He Was Cautious.

Fred Thompson, night clerk at the LaClede hotel, St. Louis, is asking his friends to believe this one: "About 8 o'clock the other night," Thompson says, "a tall, rangy ruralite entered the lobby of the hotel and approached the desk. After I had fixed him up with a room he asked me if I would take care of some money for him. I told him I would be glad to put it in the safe. He fished down in his trousers pocket and produced a $2 bill. "Just put that away," he said, "I am going out for a little while and I don't want to take any chances with these city slickers." "I kept my face straight and assured him it would be safe on his return. He started to leave and then turned around and asked how late we kept open. "Oh, I'll be here when you get back," I told him. "Well, I don't know," he replied, "I calculate I'll be pretty late. Most 10 o'clock, likely." "I assured him I would be on deck, but he did not seem satisfied. After pondering a few moments he asked: "Could I see Mr. LaClede?" "That had me going for a few minutes, but when I recovered I told him Mr. LaClede had gone to bed." "Pierre LaClede, the founder of St. Louis, for whom the hotel was named, died in 1878."

Up-and-Down Dangle.

An old lady who lived alone outside a small village in England was nervous about Zepelin, so she made careful inquiries as to her best course. "I don't think there's much to worry about," said the vicar in answer to her questions. "But, if you like, you can do as some folks are doing—sleep in the cellar." With profuse thanks the old lady went off to alter her domestic arrangements. But in half an hour she was back again, anxiety once more wrinkling her brow. "The cellar's all right for Zepelin, sir," she said, "but suppose one of them submarines comes instead?"—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

DRASTIC MILITARY BILL INTRODUCED

Senate Measure Stronger Than Administration Had Asked.

GARRISON PLAN PRACTICALLY RETAINED

Army and National Guard Virtually Doubled in Strength—New Inducements for Recruits.

Washington, D. C.—The first of the national preparedness measures to reach either house of congress for consideration was introduced in the senate Saturday by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military committee, which perfected it after weeks of hearings and conferences. It proposes an even more sweeping change in military policy than that outlined by President Wilson in his annual message, and was described by Mr. Chamberlain as the most comprehensive piece of military legislation ever offered in congress.

All of the elementary administration army plans prepared by ex-Secretary Garrison are retained, although in altered form, and additional proposals for organization of industrial reserves in peace times go even further than the administration had suggested.

The house committee's bill was introduced Monday. There is no vital difference between the two measures and members of both committees believe that when the final bill, which will be agreed on in joint conference committee, has passed both houses, the President will be able to affix his signature to a measure that will do more than he has asked toward building up an adequate National defense.

Aside from its plan virtually to double the Army and National guard, the senate bill has four striking features. One of these authorizes Federal volunteer forces in peace times, the object sought by Secretary Garrison with his continental army plan. Another mobilizes all whose callings fit them for special duty. The third Federalizes the National guard and the fourth contemplates training officers from among graduates of military schools and colleges.

For the regular Army the bill provides a peace strength within five years of 178,000 men of all arms, or approximately 165,000 fighting troops. The percentage of men in each company, battery or troop at peace strength would be increased in the interests of efficiency, and the full war strength would be 225,000 men. The Army would consist of 65 infantry, 25 cavalry and 21 field artillery regiments in addition to the staff and other special corps and coast artillery.

Colonel House Is Back From European War Zone

New York—Colonel E. M. House, who sailed for Europe December 23 on a confidential mission for President Wilson, arrived here Sunday on the steamship Rotterdam from Falmouth. Colonel House declined to comment on his mission or what he had seen or done while abroad, reiterating the statement he had made prior to leaving here in December, that his mission was to convey to some of the American ambassadors information having to do with international questions that could not be supplied them by cable or letter.

Asked if he had noticed any marked change in the attitude of Europe toward the United States since his previous trip, Colonel House said: "Reports of an unfavorable attitude toward the United States by the people of Europe are exaggerated. At least, I heard no criticism in any of the countries I visited. I will say also that we should remember that the people of the belligerent nations are living with their nerves on edge and we should make allowances accordingly."

Germans Renew Attack on Verdun With No Gains

Paris—Fighting of great violence continues at Douaumont, in the Verdun region, the war office announced Sunday. The Germans made a heavy attack against the French front along the line from the Haudemont wood to Douaumont fort. This assault, the statement says, was repulsed.

It is announced semi-officially that the battle at Verdun continued Sunday throughout the day with the same intensity and without causing any change in the respective positions of the opposing armies.

Zepelin Raid England.

