Dr. Plamondon was called and conveying the lady home in his car, placed her under an anesthetic, when seven stitches were taken in the wound.

Many have paid their subscription to the Press. Others have not come forward with the necessary lucre, and to these we extend the reminder that Uncle Samuel charges extra postage to transmit delinquent subscribers' papers through the mails. We're not in particular need of money, but we have to keep things square with the postoffice department; so if your Press fails to make its regular visit, you will remember the reason.

A large audience gathered Sunday evening at the Christmas church to hear the program prepared by the ladies of the C. W. B. M. The program was splendidly carried out, with the exception of a song by Mrs. Miehener, who was detained at home by the accident which occurred in the afternoon. Mrs. George Gerking was called away also by sickness. The task of placing before the public the work of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions fell mainly upon Mrs. A. M. Meldrum, Mrs. Charles Gerking and Mrs. John T. King, and in the hands of these ladies the subject was ably handled and their plea for missions presented. A solo by Mrs. David Stone and recitations by Zola Keen and Savannah Smith interspersed the addresses. At the close, a generous silver offering was received.

Mark Twain Liked Girls.

Mark Twain, although the creator of the most lovable boy in literature, Tom Sawyer, was really more interested in little girls, and it was through his interest and affection for my little daughter Helen that we came to know him so well and to share the last months of his life. He used to pretend that only girls were interesting, that boys ought not to exist until they were men. The fact was, he really was interested in any young creature. In one of the books he gave Helen he wrote, "It is better to be a young June beetle than an old bird of paradise."—Marion Schuyler Allen in Strand Magazine.
