There's no grass growing on Main Main street was never intended for pasture land anyway.

Social Needs Imperative.
The average country boy and girl have very little opportunity for real enjoyment, and have, as a rule, a vague conception of the meaning of pleasure and recreation. It is to fill this void in the lives of country youth that the rural church has risen to the necessity of providing entertainment as well as instruction to its membership among the young. The children and young people of the church should meet when religion is not even mentioned. It has been found safest for them to meet frequently under the direction and care of the church. To send them into the world with no social training exposes them to grave perils and to try to keep them out of the world with no social privileges is sheer folly. There is a social nature to both old and young, but the social requirements of the young are imperative. The church must provide directly or indirectly some modern equivalent for the husking bee, the quilting bee and the singing school of the old days. In one way or another the social instincts of our young people must have opportunity for expression, which may take the form of clubs, parties, picnics or other forms of amusement.
One thing is certain, and that is that the church cannot take away the dance, the card party and the theater unless it can offer in its place a satisfying substitute in the form of more pleasing recreation.

Universal Instinct for Play.
In providing for enjoyment the church uses one of the greatest methods by which human society has developed. Association is never secure until it is pleasurable; in play the instinctive aversion of one person for another is overcome and the social mood is fostered. Play is the chief educational agency in rural communities and in the play-day of human childhood social sympathy and social habits are evolved. As individuals come together in social gatherings, their viewpoint is broadened, their ideals are lifted and finally they constitute a cultured and refined society.
It is plain, therefore, that the church which aims at a perfect society must use in a refined and exalted way the essential factors in social evolution and must avail itself of the universal instinct for play.
If the church surrounds itself with social functions which appeal to the young among its membership, it will fill a large part of the lamentable gap in rural pleasures and will reap the richest reward by promoting a higher and better type of manhood and womanhood.

SUMMONS.
In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Umatilla County.
Helen Hamilton Kieffer, Plaintiff, vs.
De Walt F. Kieffer, Defendant.
To De Walt F. Kieffer, defendant herein:
In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit within six weeks of the date of the first publication of this summons, to-wit: Friday, October 29, 1915; and you will take notice that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint or otherwise plead thereto within said time, the plaintiff for want thereof will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for and demanded in her complaint on bill herein, namely for a decreed of the Court forever dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between the plaintiff and defendant, and for such other relief as the Court may deem proper.

This summons is published pursuant to an order of Hon. Gilbert W. Phelps, Judge of the Sixth Judicial District of the State of Oregon, duly made and filed in the matter herein on September 9th, 1915. The first publication hereof is made on Friday, Sept. 17, 1915, and the last publication will be made on Friday, Oct. 29, 1915, said publication to be in the Athena Press, a newspaper published at Athena, Umatilla County, Oregon.
Homer I. Watts,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

If American bankers and trust companies want to loan the allies a billion dollars on British, French and Russian bonds, with the stipulation that the money is to remain in this country for the purchase of farm products and war munitions, we should worry. We have the goods to sell, and if the foreign bonds look good to American investors, why, we should worry again. It's up to the allies to protect their credit in this country.
Only last week the American dollar was worth from 5 to 10 per cent above par. That is, it was worth from $1.05 to $1.10 in foreign countries. In England in normal times they give you a pound sterling for a five dollar bill.
Last week the English pound sterling was worth only $4.50 or $4.55 in the United States. In France they give you five francs for one American dollar. Now it takes nearly six francs in the United States to buy an American dollar. German money, measured by the American dollar, has fallen about 18 per cent as a result of war conditions. Thus the former situation has been reversed. The European countries now bring their money here to buy the American dollar; we are no longer sending our money abroad. For many years the Europeans have bought American stocks and bonds because they were sure to get the interest and finally the principal when due. Now our industrial and railroad bonds are better than European government bonds. We are no longer sending American securities to Europe, and those which Europe held are being sent over here as collateral for war loans. Two big railroad corporations, the Pennsylvania and the New York Central, have cleaned up over a million dollars apiece in two weeks by buying back their bonds and paying for them in pounds and francs instead of dollars, saving the difference in the rate exchange.

Another season of instruction for the youth of the community is before us.
Let us meet it as becomes an enlightened people who seek to give their offspring an education which will enable them to successfully cope with the many obstacles that will beset their pathway through life. This is not "up to the teachers" alone. We may perform our own duty in the premises by extending to the instructors our loyal support and encouragement, both by act and word. We may impress upon the children the necessity and importance of absolute obedience to the will of the teacher. We may instill into their young minds the knowledge that unless they improve their educational advantages and opportunities of today, the commercial advantages of tomorrow will pass them by. This is a day of education, and the man whose mind has received proper training will be found invariably in the ascendant, filling the important positions of life, accumulating the financial competence which their uneducated brothers seek in vain. It is vitaly necessary that our children of today receive every educational advantage possible to bestow upon them, and this may only be accomplished to the fullest extent by working in harmony with both teacher and pupil.

The prince of Wales has definitely decided that he will not wed a German princess. And apparently his royal highness has quite as definitely decided that he will not connect up with a German bullet.

Great scheme! Let's pass a law requiring the millionaires to form the first line of defense in case of war.
Then they could promptly buy off the enemy and we wouldn't have to fight.

The merchant who forgets to advertise should not complain when the buyer forgets that he is in business.
It is just a case of a good "forgetory" all around.

A ladies' civic club in Athena imbued with like spirit and determination with the Library Board, would be of great help and benefit to the town.