London—A Zeppelin raid took place Sunday night, when two hostile airships crossed over the northeast coast of England. The official statement announcing the raid gives no information as to the damage done. "At the time of this report," the statement continues, "their movements have not been clearly defined. Some bombs were dropped, which fell into the sea near the shore, but information is not yet available as to whether any damage was done on land. A further communication will be issued later."

New Coin Design Coming.

Washington, D. C.—Within the next few months the treasury will begin coinage of new half dollars, 25-cent and 10-cent pieces. Designs of these coins must be changed by law, every 25 years, and the present 25-year period ends with 1916. The designs for the new coins have not been completed and the dies will not be ready for two months, according to a statement by Director of the Mint Woolley. Nothing will be made public concerning the type of designs until the dies are ready.

Sufficient Proof.

A citizen was standing on a street corner looking a bit depressed when a friend sauntered along. "What seems to be the trouble, old man?" solicitously queried the latter, extending the sympathetic hand. "You are a sight like sad scenery." "I have just had something of a jolt," answered the sad one. "I was bequeathed a silver service as the soldier thing a few weeks ago, and now I know it is only plated ware." "Sorry to hear that, old fellow," returned the friend. "But you may be mistaken." "Oh, no, I'm not," was the mournful rejoinder of the sad one. "The service was on the sidewalk the other night when burglars broke in, but they never touched it."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Electric Door Bell Made For House Cat.

When a cat owned by the keeper of the Platte Fougere lighthouse on the island of Guernsey wishes to enter its master's dwelling it rings an electric bell to summon a member of the household to the door. This has been made possible by the construction, near the bottom of a door, of a shelf which actuates a switch when a light weight is placed upon it. Thus, when the cat jumps onto this small ledge, which is supported by a bracket, the circuit is closed.—From the March Popular Mechanics Magazine.

SENATE SUPPORTS PRESIDENT'S STAND

Washington, D. C.—By a vote of 68 to 14 the senate Friday carried out President Wilson's wish and killed Senator Gore's resolution to warn Americans off armed belligerent ships.

In a turbulent scene, such as is seldom witnessed in the senate, voting proceeded, with senators shouting objections, futilely demanding recognition to explain their positions and making hot retorts to each other, all of which were out of order.

At one time so many senators were shouting for the vice president's recognition that the sergeant-at-arms was called to restore quiet.

After having maneuvered for two days to get the resolution in such parliamentary position that it was disposed of without debate, the senate then proceeded to a general discussion of the subject, which continued all afternoon, to the dismay of administration supporters. There were free expressions of opinion that the senate's action, because the vote actually was taken on a motion to table the Gore resolution, with a correction by the author and a substitute by Senator McCumber, was in effect a "Scottish verdict," and had not actually accomplished the purpose of the President.

Such statements aroused the President's friends, who feared they would produce an effect exactly opposite to that intended. It was intended to give notice to the world that the senate stands behind the President in his demands on Germany for the rights of Americans traveling the seas.

In the house, however, the foreign affairs committee, by a vote of 17 to 2, took a longer step toward meeting fully the President's wishes. It voted to report the McLemore warning resolution, with the recommendation that it be tabled. In the report the committee asserts that the constitution imposed the conduct of diplomatic negotiations on the President, and "with this practice the committee does not feel it proper for the house of representatives to interfere."

German Scores Air Raids.

Geneva, via Paris.—The bombardment of open towns in France and England by aircraft was sharply criticized in the parliament of the Duchy of Baden by the progressive deputy, Herr Hummel. A violent scene followed the deputy's remarks. Herr Hummel declared that attacks on such towns on the pretext of reprisals was only the useless brutality of peaceful citizens. Deputy Kolb, Socialist, called attention to what he termed the "brutal treatment of the new recruits, who are shortly to be sent to the trenches."

Will Adopt Six Boys.

Chicago—Six homeless boys of less than 6 years of age and of varying nationalities, are to be adopted by Mrs. Bessie Fuller, of South Porcupine, Ontario, Canada, as a sociological experiment, she announced here. Mrs. Fuller, who is visiting in Chicago, asserted that, having no children of her own, she plans to rear the six, regardless of color, race or creed, in the Canadian back woods, her theory being that they will fuse in the "melting pot."

Mrs. Fuller is the wife of a mining engineer.

$5000 Worth of Liquor Taken.

