[From the Press of Oct. 5 1894]

The Fourth Cavalry Band of Fort Walla Walla is rusticated at Bingham Springs this week.

Till Glaze, the man who owned the saloon in Prineville in which occurred the Vaughn-Long dual several years ago, was shot and killed at Burns, Harney county, last week by Bud Howard, who was in turn killed by a friend of Glaze.

The editor of the Milton Eagle is the possessor of a new fangled stove that burns straw, bones, old rubber, etc. The agent who sold Hull that stove, undoubtedly knew who he was dealing with. There are tons of that variety of fish in Oregon which contain thousands of small bones and are blessed with a long, drooping mouth.

SCRIBBLERS NOTES

Mrs. Jont Gerking and the little Jonts visited a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Saylor, on Butter Creek, returning home Saturday with a choice lot of fruit of which the Saylor have an abundance and more, too.

Found—In Jim Scott's watermelon patch, a nice, new, red bandanna handkerchief, which the owner can have by calling, proving property and paying for this notice. Don't all speak at once. Come early and avoid the rush.

The price of wheat, contrary to all expectations and common sense, steadily declines. Should the present state of affairs continue, or as has been the case heretofore, gradually grown from bad to worse we predict that before twelve months shall have rolled round thousands of good, honest, hard working half naked, patriotic, liberty loving, free born American citizens will be seen clothed in fig leaf raiment and subsisting chiefly on tobacco.
