

GO TO ROSEBURG AND SEE WRECK DRY'S HAVE MADE

Bank Deposits Fall Off Half Million Dollars in Dry Town

ASSESSMENTS MUCH HIGHER

Real Estate Offered for Sale at Less Than Valuation But No Bidders

The Committee of One Hundred says: "If you want to find out what dry Oregon will do for Oregon, go to Roseburg and see what dry Roseburg has accomplished."

Here's what it has done. It has cut down the bank deposits by over $500,000, in spite of the fact that there are now four banks to the two in existence when Roseburg had licensed saloons, and that the population has increased in proportion to the settling up of Southern Oregon by new settlers and immigration.

When Roseburg had licensed saloons the tax levy, on one-third of the valuation was two mills. Since Roseburg has gone dry the tax levy has varied from eight to ten mills on a full valuation; and in addition occupation taxes have been steadily increased.

The Committee of One Hundred boasts that dry Roseburg has erected a $115,000 hotel. The hotel was erected in 1913, stood idle and tenantless for four months, and was rescued from the bankruptcy court by liberal business men of the city, among whom were E. L. Parrot, C. W. Parks, Joseph Micelli, A. N. Orcutt and Henry Hart, all of whom are radically opposed to a dry town.

The Committee of One Hundred also boasts of the army as an achievement. The army was built by state, county and city funds combined, and is not yet completed.

Over 140 leading business men have signed a petition calling for a local option election in Roseburg this year, and such an election will be held.

Many empty store buildings are to be found on the leading business streets—a condition that never existed when Roseburg had licensed saloons. Scores of dwelling houses are vacant for the first time in the history of the city.

John Hunter, a leading contractor and formerly a supporter of the dries, is now advertising in Roseburg papers:

Business block for sale for $500 less than present assessed valuation.

Another property owner has offered four parcels of inside property for sale at less than the assessed valuation, and has not even received a tender.

One of the leaders of the dry forces in Roseburg is a man who as a former agent of the Albany brewery made his fortune, and who today is the owner of a drug store. He was at one time prominent in politics, was repudiated by the voters of Douglas County, and is now said to be seeking to place lieutenants in office through the dry movement.

Beggars are common on the streets, and many poor families are appealing to the local bankers for aid.

And yet the Committee of One Hundred says:

"If you want to find out what Oregon dry will do for Oregon go to Roseburg and see what dry Roseburg has accomplished."

EUGENE, Lane County's "model" prohibition city, and the seat of the state university, is

NOT A "DRY" TOWN. From January 1 to October 1 of this year there were shipped into Eugene 102,457 QUARTS OF BEER.

From January 1 to October 1 of this year there were shipped into Eugene 3,490 QUARTS OF LIQUOR.

Of this amount there went to one drug store 524 QUARTS OF LIQUOR.

Express company records show these figures.

Jokes in Dry Amendment Admitted By "Drys"

Big Blunder In Misleading Prohibition Campaign Is Made.

J. E. Wheeler, Chairman of The Committee of One Hundred Admits in Public Print

That Prohibition is an Infringement of Personal Liberty. That the word "Distribution" was deliberately left out of the proposed "Prohibition" amendment. That "Any Citizen" may ship liquor "direct from some other state" into his "own home." Every claim made by the anti-prohibition forces against the proposed prohibition amendment in Oregon is confessed in the three above admissions.

The Anti-Prohibition forces have steadfastly claimed:

That "prohibition is an infringement of personal liberty." Mr. Wheeler admits it, word for word, in public print.

That "prohibition will not prohibit." Mr. Wheeler's admission proves his Committee of One Hundred is not trying to prohibit.

That "prohibition does not mean Dry Oregon."

That "prohibition would be a death blow to the present healthy growth of TRUE TEMPERANCE SENTIMENT in the land." Mr. Wheeler's admission proves it.

That "prohibition would let down the bars to BLIND PIGGERS and BOOT-LEGGERS, who would deal in deadly decoctions." The same law would allow any blind pigger with a HOME to ship liquor "direct from some other state" to HIS own home, for the BLIND PIGGER is as much of a "CITIZEN" as any other man or woman in Oregon. And the blind pigger, because he is NOT UNDER INSPECTION by federal, state or city officials, will make one barrel of PURE WINE, BEER or LIQUOR into a Dozen Barrels of Poisonous Beverages that will make a new generation of Imbeciles, Idiots and Criminals in Oregon.

Mr. Wheeler's three blundering admissions are the best three reasons why his misnamed, misleading "Prohibition Amendment" is an alarming menace to the state. Can any intelligent voter fail to see the "Jokers"? Put an end to agitation-- Vote 333 X No

SPRINGFIELD IS MERE GHOST OF OLD BUSY CITY

Prohibition Makes Formerly Thriving Center Barren

BANK DEPOSITS $57,000 LESS

Two Blocks of Vacant Buildings Line Main Street in Place of Busy Stores

The city of Springfield, in its present cobwebby, stagnant condition, today presents a picture, as compared with its thriving, bustling condition of a year ago, that would make the angels weep. A year ago every store was filled and crowds of people thronged its streets. Every merchant was making money, practically everyone who wanted work was employed. Everyone seemed happy and contented, except the prohibitionists.

