William Walker Smith, United States consul general at Santo Domingo, to the amazement of the Waldorf-Astoria employes in New York, came down from his room on the seventh floor with a big Belgian police dog, which was given to him when he was in Europe. It is said to be the was in Europe. It is said to be the first time that a dog of this size has even been above the first floor of the hotel with the consent of the management. However, it was explained to everybody that Mr. Smith's police do had a room all to himself in the Wal-dorf. That's another thing which the dog can boast about in later years.

"That dog," said Mr. Smith, "saved me from drowning," and he intimated the dog had a right to the best there He said that the animal was : and that he was very, very

Thomas Hade, 35 years majordomo in the Astor family, has been retired and, according to report, pensioned for life by Vincent Astor. He was em-ployed by the late Mr. and Mrs. Wil-liam Astor, John Jacob Astor and Vincent Astor. There is probably no one whose features are more familiar to the society people of Europe and America and some dignitaries than Thomas Hade, because of long service in this noted family. His affable and kind manner made him a general favorite in Newport, as well as in New York, and many other places where the Astor family resided.

MUCH GOOD IN SALAD

APPETIZING AND HEALTH-GIVING AT ALL SEASONS.

Housewife Who Is Proficient in Their Making is a Treasure to Her Family-Three Recipes That Are Excellent

By LIDA AMES WILLIS. One of our readers delights in her skill in salad-making. She declares she can prepare salads that are her ownand her family's-greatest joy and satinfaction in this life, if not their salvation in the next. Another reader exhorts us to preach salads to the outer barbarian who will not adopt this higher phase of development. Virtue lies in the harmonious combination of a salad, the beauty and health-giving qualities that nature has imparted to the delicate, tender green vegetables, ingredients used. Though salads vary with the season, happily there is no month in our year during which we may not obtain fresh materials in greens or vegetables for the production of choice salads. The American cucumber, hot-house or outdoor grown, should be eaten in all its pristine freshness, sliced into ice cold water make it tender and crisp, but

Dutch Samus - The minced fish salads originated with the Dutch, who were famous for compounds of fish, herbs. A herring salad is made with two brolled herring, skin and bones removed and ment shredded; put in a add to the fish and two anchovies cut up a dozen minced capers, two boiled and diced potatoes, two boiled and pickled beets cut in shreds, and some minced herbs. Pour over all a plain salad dressing; toss lightly together and serve.

French Salad.-Trim, wash and cut up a head of endive; drain perfectly dry. Rub your salad bowl with a cube or crust of bread rubbed with garlic or onlon. Put in the endive and cover with a dressing made of olive oil, tarragon vinegar, sait, pepper, a little nchovy paste, pinch of celery salt, and oss lightly together and serve. Spanish Salad .- Not to France or sunny Italy are our thanks due for the derious tomate salad. By the law of eternal fitness it belongs to Spain, that and of vivid romance. Blend the tomato with the ripe Spanish clive, a few vaferlike slices of Spanish onlon, and shreds of green pepper, and cap all with a crown of golden mayonnaise, and you'll find joy in the cating

Select a couple of pounds from loin of pork, and a pound of nicely seasoned sausage links; rinse quickly and put to boll gently in sufficient water to cover it. The water should be cold to begin with, and salted. Add eight to ten potatoes which have been peeled and halved. Stew gently until all is tender, adding water if neces-sary; rub a little flour, butter and pepper to a paste with a little of the meat broth. Line a pudding or bake dish with a rich crust, turn in the stew with the thickening, cover with a buttered crust, leaving a hole in the center for steam to escape. Bake in a rather quick oven until crust is brown and flaky.

For sweeping a room neatly there is nothing like newspaper aid. Take a page of newspaper or other paper convenient, wet in hot water and squeeze it until it ceases to drip. Tear into pieces the size of one's hand, bear the wolves in sheep's clothing into pieces the size of one's hand, set up a roar and there's nothing left for a bunch of lobsters to do but close sweep, and most of the dust in the room, if you use your broom judi-ciously, will be gathered into the pathe restaurant stalls and act like a lot of colts. Even then a harness bull is apt to come along and dump us in the pen. After a velvet or other heavy spit to come along and dump us in the pen. USE FOR FIRELESS COOKER

Breakfast May Be Prepared the Nigh Before and Enjoyed in the Morning. Nobody appreciates better than the man or woman forced by circumstances to make an early start of mornings, the convenience and com-fort of a fireless cooker. It is disheartening to most folks to go out in the morning-say at seven or even a six-and snatch breakfast en route. With the aid of a fireless cooker-i very small one will do-and a perco lator, a breakfast may be enjoyed lux uriously in one's bathgown. Oatmeal, brought to a simmer the night before and tucked coxily to bed in the fireless cooker, will emerge in the morning steaming and delicious cooked. Coffee and water placed in the percolator before retiring need the touch of match to alcohol wick during the morning process of dressing, to be ready, hot and steaming, when the catmeal is placed on the table. Rolls and a bottle of cream, left by baker and milkman outside the door, will complete a breakfastperhaps an orange thrown inthat will sustain the average worker comfortably until the luncheon hour comes around,

To Destroy Ants.

The warm, damp days always bring these insects is to destroy their nests. But it is often difficult to locate them. A good plan is to place little mounds of coarse ground sugar around. The ants will each take up a grain and make their nest with it, so should be watched. When the nest is found, drench it with kerosene or a strong solution of carbolle acid. Ants dislike the smell of camphor. This scat-tered around will keep them away. but as they are usually around food. camphor is scarcely practical, because of its strong odor, which the foods may absorb. In such a case try sprinkling with red pepper.

Linen stored in a closet warm and poorly ventilated will become yellow and will crack earlier than if stored otherwise. The properly constructed linen closet should be in a cool, dry place. Each shelf should be covered with linen slips fastened up with drawing pins. Have the linen slips broad enough to fold back and cover the contents of the shelves. Old sheets may be used for this purpose.
