DEATH OF MRS. ANNA CARSON.

The death of Mrs. Anna Carson occurred Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Ornduff, on High street. Mrs. Carson had been in ill health for some time, but it was only a few days before her death that her illness took an alarming turn. Death was due to dropsy and heart trouble. Her relatives had been summoned and all arrived before her departure excepting one brother, who arrived Sunday evening.

Anna Everett was born April 2, 1845, in Hawkin county, Ohio, and when grown was married to James Everett. To them, five children were born. Her first husband dying, she later married Wm. Carson, and two children were born. Mr. Carson also preceded her to the grave and five of her children, leaving only Mr. Ross Everett of Milton; a daughter-in-law; Miss Freda Everett of The Dalles, granddaughter; a brother, Mr. S. I. Everett, of Portland and Mrs. Harry Ornduff of this city.

"What is one of the principal products of the West Indies?" asked the teacher.

The class remained dubiously silent.

"Oh, come, think a little!" adjured the teacher, with patient encouragement.

"Billy, tell the class where the sugar you use in your home comes from."

Billy pondered busily for a moment, then, blushing, blurted out:

"Sometimes we buy it at the grocer's, but I think we usually borrow it from the folks who live next door."—Chicago News
