Women With Mustaches.
The Ainu, aboriginal race of Japan, live in the island of Yeddo, although the race has become so reduced that there are now not more than 10,000 or 17,000 of them left in the country. The most noticeable peculiarity about Ainu women is that they have tattooed upon their upper and lower lips what resembles a mustache. The women are not considered attractive, and their matrimonial prospects are quite injured without this decoration. The mustache is begun when the girl is quite a child. It is done gradually, a little each year, until it extends partly across the cheek, the material used being the soot from burning birch bark. The face is cut and the black rubbed in. Afterward it is washed in a solution of ash bark liquor to fix the color.

Shortstops and Errors.
"You can't be a good shortstop unless you make errors," says C. H. Claudy in the Woman's Home Companion.
"Think a minute and you will understand this apparently surprising statement. Many an error in the error column saves a score in the score column. Thus the ball you try for may be just too fast for you to catch. Yet you may get enough hands on it to knock it down. The runner is safe. But if you hadn't knocked it down he might be safe on second. Of course not all such knockdowns will be scored as errors. The point is you can't afford to give any thought to whether you are going to make an error or not."

Sleeping on Puffs.
The Japanese do not sleep on European beds, but on many thick, soft puffs piled one on top of each other upon the floor. For bed covering they use more of the same kind of puffs. It is said that the Japanese emperor has twenty such puffs. One of those which cover him is made in the shape of a kimono and has a velvet collar. Probably he creeps inside of this if he feels cold in the night.

China and Its People.
About 65 per cent of the population of China is confined to one-third of the area of the country, with a density of 200 to the square mile. Five per cent of the population inhabits 65 per cent of the area, with a density of ten to the square mile.

Dainty Boxes.
In Sicily one frequently sees dainty little circular boxes, pale yellow in color, painted in heraldic designs and giving off the sweet smell of oranges. They are used for pins, small jewels or collar buttons and are, in fact, orangeskins.

Doubts and Don'ts.
Remember Talleyrand's advice, "If you are in doubt whether to write a letter or not—don't!" The advice applies to many doubts in life besides that of letter writing.—Bulwer-Lytton.

As long as you refrain from saying anything you keep the other fellow guessing.

Red Cross Auxiliary to Meet in School House

The ladies having the management of the local auxiliary to Umatilla Red Cross Chapter, are making a determined effort to do their part in the preparedness movement, and by dint of constant activity, are able to make a good showing.

The chairman, Mrs. H. H. Hill, reports that the School Board and Principal Russell have kindly offered the use of a room in the Public school building for the Red Cross work, and Room No 9 has been set aside for this purpose. Sewing machines and equipment will be established, and donations in this line would be most gratefully received. Meetings will be held here, the first of which is announced for next Wednesday afternoon, when all interested will be welcomed.

Two benefits have been already given for the Red Cross fund, the pastry sale last Saturday netting the sum of $23.40, and the benefit given by the Peoples theatre totaling $40.30.

Mrs. Hill and others have interested themselves in the organizing of the Girls' Honor Guard, in Athena, and have asked Miss Evelyn Sommerville of Pendleton, head of the organization in this county, to come here today for that purpose. The girls of Athena are interested, and a large membership is expected. New names added to the Red Cross
