Worthington and Cleve Myers, as musicians, entertained the crowd of about 30 members, who were present.

The following was handed us by a local parodist, and goes on its merits: "The Ford is my auto; I shall not want another. It maketh me to lie down beneath it; it threateth my soul. It leadeth me in the paths of ridicule for it's name's sake. Yea! though I ride through the valleys, I am towed up the hills; I fear much evil; thy rod and engine discomforteth me. I acquainteth my tires with patches; my radiator runneth over. I prepare for blow-outs in the presence of mine enemies. Truly it runneth me over many chockholes; it turneth me over and maketh me to lie down in green pastures. Surely if this thing followeth me all the days of my life I shall dwell in the bughouse forever."

After using profane and obscene language on the street and in the dining room of the Athena Hotel, a couple of fellows giving the names of St. Clair and McDonald were arrested by Officers Ramsey and Taylor Wednesday. When searched an automatic revolver and two bottles of booze were found on McDonald's person. McDonald plead guilty to carrying concealed weapons and was held by Judge Richards to the grand jury under $300 bonds. St. Clair was the talkative one of the duo and the testimony revealed him to be guilty of the offensive language charge. He was fined $10, and Marshal Ramsey was instructed by the court to keep him in charge until further investigation should be made, the court having in mind the fact that the men had walked from Pendleton to Adams during the night, and coming on to Athena on the early morning train. While escorting the man to jail, McDonald made a break for liberty but was intercepted by Harry Alexander and others. After the prisoners were later taken to the depot to be sent to the county jail—St. Clair as a suspect—it developed that he had secreted a revolver in the dining room of the Athena Hotel when he knew the officers were after him. The gun was recovered and he also will now face a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Saved Her Life from Pneumonia

"My wife had a severe attack of Pneumonia which followed a case of La Grippe and I believe that FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR saved her life," writes James Coffee, of Raymond, Missouri.

Good Results in Every Case

Dr. C. J. Bishop, Agnew, Mich., writes: "I have used FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case."

PNEUMONIA

Pneumonia follows a cold, but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. Stops the cough and heals the lungs.

Cured Terrible Cough on Lungs

N. Jackson, of Danville, Ill., writes: "My daughter had a severe attack of La Grippe and a terrible cough on her lungs. We tried a great many remedies without relief. She tried FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR which cured her. She has never been troubled with a cough since."

Cured When Very Low With Pneumonia

J. W. Bryan, of Lowder, Ill., writes: "My little boy was very low with pneumonia. Unknown to the doctor we gave him FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR. The result was magical and puzzled the doctor, as it immediately stopped the racking cough and he quickly recovered."
