Two Scary Hairbreadth Escapes Happen to Motorists On Dry Creek Hill.

The past week has been fraught with automobile accidents, no less than three occurring in this part of the county. Fortunately no lives were lost, and only minor injuries rethe hill east of town, during the rain storm Saturday evening, Miss Gladys Bannister, at the wheel of a Ford car, with the throttle wide open, herself and three other occupants, were thrown into the ditch, and only the fact that the ditch was there and the car alighted across it, prevented a fa-

Miss Bauuister was driving the March car, and was speeding against a big Studebaker car, at the time of the accident. The Ford car was owned by Mr. March, who resides near Weston, and who was riding in the rear seat with Miss Taylor of Weston. Young Bergevin was in front with Miss Bannister.

Miss Taylor was thrown through the top of the car, and Mr. March was able to extricate himself without as-sistance, But Miss Bannister and Mr. Berg vin lay under the car in the ditch until rescued when help arrived. All escaped with slight the ground, bottomside up and completely end for end.

The other two socidents occured Wednesday during the Milton horse show, on the two Dry creek bills. Chauffuer Ross, who has teen demonstrating a Carter car in Athena for several days, was returning from Milton, having as passengers, Mrs. Rosh and three daughters. Ascending the bill on this side of the creek, when at a point about three hundred yards above the small bridge, an attempt was made to go around a team, when the car was driven too near the edge of the embankment. It overturned and went tumbling into the ditob, 25 feet below. In making the descent, the car urned completely over twice and alighted right side up in the ditch, and out of the terrible situation the four passengers emerged with only slight bruises, with the exception of Mrs. Rush, who suffered the disloca-tion of her shoulder. The car was while after. It happened on the east bill, when the Weston autotruck, loaded with pionickers, returning from Milton, got beyond control of the driver and ran away for some distance down the bill. The passengers leaped from their seats, and Dave Lavender of Weston, was severely injured. The driver regained control of the machine. Mr. Levender was brought into Weston by the Plamondon machine of this city.

All who left the car were more or less injured, and Mrs. Wm. Graham was severely burt about the knees, the ligaments being torn loose. It is said that had not the load teen lightened, the truck would undouttedly have left the road and been turned into the Foot of Eocene Age?

A petrifled human foot, gigantic in size and dating back probably to the eocene or pleiocene ages, was found in Pendleton Saturday by Theodore F. Howard, the architect and brought to the office of the Evening Tribune, re-ports that paper. It was taken from the excavation of the new Tribune building on Garden street. The foot is clearly shaped, of strange formation, and shows the powerful size of man in those days. It is plainly human in form, with no apish suggestion, and bears a strong arched instep.

Rough on Ellen.

Among the quaint scrapbooks of the late Clyde Fitch there was one devoted entirely to typographical errors.

One of these errors appeared in a criticism of Ellen Terry. The review-er wrote, "Her love of Portia made acting easy." The sentence appeared in the paper as 'Her love of port made acting easy.' "-Florida Times-Union.
