bunch of celery, half a teaspoonful of salt, quarter saltspoonful of pepper and a tablespoonful of vinegar. Cut the steaks in suitable pieces and put the fragments and bones in the boiling liquid. Place the salmon in a clean saucpan and strain the seasoned broth over it; cover and let boil briskly for ten minutes. Serve in a deep dish with the liquor instead of sauce. The full flavor and the richness of the fish are preserved in this dish.

NEWS for the YOUNG PEOPLE

HOW TO TELL THE WEATHER
Peculiar Actions of Many Animals Taken as Sure Indication of Rain, Snow, Wind or Calm.

If a cat sneezes it is a sign of rain. The goat utters a peculiar cry before rain. When the fox barks at night it will storm. If rats and mice make much noise it indicates rain. If the dog eats grass in the morning it will surely rain before night. If the tracks of bear are seen after the first snow fall, look for a mild winter.

The wind will blow from the point the cat faces when she washes her face, and fair weather will follow. If the bull goes first to pasture, it will rain; if the cows precede him the weather will be uncertain.

It is a sign of rain if the cat washes her head behind the ear. Cats run against an object before a storm. Sheep are said to ascend hills and scatter before clear weather, but if they bleat and seek shelter it will snow.

If the hair of a horse grows long early the winter will be mild. The hair of a horse becomes rough before rain, and they are frisky before a cold wave, and restless and uneasy before a rain.

Sailors do not like cats, and they have a saying when the cat is frisky she has a gale of wind in her tail, and a charm is often resorted to in a calm by throwing the cat overboard to raise a storm.

If cows fall in their milk look for stormy and cold weather. If they belch in the evening it will snow before morning, and when a cow stops and shakes her foot there is bad weather behind her.

If cattle lie down early in the day expect rain, also when they lick their fore feet, lie on the right side, scratch against posts, when they refuse to go to pasture in the morning, and when they low and look at the sky.

When Sea Feeds Land.
Seaweed, at one time thought valueless, is a wonderful fertilizer. Tons of it are collected in carts at low tide by the Cornish farmers, and around the coast of Jersey.

After being dried in heaps, it is spread on the land. There its nutritive properties of nitrogen and potash, in which it is very rich, are absorbed into the soil, and produce wonderful crops. New potatoes from Jersey, and spring cabbage from Cornwall, are raised with seaweed fertilizer. The sea also furnishes food for the land in other ways.