Today Springfield looks like a deserted village, business is paralyzed, and more than eight or ten people on its main street at any one time would actually be the cause of excitement. Yet the Committee of One Hundred says: "Business is fine in dry towns."

Springfield went "dry" at the election last fall, the saloons closing January 1.

Let the "drys" tell all about these "fine" business conditions in Springfield after nine months' operation of their "business theories."

Although a much smaller city than Salem, the bank deposits in Springfield have fallen off in the last year over $57,000.

When Main street finally is re-justed in the next month or two, practically two blocks of store buildings on each side of the street west of the Southern Pacific tracks will be deserted, but "business is fine."

A real estate sale is unheard of and would be impossible on any part of Main street, but "business is fine."

The Springfield Toggery, the best gent's furnishing store, is now being closed out by a receiver, but "business is fine."

The La France Confectionery Store, one of the best in "wet" days, has closed out, but "business is fine."

O. W. Johnson's Hardware Store, the best of its line during "wet" days, already has been sold out by a receiver, but "business is fine."

A. J. Henderson, the leading dry-goods merchant, occupied a double store a year ago and will tell you his business is "about half" what it was a year ago, but "business is fine."

The city has run into a $5,200 deficit from an excess of expenditures over income, although the "drys" promised that less police and court expenses would make a surplus, if the people would vote the $12,000 saloon licenses out of business, but that's "fine business."

The prohibitionists a year ago promised to reduce the tax levy, but have increased the levy this year by five mills, but "business is fine."

Not a foot of permanent street improvement work has been done, except the construction of a small bridge over a creek, and that was paid for by a bond issue. Streets and sidewalks are in a deplorable condition, and the prohibitionists are now petitioning the council to "double" the expense levy.

If the local taxpayers, but a few of whom are "drys," vote down this petition, the city confronts the same possibility as Oregon City, viz, the appointment of a receiver, but "business is fine in dry towns."

Prohi Speaker Fined. SEASIDE—J. A. Adams, a prohibition speaker and worker, served out a five dollar fine in the Seaside jail for failing to obey the local ordinance regulating street speaking. Adams, who boasts of having been arrested 44 times and of having served 14 jail sentences, declares that he prefers jail sentences to paying fines, as they give him more notoriety and enable him to draw larger audiences. Upon completion of his jail term here he left town at once.

Reasons Why Hon. Henry Taylor Should be Elected to the LEGISLATURE

Henry J. Taylor, one of the best known citizens of Umatilla county, as well as one of its largest taxpayers, has returned home from Atlantic City, N. J., where he was a delegate to the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, and has entered upon his campaign for the legislature.

For many years he has been one of the largest wheat growers in Umatilla county, and he is deeply interested in the enactment of laws beneficial to farmers, merchants, stock raisers, fruit growers and laborers. He has witnessed the increase in taxes year after year until he, like hundreds of others, has concluded that something must be done in the interest of the taxpayers. He knows of no reason why taxes should be higher each year when the people are already burdened with exorbitant taxation. He believes in cutting down appropriations, the abolishment of useless commissions and in the most rigid public economy in order that the people may have a rest from the burdens imposed upon them by those who have heretofore been reckless in the expenditure of the people's money.

He has lived in Umatilla county nearly forty years, during all of which time he has been a farmer. He has been a consistent advocate of woman's suffrage for many years and a champion of the doctrine of "equal rights to all, special favors to none." He has always been in favor of good roads for every portion of the county at the least expense possible in building them; and he believes in the building of good roads in an economical manner. If elected to the legislature he promises faithful services in the interest of his constituents; to work diligently for lower taxes and absolute honesty in all legislation. In his campaign he desires to meet the taxpayers of the county and consult with them, obtain their wishes in order that he may be better qualified to represent them in the legislature.

He became a candidate at the urgent solicitation of republicans, democrats, and persons who are generally interested in the subject of taxation and who believe that something is radically wrong with our system of public expenditures, and that the people's money, raised by high taxation, is wasted and that there is entirely too much grafting in public office. For years, on account of increased taxation, Mr. Taylor has been advocating a public house-cleaning, in order that legislative grafting might be eliminated and the tax-payers given a square deal. He invites a careful investigation of his private life and character in order that the voters may know that he has been honest, truthful, and that he believes in a "square deal" for all persons.

His number upon the ballot is 64. He earnestly solicits the voters to place a cross mark before his name upon the ballot and elect him to the legislature.
