Dr. Thomas Burrill, uncle of Mrs. R. E. Stewart, and for many years connected with the University of Illinois, died April 14, at his home in Champaign, Illinois. Dr. Burrill was one of the best known college men in the Middle West, and in his native state was known as the "Grand old man of the University."

Mrs. Clara Duffy, wife of John Duffy who for many years resided on a farm south of Athens, died in a Walla Walla hospital Sunday night, after a short illness. The funeral was held at Walla Walla Wednesday. Mrs. Duffy was aged 58 years at the time of death, and leaves besides her husband, three daughters and two sons.

Mrs. Mary Tompkins met with a severe accident last Saturday evening when she fell on the cement walk in front of her home. She lay practically unconscious for several minutes until found by her children, and a physician was summoned. It was found that no bones were broken, but a painful contusion on the head and knee resulted from the fall.

After twelve years service with the Preston-Shaffer Milling company, eight years as floor foreman, Henry Miller has severed his connection with the company, and contemplates taking his family to the Willamette valley to reside. That his long service was appreciated by his employers, was substantially attested when they presented Mr. Miller with a $75.00 check.

Athena was well represented at the Pendleton Baby Show, and carried off first honors with her crack twins, Ralph and Edwin McEwen, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. McEwen. These two sturdy and handsome youngsters attracted much attention as they marched bravely along in the parade, dressed in Scotch kilts. They are four years old, and gained first prize in their class.

Joe N. Scott has taken over John Walter's interest in the Holt Caterpillar, and Mr. Walter has purchased one of the new Holt self-propelled omnibuses from E. L. Smith Co., of Pendleton. The new machine is the latest the Holt people have placed in the market. It is propelled on the caterpillar principle, the machine being mounted over one track, no horses being used in connection with the motive power.

At last the Pine Creek obstruction which for years has prevented trout from ascending the stream, is to be removed, and right now the fish have free passageway. Hats off to Game Warden Tonkin, and his deputy, Jack Vincent. Wednesday they went down prepared to blow out the obstruction, but the new owner of the land on which it is located asked for two weeks' time in which to put in a fish ladder to conform with the state law, and the warden compromised with a proposition to cut the water around in an old channel until the ladder could be put in. This was agreed to, and after all hands spent a few hours digging, the water was turned around the obstruction, and now the trout are coming up. Good work.

Mrs. Ralph B. McEwen entertained the Eastern Star Club at her country home Tuesday afternoon, and a most delightful afternoon was passed by all. Cards whiled away a short space of the time, and a few minutes were given to rambling about and exploring the premises before refreshments. The hostess was assisted by Miss Jessica McEwen in serving a most delicious luncheon of two courses, after which the guests departed, vowing Mrs. McEwen an ideal hostess.

Word comes to friends of Mr. Geo. T. Ellis, here, of his protracted and critical illness at his home at Baker, Ore. In a letter received from Mrs. Ellis by Mrs. Betta, and kindly forwarded to the Press, slight encouragement is expressed over his condition at present, though it is still very grave. Mr. Ellis is suffering from pernicious anemia, a condition that is generally considered incurable. Rev. Ellis is a retired minister of the Baptist church and held the pastorate of the Athena church for several years. His friends in this community, comprising all who know him, will extend sympathy to himself and Mrs. Ellis.

Wednesday evening at the High school auditorium, the class of Miss Nellie Dee Whiting appeared in putting on the music lovers of this city enjoyed a real feast of harmony. 1-3 of Your Life is Spent in Bed

Why should not your bed be comfortable when so much depends on proper rest—refreshing revitalizing slumber? Not because of the cost, for a good bed outfit will last ever so much longer than an equal amount invested in food or in raiment. Now need the great cost necessarily be high, though in bedding as in most things the best is the cheapest in the long run.

Here are the celebrated ABC beds, with the 25 year guaranteed Malleable logs at from $3.75 up. Here are genuine Felt Mattresses in neat art ticks with roll edges at $7.90 and upwards.

Here Are Guaranteed

In one of the closest and best played games seen here this season, the Athena High school base ball team lost to the Pendleton high school nine Wednesday by the score of 7 to 5. This is the second time the locals have met the Buckaroos this year, and the honors are now even, Athena having won at Pendleton last week. The two teams battled neck and neck all the way. Athena forging ahead in the fourth inning, by pounding in four runs and driving Wilcox from the mound. Pendleton tied it up in the seventh only to have the locals get McPherria's walk and King's two-bagger. Athena could do no more with Bulrieh's benders and the visitors won in the ninth when an error and two hits, after one man was out, gave them two runs. King pitched a good, steady game, striking out nine Buckaroos, and was ably backed by McPherria at the receiving end, who caught his third consecutive errorless game, and figured strongly in the hitting and scoring. The score:

Athena	5	6	3
Pendleton	7	9	3

Batteries: King and McPherria; Wilcox, Bulrieh and Hayes.
