LONDON'S SLUM BABIES.

Gutter Children That Thrive Where They Court Death.

London gutter babies are immune to ordinary diseases and thrive under conditions that would be death to other children, said Dr. Thomas, health officer of the Finchbury district. Dr. Thomas works in the most congested of the London boroughs, where 6,000 families live and sleep in 6,000 rooms.

"Some of these babies," he says, "are born or even before they are able to crawl, are placed on the sidewalks early in the day, to be watched or nursed by a girl of four or five years. They are true gutter children. Sometimes the immature nurse falls asleep, weary by her task, and the baby crawls to the other side of the road, heedless of traffic. Both are filthy and gutter stained, but they seem to live." In fact, the stock from which they have sprung rises superior to the ordinary diseases of childhood. Among the cases reported are these:

A baby four months old was given a piece of raw fat and bacon to chew, because the grandmother's acid tawon was good for babies and carniaric.

One baby was dosed with stout and antisept by the mother as a cure for colic.

Another baby of nine weeks was fed chiefly on weak tea.

Dr. Thomas complains of the Sober Gamps, who act as nurses in the district, undoing the work of the doctors in many cases. He says their arrogance is equaled only by their ignorance.—New York Tribune.
