ATHENA, ORE. SEPT. 1..... 1916

SCHOOL OPENS SEPT. 11TH

(By J. O. Russell.)
In so much as the opening of the new school year comes regularly each fall, it might seem out of place to urge each boy and girl of school age to be present on the opening day of school. Past records show that the younger children are always on hand while the older ones—those of high school grade, come in a few days late in some cases. It is important that each high school student enroll himself on the opening day, for the first week of school will put him in possession of just those things which spell success in many instances.

Several changes will be made in the course of study for the high school. There will be a greater opportunity for electives. The State University and many of our colleges give high school students credit for four units of vocational work. With the introduction of manual training and problem-solving instruction into our school program, valuable elective courses may be chosen in these departments by students who may be pursuing a general high school course.

Conditions seem to be very favorable for a strong grade school. Each teacher comes well recommended. While the number of pupils is not over large for each teacher, yet the number in each room is near the maximum. The heaviest room to put in order will probably be the first primary. All children who are expected to enter this school year must do so at the opening of school. If permitted to stay out a few weeks and then enter, it will be practically impossible to fit them in with the work. The superintendent extends to the patrons and friends of the Athena schools a hearty welcome to visit and cooperate in making the school the most successful possible. Our interests are mutual and we trust that the best efforts of both pupils and parents may be expended to the educational work of this city.

Pendleton is preparing to entertain more than 60,000 visitors at the 1916 Round-Up, September 21, 22 and 23. Never before have so many orders for tickets and sleeping accommodations flooded the Round-Up headquarters. From the eastern cities of New York and Boston; from the southern cities of Los Angeles and San Francisco and the northern cities of Seattle and Vancouver, B. C., are daily arriving requests for grandstand seats. San Francisco will be represented this year with a Pullman train. To accommodate the Bay City visitors, 300 seats have been set aside. Spokane will send a special. The Journal will send two and probably more from Portland and there will be specials from Boise, La Grande, Walla Walla and the west and east ends of Umatilla county. All in all, Pendleton expects 1916 to be the banner Round-Up year.

The Juvenile Entertainers of the Des Moines, Wash., children's Home, delighted an appreciative audience Saturday evening at the Opera house, with a very good program of music, Scotch and Minnet dancing and various songs and stunts. The children were accompanied by their "Daddy" Draper and wife, who are making a home, independently of other help, for forty homeless children. The happy family travel in automobiles, carry their own band and are so well received over the country that many of the children are entertained in private homes in the cities and towns where they perform. Many Athena homes were opened to them during their stay here. A return engagement was played Wednesday night.

A deal was made Saturday, whereby Joseph N. Scott became the owner of the Wilkinson residence, corner of 4th and Adams streets. Mr. Scott immediately sold the house and the inside lot to D. Scott Fisher, and as soon as the building is moved will begin the erection of a modern residence on the corner lot, and will move to town to place their little daughter in school. The deal was made through Mrs. Lillie Miller.

ROBERT MALONEY BURIED HERE

The burial of the body of Robert Maloney, who was killed last Friday morning in an automobile accident near Dixie, Wash., took place in the Athena cemetery Monday afternoon with a large attendance of relatives and friends of the family.

The funeral services were conducted in Walla Walla by the Woodmen Lodge, of which deceased was a member, and the remains shipped by train, the friends arriving in automobiles. The services were conducted at the grave by Rev. Errett of this city.

Robert was a mechanic in the Dahlen Auto company's employ in Walla Walla. Just how the accident occurred may never be known, as Maloney was at the wheel of the car when it crashed into the railing of the bridge, careened to one side of the road and followed down the gully a distance of 100 feet, turned turtle and pinned the two occupants underneath. Maloney's neck was broken and Grote, his companion, received a blow on the head which caused concussion of the brain, a broken shoulder and internal injuries. It is thought he will recover.

Robert was the youngest son of Mrs. Cordelia Maloney and was born in Athena 20 years and one month ago. Besides his young wife, he leaves a mother, a brother, Ross Maloney of Walla Walla, and a sister, Mrs. F. C. Swall, of Tobar, Nevada, all of whom were present at the funeral.

The Brownies' Band will appear at the Opera house next Tuesday evening, when a delightful entertainment is anticipated. The little folks have been practicing for several weeks under the tuition of Mrs. Adah Loeb Ross. Fairies, wood nymphs, butterflies, wee-wees, gypsies—all will dance and sing in true fairy fashion. A number of interpretative and folk dances will be given and Mrs. Rose will appear in a solo dance. A part of the proceeds will be given to the Athena branch library. Admission, 50c, and 25c.

Mrs. David Taylor has received news of the death of her niece, Mrs. Belle Myer, of Wenatchee, Wash. Mrs. Myer died after an operation for gall stones. She leaves a husband, Carl Myer of Wenatchee, and four daughters and a son, all grown. Mrs. Myer visited here last winter and made many friends during her stay. She will be buried at Wenatchee tomorrow.

Tuesday of this week, D. H. Sanders purchased two lots just north of the Ralph Cannon home from J. E. Froome, the purchase price being $600. Mr. Sanders will at once begin to build, and plans the construction of a $2500 bungalow. Yesterday Otha Reeder purchased two lots of Mr. Froome, and will also build on them and move to town.
