The accident was seen by someone in the outskirts of town, and Dr. Newsom and B. B. Richards went at once to this scene in the doctor's car.

Red Cross work was the order of the afternoon, the supplies being furnished by Chairman Mrs. H. H. Hill. The decorations were in flags, and during the busy hour an historical guessing contest was held, the prize being a dainty silk flag, this honor going to Mrs. David Stone. A solo by Mrs. Stone, and the singing of "America," with Mrs. Ralph McEwen at the piano, gave the music of the afternoon. Mrs. Scott was assisted in serving a delicious three-course luncheon by Mrs. Walter M. Ely of Portland, and Mrs. N. Buroker, and the children's party was presided over by Misses Savannah Smith and Jeannette Miller.

McNary Is Named To Succeed Lane.

Judge Charles L. McNary, republican, of Salem, has been appointed United States Senator for Oregon, to succeed Senator Harry Lane. The official announcement of the appointment was made Tuesday night by Governor Withycombe and Judge McNary has left for Washington D. C., to take up the duties of his office.
In a brief statement issued following the announcement of the appointment Judge McNary asserts that the expressed wishes of the people of Oregon will be followed by him in congress and that he will champion national prohibition and national equal suffrage. He also declares that President Wilson will be accorded his support in every legitimate effort that is made by the executive of the nation to bring about a lasting and honorable peace for all countries now at war. The appointment of Judge McNary to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Lane has been generally prognosticated about the state by political prophets, but Governor Withycombe deferred announcing the appointment until after the funeral services for Senator Lane.

Stanfield Fruit Warehouse

The $10,000 fruit warehouse for Stanfield is practically assured.
The board of directors of the Stanfield Fruit Growers Association have approved the plans of the building and are now taking subscriptions for stock in the new enterprise. Already enough has been taken to practically make it assured.
"This is a very important matter to Stanfield," said James M. Kyle this week. "It is one which every fruit grower here should be interested in and should take all the stock they consistently can. The directors of the association are working hard to bring the warehouse to a reality and they should have the co-operation of every fruit grower in the community."

Athena Wins Game From Walla Walla.

Athena took the game from Walla Walla Sunday, by the score of 7 to 5. Andre was in good form and tightened when hits meant runs. The Garden City boys ran bases well and their runs came mostly on errors.
John Barnes, ex-Weston player, had several chances in center garden and pulled down flies in characteristic fashion. Athena's runs were made on healthy wallpops, assisted by a couple of costly errors. A good sized crowd witnessed the game, a portion of which as usual, attended without paying, it being impossible for the collector to get to them all. The fact that runs were made without paying admission fee, has led to agitation for a fenced ground.
Sunday Pendleton is scheduled to play Athena on the home grounds, and a good game is expected.

Meat To Sell At 4 Cents.

Horse boiling meat at 4 cents a pound and choice cuts such as sirloin steaks at 12 cents a pound! This is to be the offering of a horse meat market to be opened this week at Portland. Twenty two small horses from the Warm Springs reservation have been shipped to Portland and will be slaughtered for the new market. The Fritz slaughter house on Section Line road has been selected as the place.
Municipal Meat Inspector Chase went out and started veterinarians to testing the horses for glanders and other diseases. The meat will be sold exclusively at the First street market for the present. It is said the firm has 1500 horses for slaughter. They are all small ponies.
