Scribbler says: J. B. Saylor a Butte river rancher, is visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity.

The outlook for a bountiful harvest was never better at this time of year. The prospects are simply "out of sight."

It has been ascertained from reliable authority that pool balls are the same color here as they are in New York.

What is the difference between a model young lady and a Coxeyite on a jag? Give it up? The former is tidy and neat; while the latter is needy and tight.

S. C. Stanton and J. S. Post will start on a prospecting trip in a few days.

Parties at Weston are paying 42 1-2 cents cash per hundred for potatoes.

Lower Main street is being graded, and the poll tax collector is after the boys. No doubt several fire companies could be organized at the present time.

The directors of school district No. 95, in the Reed and Hawley mountain district east of the city have retained the services of Miss Essie Foss as teacher.

John McBean, the reservation interpreter, was in town this morning. He says that wholesale horse stealing is going on from people living on the reservation. Each morning some one reports the loss of from two to five or six animals, and no one seems to know just who does the stealing. Quite Fatal.

A Newark firm doing a big business in accident insurance received this note from one of its clients a few days ago:

"I received a fatal accident to my hand. Have been looking for you to adjust damages. Please come soon. I don't want it to heal till you have seen it, and it is quite a job to keep it bound up. So please attend to it promptly before it gets well."—Newark Call.

Hardly.