Seattle—Deputy sheriffs raided the home of P. E. Sullivan, who conducted a large cafe at Fourth avenue and Pike street before the prohibition law went into effect January 1, and seized 160 cases of intoxicating liquors other than beer, and said to be worth $5000. The liquor, it was said, had been removed to Mr. Sullivan's home from the cafe when the prohibition law went into effect. Under the law it is illegal to possess over two quarts of liquor.

3130 LIVES LOST ON FRENCH CRUISER

Mediterranean Disaster Takes Lead in Fatalities at Sea.

Paris—It was announced at the French ministry of marine Saturday that there were nearly 4000 men on board the French auxiliary cruiser Provence when she was sunk in the Mediterranean on February 26.

It was said that on board the Provence were the staff of the Third Colonial Infantry regiment, the Third battalion, the Second company of the First battalion, the Second Machine Gun company, and one extra company.

As the ministry of marine, on February 29, announced that the number of survivors of the Provence disaster was estimated at 370, it is indicated that upwards of 3130 lives were lost.

This great number of casualties makes the disaster the greatest on the sea in modern times. Up to the present time the largest number of lives lost in one wreck was when the White Star liner Titanic struck an iceberg off the Newfoundland banks on April 14, 1912, and sank with a death loss of 1595. The rescued numbered 743.

The vessel, however, when in the trans-Atlantic service, could carry 1960-Atlantic, including the crew, and it has been presumed that as she was transporting troops between ports not far apart, she was carrying a number of men larger than her normal capacity.

Cut to Meet Competition

Tacoma.—On the verge of a break for some time, the Washington butter market Wednesday weakened and the price toppled to 30 cents. Local jobbers attribute the drop to the breaking of the California and Oregon markets. They say if the Washington market did not follow in line with its neighboring competitors there would be an influx of butter from the other two states. To avoid that situation, prices were set down and the home trade will be accommodated by the local product.

Further changes in local prices are not predicted, although the production is said to be larger and the cream production more active.

Fresh ranch eggs continue to get weaker. Prices are now down to 21¢ to 22¢ a dozen, the cheapest they have been for some time. Dealers report receipts rapidly increasing daily, with the demand about the same. They are hopeful of a strengthening of the demand.

Umatilla Woolgrowers Will Hold Pendleton, Or. — Notwithstanding

the recent wool sales there appears to be a feeling that they do not exactly represent the tendency of the sheepmen of Umatilla county. The growers, as a class, are inclined to wait until shearing time to dispose of their clip. Dan P. Smythe, one of the largest Oregon growers, expresses the belief that Umatilla county growers will not contract before shearing time, even though he admits that the price quoted is high. Mr. Smythe states it is not the tendency of growers to contract.

Wool Lower at London.

London.—The second series of the wool auction sales opened Wednesday with offerings of 7200 bales. The attendance was large. The moderate selection was in fair demand, but both merinos and crossbreds declined from 5 to 7½ per cent. Labor difficulties and the question of financing were largely responsible for the lower prices.

Russia took a few lots of scoured merinos and the home trade the rest. No sales were made to America.

Hog Supply Large.

February was another big hog month at the Portland Union Stockyards. The month's run totaled nearly 25,000 head, an increase of 4862 head over the receipts in the same month of 1915 and equaling the gain recorded in the opening month of this year. In other divisions there was a falling off in receipts in February, which was most pronounced in the sheep movement.

Oil-Fuel Boiler of Great Efficiency.

Attention of marine engineers has been drawn to a new type of boiler lately put forth by an English inventor. The curious device makes use of fuel not of coils of pipe to secure quick steaming, but of hollow concentric cones. According to tests made, a boiler of this type, the size of a hoghead, will generate as much steam and has as high a horsepower rating as the ordinary boiler many times larger. This compactness and high rating make the boiler particularly adapted to marine service, where space is valuable, besides which, its ease and comparative cleanliness of operation result in quite a substantial saving of labor. Several views of the boiler appear in the March Popular Mechanics Magazine.

The Wrong Impression.

A Quaker fell asleep in meeting and soon began to snore. For awhile the nasal notes were soft and smooth and did not disturb the worshippers, but finally the sleeper let out a few extra kinks and the effect was a trifle disconcerting. "Friend Hezekiah," whispered an acquaintance, digging the other in the ribs, "I think thee had better arouse thyself." "What did thee say? What did thee say?" cried Hezekiah, somewhat confused. "What is the matter?" "Nothing, friend Hezekiah," was the quiet rejoinder of the other, "only thee was snoring a little, and I was afraid that outsiders might think the spirit had moved thee to a trombone solo instead of an expression of thy convictions."—Philadelphia Telegraph.
