ATHENA, ORE., OCT. 29.....1915

A Mulligan Stew

A certain friend of mine doing business on Main street, north side (no need to mention his name) will enjoy reading the following, penned by the Weston Leader's p. o. g.:

"Colonel Boyd of Athena is reported to be absent on his annual hunting trip, and the Leader is prepared to reaffirm its standing bet that he doesn't even bring home a jackrabbit. Boyd can hunt with the best of 'em, his delusions being apparent only when it comes to fetching any game to camp. We would really like to see him bring in a grizzly bear—a live and energetic one navigating under its own steam—just to test his speed."

Another wedding on tap. Mr.—and Miss.—and it will occur—. And that's all of the secret you will get out of me.

I just suspect that the bill warbles got to gnawing Marshal Stone so bad the other evening that he could stand the torture no longer. Anyway, he raked up a pile of leaves on Main street and soon had a blaze going—no mesquite smudge, either. All he needed to complete the picture was a coffee pot, a frying pan and the rib side of a 5-point buck. Leastwise, he looked the part.

Trade where you live, or live where you trade—is my tautum. What's yours?

I'm entangling the snarls of a good one on a certain farmer friend of mine who got his start in life by peddling stale and culled fruit among the widow women of the Ukiah county. When I get it unraveled its going to be interesting reading matter. Or I'm no judge.

Anybody who doesn't wish the President and his new bride-to-be all kinds of happiness is just a jealous old codger who would like to stand in his shoes. See I.

Yep, Allyn Buttiaski Steele would have allowed a 3-lb sinker along with the rest of the tackle.

I believe I have the boys with me when I proclaim the Willard-Johnson pictures exhibited in Athena on the evening of Tuesday this week, to be the best ever, in their class. The Class? Null ced.

Six Follies of Science.
The six follies of science are the squaring of the circle, perpetual motion, the philosopher's stone, the elixir of life, magic and astrology.

In all ages men of undoubted ability have toiled early and late to unravel the mysteries supposed to be connected with these fascinating problems. It is not always remembered that such intellectual giants as Bacon, Sir Robert Boyle and Sir Isaac Newton sought the philosopher's stone. In the study of astrology Lilly was for a time even pensioned by parliament.

Most of these "follies" conferred indirect benefits upon science, for in seeking one thing their devotees discovered many another. The craze for the secret, or unknown, has still its hold upon men and is seen in palmistry and kindred arts.—Exchange.

Cactuses of Arizona.
Arizona has more than a hundred kinds of cactuses, and Tucson is the center of the great cactus region of the southwest. These old plants range in size from the noble saluara, or giant cactus, forty or fifty feet high, to small pincushion cactuses an inch or two in diameter. Saluaras grow in great abundance in the foothills between Tucson and Yuma and are always objects of wonder. It is believed a large plant is at least 200 years old. The fruit begins to ripen in June and is gathered in great quantities by Indians, who make fine jam and also a pressed sweetmeat of it.

Why Ho Laughed.
"What are you laughing at?"
"I was just thinking of my poverty."
"Well, what is there in poverty to make you laugh?"
"It just struck me that if I should by chance strike it right some day how many thousands there are who could honestly say they knew me when I didn't have a dollar."—Detroit Free Press.

Gem Superstitions.
It is said that the amethyst used to be worn to promote temperance and sobriety, the chrysolite to ward off fevers, the onyx worn round the neck to prevent epilepsy, the opal to cure weak eyes and the topaz to cure inflammation and keep the wearer from sleep walking.
